FRANCE CALLED "DEBT BILKER" IN PARLIAMENT

Labor Repudiates Balfour Pact.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
[illegible] 1929: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, April 16.—Philip Snowden, who is slated to be chancellor of the exchequer if the Labor party comes into power at the coming general election, made an unprecedented attack on France during the budget debate in the house of commons tonight. He startled the house with an attack on the "scandalous debt settlement" which he charged was made by Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, with England's former war allies.

The most astonishing part of Mr. Snowden's attack was his repudiation of the late Arthur Balfour's principle by which Great Britain agreed to accept only sufficient annuities from her debtors to meet her agreed liability to the United States.

"We have never," declared Mr. Snowden, "subscribed to the policy of the Balfour note. I think it was a mistake and we hold ourselves at liberty to repudiate the conditions of that note."

House Is Bewildered.

This unexpected declaration momentarily bewildered the house. Then Mr. Churchill jumped to his feet and pointed out the extreme gravity of such an announcement, considering that the principles of the Balfour note were embodied in an agreement between Great Britain, France and Italy.

"It is a very dangerous thing," Mr. Churchill said, "for the right honorable gentleman who tells us he will be in high office in the future to take a line like that regarding an agreement definitely entered into between this country and foreign countries. Indeed it might endanger the payments which are even now being made and upon which we are counting this year."

The government benches cheered at this rebuttal, but the Laborites shouted "He's [Snowden] only telling the truth." Mr. Snowden, however, stuck to his guns. He had started to criticize Mr. Churchill's financial record, which he charged consisted of increased taxation, no reduction of debt and no reduction of [illegible].

Calls Agreement Scandalous.

Suddenly turning to the debt settlements with the continental debtors, he said:

"No more scandalous transaction has ever been carried through by a British minister of state."

Then came the attack on France, which he accused of "bilking."

"Talk about Russia confiscating property—she has done no worse than France," he said.

The Labor leader declared that France had repudiated four-fifths of her national debt. Many British people who loaned money to France during the war had been practically robbed by France bilking her national obligations, he said. He reminded the house that if it had not been for British help, financial and human, France would not be an independent country today and the most prosperous country in Europe. For a total debt of over $[illegible],000,000, he said, France's annuities to England would amount only to about $3,995,000,000.

"U. S. Got Better Terms."

"America got better terms," Mr. Snowden declared. "France's debt to her was about $4,000,000,000 and the annuities under the agreement would amount to about $6,795,000,000.

With a gesture of disgust, he exclaimed, "It was with a country like that that the chancellor of the exchequer made his fateful settlement."

It was even worse in the case of Italy, Mr. Snowden charged. Mr. Churchill, he said, had commuted a debt of about $3,050,000,000 for about $[illegible]. The United States had [illegible] a debt of about $2,100,000,[illegible] by Italy the sum of about [illegible] over 62 years.

Great Britain, he continued, had a debt which had either been ratified or agreed upon of about $7,500,[illegible]. The chancellor had commuted these debts for an annual payment of about $100,000,000. If Mr. Churchill had made a settlement with Britain's debtors as America did with hers, Great Britain, he asserted, would now be receiving $250,[illegible] annually.

Some of the government supporters took a serious view of Mr. Snowden's statement. Sir Hilton Young declared that if the faith of Great Britain in the acceptance of the Balfour principle is shaken it would shake British credit throughout Europe to [illegible].

POLICE DEFEAT MIKE DE PIKE'S ELECTION GRAB

Seize 32 in Raids at Specialville.

Mike de Pike Heitler, a white slaver in the old levee days and a vice monger for thirty years since that era, was jailed last night on evidence that he tried to steal yesterday's election in Specialville for the purpose of installing protected vice headquarters in that village.

Assistant State's Attorney John E. Northup declared that only prompt action by the Chicago police frustrated Heitler's effort to swing the Specialville election through the illegal ballots of a colony of floaters he had installed in the village within the last month. Thirty-one of the alleged floaters were jailed with Heitler.

When Chicago police squads swept through Specialville at noon 238 votes had been cast at the single polling place in the village hall. Only fifty votes were cast in the afternoon. Of the total, 78 went to Mayor Charles J. Thompson, who was reëlected; 75 to John W. Comise, who ran on a platform of "equal justice to all," and the remainder among several other candidates. Comise, described as Heitler's candidate, was being sought last night.

Find "Voters" in Pigsty.

Heitler was swaggering about Specialville soon after the polls opened when he encountered Sergt. John Ogel of the highway police. The sergeant wanted to know what business Heitler had in Specialville.

"You better lay offa me," Heitler advised. "I've got this election in the bag. If you want to be in right, you better go along with me."

Sergt. Ogel "went along" until he reached a barn in the rear of 14240 Lincoln street, Specialville, where he found a litter of pigs rooting around twelve cots. Each cot held the reclining form of a prospective voter. Two or three, who had been drinking, volunteered that Heitler harbored them in the establishment for the last week.

Sergt. Ogel put in a call to Chicago police headquarters. Through the W-G-N radio hookup with the police department four squads were dispatched to Specialville and they started to round up other Heitler henchmen.

Heitler Denies Charge.

"It's a bum rap," said Heitler after being questioned by Prosecutor Northup. "These fellows the police picked up went to Specialville to get work. They heard there was a hard road going to be put through the town."

"These fellows never did an honest day's work in their lives," contradicted Mr. Northup. "It's like this: Heitler's Burr Oak Inn in Blue Island hasn't been allowed to run wide open as it used to. Heitler cast around for a more favorable location. He picked Specialville and wanted to make everything right before moving in. We found four or five pistols and some sets of brass knuckles in the Burr Oak inn, which shows the trend of Heitler's political operations."

JARANOWSKI WINS

Local elections were held yesterday in Cook county villages. Although campaigns were bitter in many instances, there was no disorder at the polls. In two villages contests resulted in tie votes and the election commission will be called on to determine the winner.

Three investigators from the election commissioners' office were dispatched to Calumet City to investigate charges that saloons would serve free drinks to aid the campaign of Mayor John W. Jaranowski, a county commissioner whose wife for a time held the post of county recorder. Charles Smith, Jaranowski's opponent, made the charge. The investigators reported they saw no law violations. The ticket headed by the mayor was returned to office.

A hot campaign in Park Ridge ended with the defeat of the administration ticket headed by Samuel R. Guard, candidate endorsed by the retiring mayor, John R. Anderson. Robert McLain, who headed the ticket of the Better Government party, in his campaign attacked the administration on the ground that it had paid allegedly excessive fees to experts hired in connection with public improvements. McLain was supported by William H. Malone, chairman of the state tax commission and a resident of Park Ridge.

Carl A. Wolf and Max Street, candidates for village president of Evergreen Park, each polled 285 votes. A

Thais No Treat So Amarillo Won't Pay Up

Amarillo, Tex., April 16.—[U.P.]—Editor Gene Howe, known as "Kernel Tack, the Tackless Texan," today was given support of the merchants of this Panhandle city in his effort to "bring culture to the plains of the cow country."

Challenge to Editor.

Resenting Mary Garden's charge that she makes more in a week singing than Howe, editor of the News-Globe, who criticized her appearance in the opera "Thaïs," makes in a year pounding his typewriter, merchants of Amarillo offered voluntarily to raise their advertising rates in the News-Globe if Howe will say that the paper is not making the profit it should.

Furthermore, the guarantors of the opera presentation here declared that they will refuse to pay the deficit of $1,600 sustained when the Chicago Civic company presented "Thaïs" in Amarillo, on the grounds that the presentation was cut and that the performers failed to put on the show that they put on in the large cities.

Dare Opera Company to Sue.

Mayor Ernest Thompson, one of the six guarantors, said today: "We would not hesitate a minute to pay up if the opera presentation was what it was purported to be, but now we dare the Chicago Civic Opera company to sue us. The entire city is behind the guarantors and Howe."

HAPPY MOTORIST TESTS LAGOON; FINDS IT WET

John Henry, a baker, living in Elmwood Park, took an impromptu bath early this morning when he drove his automobile into the lagoon in Garfield park at Washington boulevard. Sergt. Victor Dagian of the west parks police said the car was traveling more than fifty miles an hour when it headed for the water.

He still sat at the wheel, with just his head and shoulders visible. The car was fifteen feet from shore.

"Come quick; I'm all wet!" he yelled.

"It looks like your wet—inside and outside!" yelled back Sergt. Dagian. "But hold your horses; we'll save you."

Sergt. William Kasbohn went to the machine in a rowboat. Henry refused to budge. Finally he was persuaded to leave his seat, but he refused to get into the boat. He waded ashore.

10 WOMEN, 3 MEN HURT IN WRECK OF EVANSTON CAR

Ten women and three men, passengers on a car of the Evanston Street Railway company, north bound on Chicago avenue in the suburb, were bruised and several were cut by flying glass late yesterday when the car jumped the rails under the elevated railway viaduct at Juneway terrace and crashed into a concrete pillar. The steel front of the car was crushed in and the platform splintered. The motorman, John Erbelding, 6920 North Clark street, Chicago, was taken to St. Francis hospital, Evanston, along with the thirteen injured passengers. All were able to go home after their injuries were attended. Six other passengers were unhurt.

"Until now Europe has brought to Asia mere mechanical civilization. It is time we taught the Asiatics the beauties of birth control.

Maxie Eisen Again Sought as Terrorist

Maxie Eisen, still awaiting trial nine months after being arrested as a racket terrorist, yesterday was sought on another complaint of violence growing out of his bossing the Fulton street fish market.

David Walcoff, small of stature and 52 years old, told of being beaten over the head with a pistol butt. As a small dealer at 845 North Western avenue, he had tried to purchase fish from a wholesale house at Fulton and Union streets, notwithstanding that he was nine months in arrears in "dues" to Eisen's Chicago Retail Fish Dealers' association. Eisen, with a husky aid, met Walcoff and called him outside.

Tells of Assault.

"What do you mean, trying to peddle fish without seeing me?" Eisen was quoted.

"I got to make a living for my wife and four kids," Walcoff replied.

What followed was reported by Walcoff to Walter G. Walker, attorney for the Employers' association, who announced he will apply for an assault to murder warrant against Eisen.

"Eisen drew a pistol from his pocket," the fish dealer related, "and struck me twice over the head. I was knocked unconscious. When I came to, I was lying on the floor in the wholesale house with a doctor standing over me."

Eisen is at liberty on bail approved by Judge D. J. Normoyle. A warrant, charging him and Sam Soloman with a conspiracy to injure business, was issued by Municipal Judge Francis Borrelli on July 19, last year, on complaint of Mrs. Mamie Oberlander, a fish dealer, 3125 Douglas boulevard.

Paid Tribute Four Years.

Walcoff said he had paid tribute to Eisen for four years.

"In 1925," the dealer related, "Eisen came to a store I had on Taylor street. He had four sluggers with him. He made me close my store because it was within four blocks of another association store.

"A month later he told me I could return to the fish business by buying an association store at 1016 South Paulina street. I paid the store owner $800 and had to pay Eisen $300 to return to the association. Two years later I sold the store for $650 and had to pay Eisen 10 per cent commission.

"I have bought and sold two other stores since then. Each time I bought it was $300 to Eisen for the association and each time I sold it was 10 per cent to Eisen for commission."

Defend School Children from Booze Charge

The reputation of Chicago's 500,000 school children was defended yesterday in discussions of the death of a youth in an automobile accident during a gin party involving three school girls. A coroner's jury of educators has turned the inquiry into a general investigation of booze and moral conditions surrounding the schools, and there was a growing opinion that it was unfortunate that the character of the great body of pupils should be smirched by extended publicity given such cases of sporadic drinking.

Among the jury of educators, who talked over the case informally in Coroner Bundesen's office during the day, the view prevailed that the primary blame for occasional booze parties among children rests with their parents and with evil home conditions, and that public officials cannot be held responsible if the fathers and mothers in such homes do not care. The jury met for two hours in the office of Coroner Bundesen yesterday to discuss their findings which they are expected to return this morning.

Home at Fault, Bundesen Says.

"Parents are primarily responsible for their children," Coroner Bundesen pointed out. "There are hundreds and thousands of homes here in Chicago today that are raising children with principles of honesty, truth, responsibility just as fine as those of a century ago. But there are always homes that are careless, irresponsible, unhappy. From these come the flare-ups ending in tragedy and notoriety. Parents must shoulder the blame for situations that spring up from their own laxity."

Sherman S. Steele, professor of law at Loyola university, member of the jury, also blamed adults for the present day dangerous play of youth.

"Where are the parents of the young people who stage the orgies?" he asked. "Usually they are out at some roadhouse or cabaret staging a party of their own, having a wild time and doing all the dare-devil things their children do. It seems to be a common practice among the youngsters to have liquor at their parties. Take the romance out of drinking and the youngsters will be more likely to leave it alone than under present conditions."

Following in Parents' Steps.

Paul T. Buszin, superintendent of Lutheran parochial schools of northern Illinois, another juror, added:

"It is a problem of adults, not of school children. Without restraint by parents there will be all sorts of outbreaks by boys and girls. These wayward children throughout Chicago and the nation are merely following the trend of their parents."

"Schools cannot be held responsible for cases like this," William J. Bogan, superintendent of Chicago schools, affirmed yesterday. "The schools are going ahead with our plan for character education and mental hygiene, and eventually we hope to educate the young people away from the deplorable tendency of 'excitement seeking' which these spasmodic outbreaks exhibit, but to do this we must have the coöperation of parents. When parents are careless we are helpless."

Didn't Know Daughter Drank.

This statement was backed up by the members of the investigating jury, including the foreman, Benjamin F. Buck, assistant superintendent of schools. Considering the trend taken by the evidence reviewed, private inquiry was made yesterday afternoon into the type of homes from which come the three school girls, the youngest one 15 years old, and the oldest

MESSAGE STIRS HIS SUPPORTERS IN THE SENATE

Displeases Capper and Brookhart.

SLUMP IN WHEAT

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 16.—[Special.]—The honeymoon of the Hoover administration ended with the submission of the President's message today to the extraordinary session of the Seventy-first congress.

The views and recommendations the President put forward on farm relief split his Republican supporters in the corn belt and elicited the first note of criticism from Republican leaders who were active in rallying the farmers to the Hoover standard in the election campaign.

Senator Arthur Capper [Rep., Kas.], an ardent Hooverite, was visibly disappointed by the message.

"The message is all right as far as it goes," he said. "Of course, we had hoped the President would give us a detailed plan of farm relief, but his position is the same as it has been ever since he became President."

Brookhart Is Outspoken.

Senator Smith W. Brookhart [Rep., Ia.], who espoused the Hoover views on farm relief early in the campaign and was admitted to the inner circle of Hooverites, startled everybody when he said:

"The President's message is inconsistent. His program fails to do the one thing necessary—it fails to give the farmer the cost of production and the coöperative profits. In one instance it approves government price fixing devices. In the other it condemns the same thing."

Senator Peter Norbeck [Rep., S. D.], who was largely responsible for stemming the tide of Republican defection in the northwest immediately after the Houston convention put forth its bid for the farmer vote, contented himself with comment in an ironic vein.

"The President is as sympathetic as President Coolidge," said Mr. Norbeck, "and has stated his position just as well."

Comment on the message in a critical vein was forthcoming from others who carried the Hoover banner in the forefront of the procession last fall. There were just as many, however, who stoutly defended the President. It is evident that the fur is about to fly on farm relief legislation in the senate, if not in the house.

Message Covers 8 Points.

Mr. Hoover in his message proposed the following legislation:

1. Creation of a federal farm board, an enormous revolving fund and other machinery for stabilizing agriculture on a basis more profitable to the farmers.
2. Limited revision of the tariff to increase the protection of the farmers and to furnish adequate protection to those industries in which changed economic conditions have produced slackened activity and lessened employment.
3. Reorganization of the tariff commission and of its method of operation.
4. Provision for domestic valuation of imports in cases of foreign undervaluations.
5. Provision for the taking of the census of 1930.
6. Reapportionment of representatives in congress.
7. Suspension of the national origins immigration restriction system.
8. "Minor administrative authorizations," possibly including the transfer of prohibition enforcement to the department of justice.

To the analytical mind of the President the relief of agriculture falls into four categories: Improvement of waterways, increased tariff protection, control of production and improvement of marketing.

Farm Board Key to Scheme.

The control of production and the improvement of marketing he would commit to the supervision of the federal farm board, under which a multitude of farmer controlled corporations and associations financed by loans from the government revolving fund would operate to regulate production, storage and marketing of products. His plan is essentially that embodied in the bill drafted by the house committee on agriculture and introduced in the house yesterday.

Though known to be opposed to the export debenture plan, the President is silent on this proposal. In citing what should be avoided he said that "we must not undermine initiative," that "no fee or tax" should be imposed on the farmer and that "no governmental agency should engage in the buying and selling and price fixing of products, for such courses can lead only to bureaucracy and domination."

Vague on Tariff Changes.

In making tariff changes, congress, said Mr. Hoover, should take care not to impair our export trade. He contented himself with the broadest generalities, but indicated the need of caution against raising tariff rates so high on the products of certain countries that they would retaliate by raising tariff walls against our products. In that way such increased employment as we might gain by higher protection against foreign products would be more than offset by loss of employment in the production of exports. France, Canada, and Argentina are particularly restive over the prospect of higher American tariffs and have been debating retaliatory measures.

The attitude of the President on the national origins question attracted much attention. It was noted that he did not recommend repeal, but only the suspension of the provision, which is to go into effect July 1. A further postponement of the provision would command more votes in congress than would a repealer. On this question more Republican leaders have broken with the President than on the question of farm relief.

"The American people," said Senator David A. Reed [Rep., Pa.], "will not permit the immigration law to be weakened. To repeal or suspend the national origins clause would be a surrender to foreign blocs. I do not think congress will modify the law."

Reapportionment Spurred.

The recommendation of congressional reapportionment was hailed with enthusiasm by the leaders in those states who will gain members thereby. Said Arthur H. Vandenberg [Rep., Mich.], leader of the reapportionment forces:

"President Hoover's official recognition of the reapportionment issue does great credit to his constitutional consistency. It is logical that the leader who asks the country to obey the constitution should insist first that congress should yield to the same mandate. Yet I believe this is the first presidential recognition of reapportionment in all the years of nullification since 1920. The President has distinguished precedents, however. In 1832 Daniel Webster notified the senate that it must reapportion before doing anything else, and Henry Clay withdrew a tariff bill in order to make way for it. It is a stimulating thing to revert to these constitutional precedents."

Other interviews on the message follow:

Robinson Is Critical.

Senator Joe T. Robinson [Dem., Ark.]:

"The President's message is brief and clearly states the farm problem. It is, perhaps, unavoidably indefinite with respect to remedies. I take issue with the declaration that the flexible tariff provision should be maintained. I think it should be repealed. How is it expected that tariff revision will aid farmers? What schedules does the President propose shall be revised? There is real danger that the benefits from any farm relief bill which may be passed will be offset by increased burdens growing out of the tax revision. I also take issue with the President's declaration that expenses incident to farm relief shall not be borne by the crops benefited. The definite measure of the administration is awaited with interest."

Senator Charles G. McNary [Rep., Ore.]:

"It was a good description of farm conditions. He made rather clear his notions on a remedy, amplifying somewhat his St. Louis speech. However, he expressed no opinion regarding the debenture plan. The outline, I think, of his plan, followed pretty closely a bill I introduced last year which is generally embodied in the house bill."

MESSAGE "FULFILLS" FARM RELIEF PLEDGE

"To the Congress of the United States:

"I have called this special session of congress to redeem two pledges given in the last election—farm relief and limited changes in the tariff.

"The difficulties of the agricultural industry arise out of a multitude of causes. A heavy indebtedness was inherited by the industry from the deflation processes of 1920. Disorderly and wasteful methods of marketing have developed. The growing specialization in the industry has for years been increasing the proportion of products that now leave the farm and, in consequence, prices have been unduly depressed by congested marketing at the harvest or by the occasional climatic surpluses. Railway rates have necessarily increased. There has been a growth of competition in the world markets from countries that enjoy cheaper labor or more nearly virgin soils. There was a great expansion of production from our marginal lands during the war, and upon these profitable enterprises under normal conditions cannot be maintained. Meanwhile their continued output tends to aggravate the situation. Local taxes have doubled and in some cases trebled. Work animals have been steadily replaced by mechanical appliances, thereby decreasing the consumption of farm products. There are many other contributing causes.

"The general result has been that our agricultural industry has not kept pace in prosperity or standards of living with other lines of industry.

"There being no disagreement as to the need of farm relief, the problem before us becomes one of method by which relief may be most successfully brought about. Because of the multitude of causes and because agriculture is not one industry but a score of industries, we are confronted not with a single problem alone but a great number of problems.

"Therefore there is no single plan or principle that can be generally applied. Some of the forces working to the detriment of agriculture can be greatly mitigated by improving our waterway transportation; some of them by readjustment of the tariff; some by better understanding and adjustment of production needs; and some by improvement in the methods of marketing.

Tariff for Farm Products.

"An effective tariff upon agricultural products that will compensate the farmer's higher costs and higher standards of living has a dual purpose. Such a tariff not only protects the farmer in our domestic market but it also stimulates him to diversify his crops and to grow products that he could not otherwise produce, and thus lessens his dependence upon exports to foreign markets. The great expansion of production abroad under the conditions I have mentioned renders foreign competition in our export markets increasingly serious.

"It seems but natural, therefore, that the American farmer, having been greatly handicapped in his foreign market by such competition from the younger expanding countries, should ask that foreign access to our domestic market should be regulated by taking into account the differences in our costs of production.

"The government has a special mandate from the recent election, not only to further develop our waterways and revise the agricultural tariff, but also to extend systematic relief in other directions.

Need of Federal Farm Board.

"I have long held that the multiplicity of causes of agricultural depression could only be met by the creation of a great instrumentality clothed with sufficient authority and resources to assist our farmers to meet these problems, each upon its own merits. The creation of such an agency would at once transfer the agricultural question from the field of politics into the realm of economics and would result in constructive action.

"The administration is pledged to create an instrumentality that will investigate the causes, find sound remedies, and have the authority and resources to apply those remedies.

Lists Board's Purpose.

"The pledged purpose of such a federal farm board is the reorganization of the marketing system on sounder and more stable and more economic lines. To do this the board will require funds to assist in creating and sustaining farmer owned and farmer controlled agencies for a variety of purposes, such as the acquisition of adequate warehousing and other facilities for marketing; adequate working capital to be advanced against commodities lodged for storage; necessary and prudent advances to corporations created and owned by farmers' marketing organizations for the purchase and orderly marketing of surpluses occasioned by climatic variations or by harvest congestion; to authorize the creation and support of clearing houses, especially for perishable products, through which, under producers' approval, coöperation can be established with distributors and processors to more orderly marketing of commodities and for the elimination of many wastes in distribution; and to provide for licensing of handlers of some perishable products so as to eliminate unfair practices. Every penny of waste between farmer and consumer that we can eliminate, whether it arises from methods of distribution or from hazard or speculation, will be a gain to both farmer and consumer.

Must Study Wide Field.

"In addition to these special provisions in the direction of improved returns the board should be organized to investigate every field of economic betterment for the farmer so as to furnish guardance as to need in production, to devise methods for elimination of unprofitable marginal lands, and their adaption to other uses; to develop industrial by-products, and to survey a score of other fields of helpfulness.

"Certain safeguards must naturally surround these activities and the instrumentalities that are created. Certain vital principles must be adhered to in order that we may not undermine the freedom of our farmers and of our people as a whole by bureaucratic and governmental domination and interference. We must not undermine initiative.

"There should be no fee or tax imposed upon the farmer. No governmental agency should engage in the buying and selling and price fixing of products, for such courses can lead only to bureaucracy and domination.

"Government funds should not be loaned or facilities duplicated where other services of credit and facilities are available at reasonable rates. No activities should be set in motion that will result in increasing the surplus production, as such will defeat any plans of relief.

Farmers' Own Markets Best.

"The most progressive movement in all agriculture has been the upbuilding of the farmer's own marketing organizations, which now embrace nearly two million farmers in membership and annually distribute nearly two and a half billion dollars' worth of farm products.

"These organizations have acquired experience in virtually every branch of their industry and furnish a substantial basis upon which to build further organization. Not all these marketing organizations are farmer owned or farmer controlled. In order to strengthen and not to undermine them, all proposals for governmental assistance should originate with such organizations and be the result of their application. Moreover, by such bases of organization the government will be removed from engaging in the business of agriculture.

Requires Many Experiments.

"The difficulties of agriculture can not be cured in a day; they cannot all be cured by legislation; they cannot be cured by the federal government alone. But farmers and their organizations can be assisted to overcome these inequalities. Every effort of this character is an experiment, and we shall find from our experience the way to further advance.

"We must make a start. With the operation of a great instrumentality of this character, of a strength and importance equal to that of those which we have created for transportation and banking, we give immediate assurance of the determined purpose of the government to meet the difficulties of which we are now aware and to create an agency through which constructive action for the future will be assured.

"In this treatment of this problem we recognize the responsibility of the people as a whole, and we shall lay the foundations for a new day in agriculture, from which we shall preserve to the nation the great values of its individuality and strengthen our whole national fabric.

Tariff Readjustment Needed.

"In considering the tariff for other industries than agriculture, we find that there have been economic shifts necessitating a readjustment of some of the tariff schedules. Seven years of experience under the tariff bill enacted in 1922 have demonstrated the wisdom of congress in the enactment of that measure.

"On the whole it has worked well. In the main our wages have been maintained at high levels; our exports and imports have steadily increased; with some exceptions our manufacturing industries have been prosperous. Nevertheless, economic changes have taken place during that time which have placed certain domestic products at a disadvantage and new industries have come into being, all of which creates the necessity for some limited changes in the schedules and in the administrative clauses of the laws as written in 1922.

"It would seem to me that the test of necessity for revision is in the main whether there has been a substantial slackening of activity in an industry during the last few years, and a consequent decrease of employment due to insurmountable competition in the products of that industry. It is not as if we were setting up a new basis of protective duties. We did that seven years ago. What we need to remedy now is whatever substantial loss of employment may have resulted from shifts since that time.

No Slap at Foreign Industry.

"No discrimination against any foreign industry is involved in equalizing the difference in costs of production at home and abroad and thus taking from foreign producers the advantages they derive from paying lower wages to labor. Indeed, such equalization is not only a measure of social justice at home, but by the lift it gives to our standards of living we increase the demand for those goods from abroad that we do not ourselves produce.

"In a large sense we have learned that the cheapening of the toiler decreases rather than promotes permanent prosperity, because it reduces the consuming power of the people.

"In determining changes in our tariff we must not fail to take into account the broad interests of the country as a whole, and such interests include our trade relations with other countries. It is obviously unwise protection which sacrifices a greater amount of employment in exports to gain a less amount of employment from imports.

"I am impressed with the fact that we also need important revision in some of the administrative phases of the tariff. The tariff commission should be reorganized and placed upon a basis of higher salaries in order that we may at all times command men of the broadest attainments.

Flexible Tariff Practical.

"Seven years of experience have proved the principle of flexible tariff to be practical, and in the long view a most important principle to maintain. However, the basis upon which the tariff commission makes its recommendations to the President for administrative changes in the rates of duty should be made more automatic and more comprehensive, to the end that the time required for determinations by the tariff commission shall be greatly shortened.

"The formula upon which the commission must now act often requires only months. Its very purpose is defeated by delays. I believe a formula can be found that will insure rapid and accurate determination of needed changes in rates. With such strengthening of the tariff commission and of its basis for action many secondary changes in tariff can well be left to action by the commission, which at the same time will give complete security to industry for the future.

Weakness in Present System.

"Furthermore, considerable weaknesses on the administrative side of the tariff have developed, especially in the valuations for assessments of duty. There are cases of undervaluations that are difficult to discover without access to the books of foreign manufacturers, which they are reluctant to offer.

This has become also a great source of friction abroad. There is increasing shipment of goods on consignment, particularly by foreign shippers to concerns that they control in the United States, and this practice makes valuations difficult to determine. I believe it is desirable to furnish to the treasury a sounder basis for valuation in these and other cases.

"It is my understanding that it is the purpose of the leaders of congress to confine the deliberations of the session mainly to the questions of farm relief and tariff. In this policy I concur. There are, however, certain matters of emergency legislation that were partially completed in the last session, such as the decennial census, the reapportionment of congressional representation, and the suspension of the national origins clause of the immigration act of 1924, together with some minor administrative authorizations. I understand that these measures can be reundertaken without unduly extending the session. I recommend their consummation as being in the public interest."

HOOVER MESSAGE WINS APPROVAL OF FARM CHIEFS

Thompson Favors Relief Bill if Amended.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

President Hoover's message to congress was generally approved by Chicago leaders in organized agricultural circles yesterday. Spokesmen for the farmers are hopeful that something good will come out of the agricultural relief bill introduced in congress Monday, although they are anxious to see some changes in the details of the measure. They point out that the test of the farm relief act will lie in its administration.

After reading the president's message to congress and also the farm relief bill, S. H. Thompson, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, said:

"I feel confident in saying that if congress will work out a bill embodying the broad principles expressed therein the result will be entirely satisfactory to organized agriculture.

Agrees with Farmers' Ideas.

"Already a beginning has been made in the bill introduced by Representative Haugen at Monday's session of the house. A careful study of that measure reveals that the preamble agrees closely, not alone with party declarations made during the campaign last fall, but with the joint declaration issued last week over the signatures of the national executives of the three largest farm organizations, L. J. Taber for the National Grange, C. E. Huff for the Farmers' union, and myself as president of the American Farm Bureau federation."

Calls Message Gratifying.

The recognition given the coöperative marketing associations in the federal farm loan bill and in the President's message is "gratifying," C. B. Dunham of Indianapolis, president of the National Live Stock Producers' association, said.

"The proposal seems sound and should be workable," he said. "I am especially pleased to see the provision to extend help only when the farmer, through his association, requests it, thus leaving those able to solve their problems free to do so."

Mr. Thompson said that in many ways the bill appears to be excellent, although he believes thought should be given to several details that may warrant amendment.

Mr. Van Dorn shouted an objection demanded that the remark be stricken from the record. Magistrate Corrigan granted the demand.

Rushes to Bell's Side.

Mrs. Brown was among the first to hurry to Bell's side after the adjourn- and shake his hand. A number of other persons did likewise.

The hearing ended today after the questioning of Reuben Gilbert, a taxi driver. He gave the only testimony in which it was directly stated that Bell struck Smith before the latter fell to the pavement and fractured his skull.

Driver's Idea of Fight.

Gilbert's story of the fight follows: "I was driving east on 48th street turned my cab south on Park I saw two men fighting. were in a brawl, with their up. It was about 2:30 a. m. as I was getting out of my taxi see what it was all about and try stop the fight I saw one man hit other on the mouth. The blow him off his feet, and he fell to sidewalk, striking flat on his back the back of his head.

"I saw Bell there. He was the one strike the other man.

"After that Bell walked to the cab was at the curb and got in. I up to the driver, Spencer, and him if he was going to drive off and leave the man, Smith, lying there. I went over to Smith and shook him and slapped his face, trying to arouse him. He was semi-conscious.

"Two persons came up in a motor car. They helped me with Smith.

"A policeman suggested we take the man into the hall of the apartment. In the hall I put his soft felt hat under his head and I noticed blood where his head had been."

Q.—What happened after the blow was delivered? A.—Smith went down.

Q.—Did you see him do anything to Bell? A.—No, nothing.

Might Have Been Robbed.

The possibility of a defense pointing out the chance that Mr. Smith might have been slugged and robbed after being left on the sidewalk, indicated by the insistence of Mr. Bell's lawyer on the exact time of the party broke up and the exact time Mr. Smith was seen by Patrolman William Hartwell.

Hartwell was asked if he saw a ring on one of Mr. Smith's fingers. He said no. That brought the admission after court from Lieut. Valentine Correll, in charge of detectives investigating the case, that he was investigating the report that Mr. Smith was wearing a $2,000 diamond ring.

Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Schuette, the hostess at the party, testified regarding the conduct of Smith and Bell.

Mrs. Schuette said she had known Smith, a Cleveland business man, for years. She said that Bell, whom she had known for four or five years, came to the party with Mrs. Brown at about 9:30 p. m.

Q.—Did you notice the condition and demeanor of Mr. Smith when he arrived? A.—Yes.

Q.—Was he sober. A.—Yes.

Q.—Was he sober when he left? A.—Yes.

Q.—Had he had anything to drink? A.—Yes.

Q.—Did Bell have anything to drink? A.—I didn't see. I was playing bridge in another room.

Swears Bell Was Sober.

Mrs. Schuette said that Mrs. Brown and Mr. Bell left about 2:15 a. m. and that Bell was sober when he left.

Mrs. Brown, the next to take the stand, said she had known Bell for seven or eight years. She said that Bell was sober.

Q.—Was Mr. Smith sober? A.—I thought so.

Q.—Did Mr. Smith pay attention to you during the evening? A.—No.

Q.—Were there any words passed between Mr Bell and Mr. Smith? A.—No.

Mrs. Brown said that she left the party with Mr. Bell "between 1:30 and 2 a. m., I thought. I left on an elevator with Mr. and Mrs. Beinecke, Mr. Bell, and Mr. Smith," she said.

Q.—What happened outside? A.—I waited in the arcade for a cab to come and Mr. Smith came over and talked to me, but I could not hear what he said. Then Mr. Bell got a taxi and asked me if I were coming with him. I got into the cab, he followed and we drove off.

Q.—Was there any argument or words? A.—No, there was no argument.

Mrs. Brown said she did not see Smith after she got into the cab. At this point Magistrate Corrigan interrupted:

Q.—Was Mr. Bell irritated when he spoke to you? A.—Yes.

Q.—Was he angry? A.—No.

Q.—Did you see Mr. Bell hit Mr. Smith? A.—No.

EXERCISES FISTIC AND LEGAL RIGHT TO WIN BACK ESTRANGED WIFE

James B. Johnson, artist, 6022 Winthrop avenue, yesterday reaped the benefit of certain legal rights given him in his court fight to win back his estranged wife, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, 1923 Estes avenue. It was reported that Johnson had effected a reconciliation with his wife through exercise of the right awarded him by Municipal Judge Allegretti—that of poking any of his rivals in the eye.

When Johnson was told by Judge Joseph Sabath some time ago that he might send his wife flowers and candy and visit her each Wednesday night, he took advantage of this permission but was repulsed by Mrs. Johnson. Then, last Saturday, the husband saw his wife with Earl Jern and he gave Jern a black eye.

Judge Allegretti upheld Attorney Otto Baer in his contention that Johnson was within his rights in assaulting any rival. Mrs. Johnson who had been unmoved by candy and flowers and visits yielded when she heard this ruling. A second honeymoon was predicted as the couple left the courtroom, hand in hand.

DENTAL ELECTION VOICES PROTEST AGAINST QUACKS

More than 1,000 dentists in Chicago voiced an emphatic protest last night against quack dentistry when they voted in favor of the "membership ticket" of the Chicago Dental society by a majority of more than two to one at the annual election. The vote was the largest in the history of the society.

Dr. Hugo G. Fisher, who was unopposed, received 762 votes for president. The other members of the society who were victorious in their contests for vice president, secretary, and treasurer, were: Harold W. Welch, 684 votes; Howard C. Miller, 704 votes; Joseph E. Scahefer, 697 votes. The opposing candidates were Pliny C. Puterbaugh, 377 votes; Ralph E. Libberton, 310 votes; Joseph G. Wiedder, 310 votes.

The "membership ticket" had made its campaign upon the charge that 600 quack dentists in Chicago were operating and would continue to operate unless a campaign were made against them. It was predicted that with the victory of the "members' group," the state board of education and registration would be forced to start proceedings against the quack dentists.

GALE SINKS 2 BARGES, BLOWS VESSEL AGROUND

New York, April 16.—[Special.]—A terrific gale that howled in from the Atlantic sank two barges and a tug in the harbor today, blew a shipping board freighter aground, and played havoc with shipping generally.

All day the wind screamed and a downpour pelted New York. Ten persons were injured.

The sinking of the tug Perth Amboy III. was the most dramatic result of the storm. Sliding across the harbor between Staten Island and Robbins reef with coal barges in tow, she suddenly stuck her nose square into the wind. Waves sloshed across her decks, poured into the hold, and flooded the engines. At once she began to settle.

ONLY TENTATIVE SUPPORT GIVEN DEBENTURE PLAN

Senate Committee Takes Conservative Stand.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 16.—[Special.]—Tentative approval of the export debenture scheme was given today by the senate committee on agriculture. The failure of President Hoover to express opposition to the plan in his message seemed to give the committee members courage to incorporate it as an optional provision in the administration farm relief bill.

Definite action will be taken on the proposition on Thursday. On the basis of discussions in an executive session of the committee today Senator Charles L. McNary [Rep., Ore.], the chairman, was authority for the statement that a majority appeared to favor putting the debenture scheme in the bill. Although the President did not mention the subject in his message, members of congress who have discussed it with him say he is against the debenture scheme or any other artificial method of boosting prices.

Likely to Miss Final Text.

Regardless of what the senate committee or the senate may do, the debenture scheme is unlikely to appear in the final measure as it goes to the White House. Under the debenture plan, as advocated by the National Grange, money which otherwise would go into the treasury in payment of customs duties would be diverted to exporters of farm products as a bounty. Debentures equal in value to one-half the tariff duties on the same product would be issued to exporters. Cash would be realized on them through sale to importers, who would use them in payment of customs duties. The provision as pending before the senate committee would authorize the farm board to make the debenture scheme effective in cases of emergency on a limited number of commodities.

Cost Would Be 140 Millions.

It is estimated that if it were applied to all farm commodities it would cost the government more than 140 million dollars annually.

Aside from the debenture provision, the farm bill to be approved by the senate committee on Thursday will follow the lines of the original McNary bill and in most respects will be quite similar to the Haugen bill framed by the house committee.

It was indicated that the senate committee favored a revolving loan fund of 500 million dollars, which is the house bill total. The original McNary bill fixed the amount of the fund at 300 million dollars, as did the first drafts of the house bill.

House Committee Acts.

The house committee on agriculture, which at an unofficial session on Sunday approved the Haugen bill by a vote of 19 to 2, confirmed that action at a meeting today. The committee convened this afternoon after its members had been officially elected by the house.

The committee made some minor amendments clarifying the language with respect to loans for the purchase of warehouses and other physical marketing facilities. The formal report of the house committee will be presented to the house by Representative Gilbert N. Haugen [Rep., Ia.], the chairman, tomorrow.

APE WOMAN OF AFRICA WILL BE SENT TO CHICAGO

BY JAY ALLEN.

[Copyright: 1929: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, April 16.—The first authentic human ape—half ape and half Negro woman—ever smuggled out of the Belgian Congo is now en route to Chicago, where she will be exhibited to scientists early in May under the auspices of the Chicago Zoölogical society, and later shown to the general public.

The unique specimen is a half breed savage beast captured by the natives of Kiva for W. A. King of Brownsville, Tex., proprietor of a snake farm, who gave the details of the rare trophy today before sailing for New York.

"The ape woman is almost exactly like a human being except she is covered with hair and prefers walking on all fours," Mr. King stated. "She is four and one-half feet tall, weighs 165 pounds and is nine or ten years old. She makes a savage sound which is between a growl and a bark, but I believe she can be trained to talk.

"There is no question that the ape woman is the result of mating an ape with a Negro woman, probably abducted from a native village. She lacks a tail, and her toes, while longer than the humans, are much shorter than those of an ape and she is unable to grip with them as apes do. Her skull is the same as a human's, with all the features decidedly human with the exception of a flat nose and long canine teeth, which are characteristic of the apes, while her breasts are developed almost as highly as those of a woman."

Referring to the recent story of the shooting of an ape woman, Mr. King declared these creatures are fairly common in the Belgian Congo.

FOUL CLEVELAND BEACHES AIRED AT SEWAGE HEARING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 16.—[Special.]—Offensive sanitary conditions now existing in Cleveland's front yard as a result of the dumping of sewage into Lake Erie were called to the attention of Charles Evans Hughes, special master for the Supreme court, today, as evidence of what Chicago will be reduced to in 1935 if the city's diversion of lake water is halted.

The picture was sketched by counsel for the Chicago sanitary district during the cross-examination of Joseph W. Ellms, Cleveland sewage treatment expert, one of the witnesses at the hearings now being held before Mr. Hughes to determine the amount of water needed for navigation in the Chicago river and the length of time necessary for Chicago to complete her sewage treatment works to care for all sewage.

Witness for Opponents.

Ellms, as a witness for Wisconsin and other lake states allied against a diversion at Chicago, had testified that Chicago's sewage treatment works could be completed by 1935. He asserted that such sewage matter and all the waste water dumped by the sewage pipes into the Chicago river could be dumped into Lake Michigan without harm to Chicago's water supply if domestic water was filtered.

Under cross-examination today, Ellms admitted that in case of storm untreated Chicago sewage would escape into Lake Michigan even if the program laid down for that city by the lake states were carried out completely. He admitted that sewage escapes into Lake Erie at Cleveland, although that city has treatment plants, and that sewage matter will escape into Lake Michigan at Chicago in cases of storm, even if the projected sewage treatment program is carried out.

Ellms admitted that sewage fouled many of Cleveland's beaches in time of storms and polluted the lake fronts.

How Storms Foul Water.

"In case of storm, the sewage, becoming charged with a heavy flow of water, will increase the load at the sewage treatment plants," he said. "As this flow increases it may be more than the different parts of the plants can treat completely and consequently it may be necessary to remove some of the sewage before it has passed through all the processes and allow it to escape."

A certain amount of sewage and storm water, Ellms said, is never carried to the treatment plants at all.

"How does this harmonize with your view that this is a complete system of sewage treatment?" asked Mr. Hughes.

"It is the usual practice," Ellms replied. "No treatment plants are large enough to handle all the sewage in case of storms."

Edmund R. Adcock, one of the Chicago attorneys, then quoted from the 1928 report issued by the municipal research bureau of Cleveland, which showed that objectionable animal and vegetable wastes are common on the Cleveland beaches, especially after storms. "Oil and grease in sufficient quantities to befoul the beaches also are reported," Mr. Adcock read. "Discharge of storm water is mostly responsible."

Witness Verifies Report.

"Is this a correct description of some of the conditions at Cleveland?" he asked.

"It is substantially a description of conditions on certain of the beaches and portions of the lake front at Cleveland," answered Mr. Ellms.

In response to other questions Mr. Ellms admitted that in figuring out the time it would take to build treatment plans and filtration works at Chicago he had not taken into consideration the time it would require to obtain sites from the parks where the proposed filtration plants would be built. He also admitted that the four plants he proposed would filter only 576 million gallons of water, while in 1945 Chicago would be using more than a billion gallons of water daily for domestic purposes.

Other witnesses on the stand today included Herbert E. Linnell, Springfield, Mass., engineer, who testified that in his opinion Chicago should be able to complete its sewage treatment program by 1935, and Horace W. King, professor of engineering at Michigan university. Mr. King was cross-examined by Attorney George F. Barrett.

Admit He's Guessing.

Prof. King, who testified yesterday that it would be possible to build control works at Western avenue in the Chicago river and control storm overflow in the river by that method, admitted today that he had never visited the site of the proposed works. He said he had based his calculations regarding the time it would take to set up a 10,000 cubic second foot current in the Chicago river upon experiment and theory.

"Assume, professor," said Mr. Barrett, "that you have twelve inches of ice in the Chicago river and the sanitary canal and you suddenly open the control gates, what would happen? Would you have an ice gorge at the gate?"

"I do not know just what would happen," replied the witness.

Prof. King admitted navigation would be adversely affected if the gates were opened and a 10,000 foot current started suddenly in the Chicago river.

Mr. Barrett suggested that a sudden opening of the gates might cause river vessels to founder.

Samuel A. Ettelson, corporation counsel for Chicago, today filed an answer in the Supreme court to the arguments advanced by lake states opposing the entry of Chicago into the controversy. Mr. Ettelson's brief reiterated the city's contention that it does not intend to delay settlement of the problem, but does seek the right to show that any decree requiring the discharge of sewage into Lake Michigan is an actual menace to the city's future health.

CHINESE CHAMPION AS CAFE COOK QUITS FLAPJACK FLIPPING

New York, April 16.—[Special.]—Chick Chung is a champion Chinese cafe cook but as a flapjack flapper, he's a flop. His skillet sizzled, his smile spread. Soon his skillful swing slipped. Chick chattered Chinese curses. Cops came. Clinging, crisp cakes caused Cantonese chest to cringe. Beneath blue blouse batter burned. Surgeons spread soothing salve. No future flapjack flipping. Contented customers can consume cooler Chinese concoctions.

NEW LAKE ERIE RISE FLOODS OHIO SHORE

Sandusky, O., April 16.—[Special.]—Brought in by a nor'easter that has been blowing since yesterday morning, the water along the western Lake Erie shore is nearly as high as it was a week ago. Thousands of acres of lowland are totally inundated. The damage is great.

Put-In-Bay and other Lake Erie islands report docks that survived last week's attack as being threatened again. A few have been carried out.

The Perry Memorial grounds on Put-In-Bay island and the roadways leading thereto are under water again. The Cedar Point roadway, completed at a cost of $250,000 several years ago, has been further damaged.

Damage to summer homes with from a few inches to several feet of water standing over their downstairs floors today will be great.

JURY CHOSEN TO TRY 4 AS SLAYERS; GUN EXPERT TO TESTIFY

The jury was completed yesterday in Judge Robert E. Gentzel's court where four colored robbers are on trial for the murder of Martin French, a colored guard at the Franklin Trust and Savings bank, Michigan avenue and 35th street. French was killed during a robbery of the bank on Jan. 18.

The trial is attracting attention because Maj. Calvin H. Goddard of New York, firearms and bullet expert retained by Coroner Herman N. Bundesen to study the North Clark street massacre case, will have an opportunity to demonstrate the efficiency of his scientific findings. He will testify for the state and will show the jury that the bullet which killed French came from a revolver alleged to have been held by Leon Brown, one of the four defendants.

Maj. Goddard probably will not be called as a witness until tomorrow because the state will spend today in showing that Brown, Lafon Fisher, Leonard Shadlow and Melvin Jenkins admitted at the time of their arrest that they had committed the crime. They have since repudiated their confessions.

Congressman Drops His Flask Near the Capitol

Washington, D. C., April 16.—[Special.]—While members of congress were passing through the subway which connect the capitol and the house office building this morning, some one dropped a silver capped glass whisky flask which broke. The odor of the rye permeated the tunnel. No one has claimed the remains of the bottle.

SMALL INVESTMENTS SHOW BIG RETURNS

Figures taken from Olcott's Blue Book of Chicago Real Estate Values show that it pays the purchaser of good vacant property to be patient. City property well located and intelligently laid out, with improvements provided for, is bound to increase in value with Chicago's growth.

In 1917 the Harmon National Realty Trust sold lot 25, block 24, in Englefield for $520 to Mr. C. E——. If the original purchaser has wisely held this lot he now has a "Blue Book" value of $2,100, an average annual increase of 28%. Such consistent returns are unknown in any other form of safe investment, and nowhere can an investor find greater security or larger returns on his money than in well-bought real estate.

Teeth regain dazzling whiteness

The new way dentists urge to restore teeth to dazzling brilliance—to combat dental troubles

ASK a famous screen star how to keep teeth dazzling white and she will tell you to keep teeth free of film. Ask your dentist how to combat the onset of decay and pyorrhea and he will say, "Remove film from your teeth twice daily."

Today it's known film is the cause of dull, discolored teeth as well as the serious tooth and gum disorders. To remove it scientifically employ the special film-removing dentifrice called Pepsodent.

Film—What it is

Run your tongue across your teeth and you will feel this film. It absorbs stains from food and smoking and turns white teeth dull. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays.

Film hardens into tartar. Germs by the millions breed in it. And germs with tartar are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Film must be removed each day. Ordinary brushing fails to do it successfully. So dentists urge the special film-removing dentifrice called Pepsodent.

First, Pepsodent curdles film, then removes it in gentle safety to enamel. No other way will make teeth as sparkling white. Write for free 10-day supply to The Pepsodent Co., 1104 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago, or ask your druggist for full-size tube. Find out, without delay, how white your teeth really are. You'll be amazed.

NITARY BONDS LL AMENDED; KELY TO PASS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[illegible], Ill., April 16.—[Special.] [illegible] for the Chicago sanitary district's plea for financial relief legislation by the Illinois general assembly [illegible] today when Senator [illegible] J. Barbour put what are expected to be the final touches on his [illegible] to give the drainage trustees a [illegible] restricted right to issue construction bonds without a referendum. On his motion the state senate amended the bill, which has been pending more than two months, and advanced it to third and final reading, [illegible] it may be called up for passage tomorrow or Thursday. To[illegible] there seems to be little doubt [illegible] it will be approved after a few [illegible] who are waiting for the [illegible] to express their horror over [illegible] conditions in Chicago get that [illegible] of their chests. There may be [illegible] when the bill goes over [illegible] house of representatives next [illegible].

[illegible] with today's amendments in[illegible] there is little opposition to [illegible] except some of a political nature. The legislators know now that [illegible] district must have state authority [illegible] money, and that the bill has [illegible] trimmed to the bone.

[illegible] Set at $40,000,000.

[illegible] more important of the Barbour [illegible] accomplish two things: [illegible] they set a maximum of $40,[illegible] for the nonreferendum bonds. [illegible] engineers say, is the least with [illegible] the trustees can go ahead with [illegible] plants and other works already projected in response to the de[illegible] of the war department and the [illegible] States Supreme court.

[illegible], they specify in what is de[illegible] as the tightest legal language [illegible] that these funds cannot be [illegible] for any purpose except the construction of those plants, and to make [illegible] difficult for any bi-partisan [illegible] other political combination to [illegible] around that provision the bill [illegible] the treatment plants, the [illegible] power distributing stations, [illegible] other works for which the money [illegible] to be used. Other uses are pro[illegible].

[illegible] No Waste Possible.

"[illegible]," said Senator Bar[illegible], "[illegible] the legislature sought to restrict the expenditure of bond funds so closely as we are doing in this bill. So far as it is humanly possible to do so we have eliminated the danger of political waste and there can be no opposition to the bill on those grounds. I feel confident of its passage."

The Branson special committee of the house of representatives held another of its hearings for members of that chamber who had not responded to its questionnaire. Following its rule against publicity, it met behind closed doors, and although it was said that four members were called in and questioned about pay checks in addition to those that they received as legislators the committee operations failed to cause a ripple in the legislative day.

And members of the senate committee who are wanted by the state's attorney of Cook county to tell the grand jury whether there is any malice pretense in their tying up the whoopee records of the Central Auto Service company said they would accept service by telephone or any other simplified process if it were attempted.

KILLS BOARDER IN HOME — ENDS HER LIFE WITH BULLET

MRS. ELLA McNEAL.

Mrs. Ella McNeal, 44 years old, wife of William R. McNeal, a railroad engineer, 9217 Chauncey avenue, yesterday shot and killed Fred J. Hein, 35 years old, of Fort Wayne, Ind., a boarder in the McNeal home, and then committed suicide.

McNeal, who was absent from the house when the shooting occurred, told police that Hein had quarreled with his wife over a $32 board bill last Friday and had left the house. Police were investigating a theory that Hein had returned yesterday and attacked Mrs. McNeal.

Neighbors said they saw Mrs. McNeal and Hein drinking in the kitchen of the house shortly before the shooting. The woman fired four bullets into Hein's body and then ran to the attic and shot herself through the head. She was dead when police arrived. Hein died on the way to a hospital.

An Airedale owned by the McNeals attacked police when the bodies of Mrs. McNeal and Hein were approached, and finally was shot by a policeman.

HIRSCHIE MILLER PLEADS GUILTY TO LIQUOR CHARGE

Legislator, Co-defendant, Goes on Trial.

State Representative John R. McSweeney [Dem., 19th] went on trial before Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward yesterday on a charge of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law, growing out of his alleged partnership in the Commodore grill, 127-29 South Kedzie avenue, where booze was found almost two years ago.

Three other defendants, Hirschie Miller, west side character; James Harrington, and Joseph O'Keefe, who said they were owners of the grill, pleaded guilty at the beginning of court yesterday, thus leaving the legislator to deny the guilt alone. The others are expected to take the stand in his defense.

Took Money for Booze, Claim.

Although the taking of testimony began late in the afternoon, Assistant United States District Attorney Daniel Anderson presented one witness to connect McSweeney with the alleged conspiracy. The government bases its charges principally on the evidence of prohibition agents that the representative stood behind the cash register in the restaurant and took money for whisky.

Louis Rago, 624 North Western avenue, an undertaker, was the principal witness yesterday. Rago, who is said to have been a silent partner of the others, although he was not indicted with them, testified that McSweeny told him, before the place was raided, that he was "not satisfied with the way the restaurant is being run."

Liquor Seized in Raid.

When the restaurant was raided on July 21, 1927, a quantity of liquor was found. This, coupled with the testimony of several purchases by dry agents, will be introduced against McSweeny. He was in his shirtsleeves behind the cash register when the whisky was bought, the agents will testify.

It is understood that McSweeney will deny all the charges, and that Miller, Harrington and O'Keefe will say he had no interest in the place. Judge Woodward deferred sentencing the three who pleaded guilty until the McSweeney trial is concluded.

10 Year Old "Lone Wolf" Caught Cracking Safe

Juvenile authorities last night took charge of 10 year old Joe Wolvin, self-styled "Lone Wolf," whose career as a safecracker was interrupted yesterday morning when police entered the Forsythe theater in East Chicago and found Joe hammering on the combination of the safe in the rear of the building. The young burglar wore rubber gloves to prevent telltale finger prints, police said.

CHUMMY PARTY AT HELEN'S NIGHT CLUB ON U.S. CASH

Dry Snoopers' Own Story of Brandy and Women.

BY TOM PETTEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 16.—[Special.]—How the boys and girls up in Helen Morgan's summer home disported themselves after midnight today was pictured entertainingly to a middle aged, pretty looking jury in federal court by a couple of dry snooping gentlemen, one of whom was known to the trade as "Pie Face."

The "Summer Home" was a night club along about the time last spring that Mrs. Mabel Willebrandt rode her broom into town. Being a night club, it was popular with prohibition agents, so it was raided.

The dark eyed, brown haired Helen, now a star in Ziegfeld's "Show Boat," was wont at the time to sit on tables and croon blues songs as a part of her duties as hostess.

U. S. Fights Hard.

The government, just a mite nettled at having lost its catch-as-catch-can bout with Miss Texas Guinan, the blonde, went after the brunette in whirlwind fashion. Mr. Leslie Salter was calling names for the federal forces this time. Mr. J. Arthur Adler acted as Miss Morgan's legal knight, and Judge Edwin C. Thomas was on the bench.

Miss Morgan sat beside her attorney as chic and as demure as any young lady from Danville, Ill., who had achieved the success she has, could sit. There were no jewels on her fingers and she was dressed in a simple navy blue suit and a black straw hat.

Mr. John J. Mitchell of Denver, the prohibition agent known to Miss Morgan as "Denver Johnnie," took the stand and testified that Helen drank with her night club customers.

Fond of Brandy, He Says.

"She was wild about brandy," said the witness, "and drank a lot of it. I complimented her quality of brandy. We paid $10 a pint for it, and $25 for champagne."

Early one morning, according to the chummy gentleman from Denver, Miss Morgan grew bored with her summer home and accompanied him on a night club expedition.

She lamented the lack of a bar in her own night club, Mr. Mitchell explained.

"We dropped in on the Furnace club," said the witness, "and Miss Morgan sat on the bar tossing brandy. Lou Tyson—he's a prohibition agent, too—was along."

Mr. Tyson, the dry gentleman known as "Pie Face," checked with Mitchell on the summer home festivities and tail of the Furnace club party. He will continue his story tomorrow.

It was developed that when a dry agent feels he has taken on a load, he disposes of his drinks after this fashion:

By dropping the ashes from a cigar into a filled wine glass and ordering it removed.

By bumping a fellow agent's elbow and spilling his liquor on the floor.

By these tactics Mr. Mitchell succeeded in running up a bill for $90.60, he admitted, on the second of his seven visits to see Miss Morgan.

SEA STILL SAFE FOR VOLSTEAD ON LEVIATHAN

Homebound Passengers Can Enjoy Wines.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CHERBOURG, France, April 16.—The United States Lines' flagship Leviathan hove into port here today under her new house flag and no wetter than usual.

Except for a little fresh paint here and there and a new flag, the Chapman company's big bully of the seas looked about the same as usual. The seal on her medical liquors was unscratched and although that fine old American institution of bootlegging was going strong under the influence of the sea air, she could have stood inspection of Washington's entire dry lobby.

A big batch of newspaper men and liquor dealers were on hand from Paris. The former were there to record the first deep sea orgy under the American flag and the second to take orders for restocking the ship's cellars. The latter had a lot more success than the former.

Sea Still Safe for Volstead.

Old timers among the 500 first class passengers reported the high seas still safe for Volsteadism—eastbound—and the old régime of efficient and none too quiet bootlegging still in force.

When a day out the hopeful wets got quite a shock. A notice was posted on the bulletin board that no bars would be open. Nobody knows whether the United States Lines really intended to open them and were scared off by the great cry of anguish from the drys in Washington. All a passenger could do was to order cocktails in his stateroom, a wine or champagne dinner in the main dining hall, whisky and soda or cordials in conventional glassware in the smoking room or lounge—all at exorbitant prices.

Liquor for Westbound Trip.

Going back, things will be different. It looks as though the Leviathan's westbound traffic, which it is no secret has suffered from competition with wet ships, will be looking up.

Capt. Harold A. Cunningham received a wire from Joseph E. Sheedy, executive vice president of the United States Lines, authorizing him to estimate the homebound passenger list's capacity and stock up so that not too much liquor will have to be thrown overboard at the twelve mile limit.

"Liquor will be served only on individual orders of said skipper, and no bottle, other than wine, will be served in public rooms," says the new rule, which apparently forces consumers of hard liquor to drink theirs by the glass.

POLICE STOP SHOW IN TEXAS GUINAN'S NIGHT CLUB, IN TIME

New York, April 17 (Wednesday).—[Special.]—The show in Texas Guinan's club, In Time, in the Harding hotel on West 54th street was stopped by the police shortly after it started this morning. The police, after being told by Carl Dopita, the assistant manager, that the club had no cabaret license, also ordered the music and dancing stopped and served Dopita with a summons to West Side court, returnable Monday, for operating a cabaret without a license.

Yesterday Miss Guinan defied Police Commissioner Whalen's orders that curfew for all night clubs must sound at 3 a. m. by stating the club would "stay open until noon if the customers can stay on their seats."

BAN ON CANADIAN COMMONS BOOZE RUNNERS O. K.'D

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, April 16.—With doors locked, corridors patrolled by uniformed policemen, and an edict to the press to "stay away from the chamber" members of the Canadian house of commons went into an hour and a half's secret session this afternoon.

When the doors were again thrown open, it was ascertained that the orders of the speaker respecting the patrol of certain corridors by police guards and prohibiting house messengers from toting liquor to members had been upheld.

Although it was thought beforehand that Speaker Rodolphe Lemieux might lose his official head as a result of what some members termed his unwarranted interference with their privileges the speaker nevertheless pointed out the seriousness of such an act in lowering the house in the estimation of the Canadian public. He pleaded for support and was promised it after various members had commented on the controversial orders.

VOTE ASSEMBLY INQUIRY INTO DE KING KILLING

Committee Test Carries by Vote of 15 to 6.

BY CARL WARREN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 16.—[Special.]—Inquiry by a legislative committee into the killing of Mrs. Joseph De King by an Aurora dry agent and into the way Kane county officials have handled the case was recommended this afternoon by the judiciary committee of the house of representatives. By a vote of 15 to 6 the committee approved a resolution sponsored jointly by two Kane county representatives, Frank A. McCarthy and John F. Petit, providing for appointment of a committee of seven house members to make the investigation.

The committee action followed a stormy debate in which Representative Michael Igoe of Chicago described the killing as "the most disgraceful scandal in the history of Illinois."

"Down in bloody Williamson county a few years ago they lined men against a fence and shot them down," declared Igoe. "Kane county is worse. Up there they make no distinction between the sexes. In Herrin they confined their killings to men, but in Aurora they shoot defenseless women."

Goes to Floor Test Today.

The resolution will go to the house tomorrow and probably will be acted on some time this week.

Against the resolution: Branson, Peffers, Rennick, Dixon, Teal, F. W. Lewis—6. Present but not voting: McCaskrin—1.

As recommended by the committee, the resolution is in slightly different form than that originally introduced by Representative Thomas J. O'Grady two weeks ago in that it confines the investigation strictly to the Aurora shooting, while the O'Grady resolution included other dry activities. The limited resolution was proposed by Mr. McCarthy and agreed to by both Mr. O'Grady and Mr. Petit, who had acted jointly with O'Grady.

"People Up in Arms."

"The people in Kane county," Representative McCarthy declared, "are up in arms over this murder. They are not satisfied with the coroner's jury report, and they don't believe the grand jury will bring out the facts. They will welcome an independent investigation."

Representative John M. Peffers, who is a colleague of McCarthy, and Petit from Kane county, challenged McCarthy's statement.

"If McCarthy and Petit want to bring about this investigation it will be upon their own heads, but I'm against it," he asserted. "The business men of Aurora, who are trying to protect Aurora's reputation, are sick and tired of all this front page publicity in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and other papers. This investigation will only stir up more trouble."

With the De King resolution before the house, tomorrow is expected to bring wet and dry battles on both sides of the capitol. In the senate judiciary committee, Chairman James J. Barbour has called a hearing on Senator John J. Boems' bill to remove the state restrictions against the 2 per cent alcohol beverages which are permitted under the federal prohibition law.

SEIZED LIQUOR KEPT BY POLICE CAPTAIN, OFFICER TESTIFIES

Detroit, Mich., April 16.—(AP)—Testimony that Capt. Joseph A. Burkheiser, suspended harbormaster, kept his quarters on Belle Isle stocked with liquor seized from rum running craft, was presented today at the police trial board hearing or Sergt. Edward Shaw, formerly under Capt. Burkheiser and suspended with him on charges of connivance with liquor smugglers.

Burkheiser, who suffered a nervous breakdown after the charges against him were made public, is in a hospital and and will not be tried until his condition permits.

Joseph C. Graham, a patrolman, formerly in Capt. Burkheiser's detail on Belle Isle, testified that the carrying of liquor into the harbormaster's quarters "was so common that we paid no attention to it."

He testified also that on certain nights the police patrol boats were kept brilliantly lighted by order of Sergt. Shaw, whom he quoted as saying that Burkheiser wanted them to "lay off the bootleggers."

DRY TESTIFIES 3 GUNS BLAZED AT MIAMI SHORE

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., April 16.—(AP)—Harold Lopes, lookout on the coast guard picket boat that sprayed the Miami river front with gunfire in a rum runner chase early Sunday morning, testified before a court of inquiry today that all three members of the government craft's crew had a hand in the firing.

He further testified that he believed a confederate of the fleeing rum runners fired on the government boat from a bridge under which it passed.

Lopes said he fired six shots from a .45 caliber automatic during the battle, that Motor Machinist's Mate Sam Jones sent approximately forty machine gun bullets from a Lewis gun, and that Boatswain J. R. Ingraham, in command of the boat, fired a few shots with a pistol.

Stray bullets from the battle flew into buildings in the city and hit a houseboat, drawing vigorous protests from Miami officials, precipitating the inquiry.

Lieut. Edward Hahn of the coast guard said he had examined the material damage done by the gunfire. A filling station had a broken plate glass window and three bullet holes through a small window twenty feet above the pavement. A bullet passed through the wall of a houseboat near the foot of a bed occupied by a woman, penetrated a suitcase, and passed through a wall into the breakfast room, where it lodged in the ceiling. Hahn said he was told by the owner of the houseboat that the shot may have come from a source other than the coast guard.

DEFEND SCHOOL CHILDREN FROM BOOZE CHARGES

Jurors Blame Parents for Wildness.

one 17, who were members of the drinking party Sunday morning.

Gladys Hankes, 17 year old student of Lindblom High school, who was riding on the lap of George Lux when he was killed lives at 5533 South Laflin street. Her mother insisted that she did not know her daughter drank and said that though Gladys often went on parties with young folks that she did not know many of them, as they seldom came to the house. The girl's father, Theodore Hankes, is a clerk at the American Express company. Mrs. Hankes assists at a beauty parlor on Halsted street on Friday and Saturday nights, so that she is not at home to watch Gladys. She declared that what had happened Sunday morning could have "happened to any girl," as "every one goes on parties now."

Coletta Liston, 15 year old pupil of Libby school eighth grade, who also rode in the car which overturned, was at home in the apartment above a store at 5544 South Laflin street.

Goes Where She Pleases.

Her mother said she knew "Coletta is a good girl, not wild at all." She said that she did not know Coletta ever took a drink, and that she thought she went out Saturday night for a party with girl friends. Coletta admitted that her comings and goings were never questioned in the household, and that she came in as she pleased, though "it was never as late as that before." She said her mother had never met any of the boys of Saturday night's party, because there was no place to bring them, if she had wanted to.

Janet Nawrocka, 16 year old student of Lindblom High school, who spent the evening and early morning with the other two girls at the roadhouse drinking party, lives with her mother, Mrs. Angelina Nawrocka, and her stepfather in the apartment behind their store on the floor below Coletta.

Her mother told tearfully of Sunday morning's episode, admitting that she knew none of her daughter's friends or the meaning of "all the telephonings" that went on and which infuriated her husband, who is a policeman.

She said that she did not know Janet ever drank, but "everybody drinks now."

Fine Truants' Parents.

William L. Bodine, superintendent of compulsory education, during the last week caused the arrest of 56 parents who did not keep their children in school. Yesterday Judge Alfred O. Erickson fined them from $5 to $20.

"Parents are responsible for 75 per cent of student delinquencies," Mr. Bodine said yesterday. "They do not keep account of their children after school hours."

APPOINTMENT OF DAWES STAMPED O. K. IN SENATE

Ambassador Will Assume Duties Soon.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 16.—[Special.]—President Hoover's nomination of Charles G. Dawes, former Vice President, as ambassador to Great Britain was confirmed by the senate today without a roll call. Mr. Dawes, now in Santo Domingo at the head of an advisory committee organizing a budget system for that republic, will succeed Alanson B. Houghton of New York, who returned to the London post last November after an unsuccessful race as a Republican senatorial candidate.

Under present plans, which contemplate completion of his work in Santo Domingo within the next week or ten days, Mr. Dawes is expected to arrive in New York on April 29 and go immediately to Chicago to arrange his business interests.

Conferences Planned.

After a few days in Chicago, Mr. Dawes probably will spend a week or more in Washington, conferring with President Hoover and Secretary of State Stimson, before sailing for London.

The only other presidential appointment confirmed today out of the long list sent to the senate was that of Joseph M. Dixon, former United States senator and former governor of Montana, to be first assistant secretary of the interior, succeeding Edward C. Finney, who was recently appointed solicitor for the interior department.

Colquitt, Morin Named.

In addition to the appointments previously announced at the White House, the list contained the names of Oscar B. Colquitt of Texas, selected to succeed Pat Neff of the same state, as a member of the board of mediation, and John M. Morin, former representative from Pennsylvania, appointed a member of the United States employés compensation commission.

Other appointments sent to the senate today included Patrick J. Hurley, assistant secretary of war; Ernest L. Jahncke and David S. Ingalls, assistant secretaries of the navy; Capt. Joseph J. Cheatham, paymaster general of the navy with the rank of rear admiral, and Maj. Gen. Charles McK. Saltzman [retired], member of the federal radio commission, representing the fourth zone, which includes Illinois and other central states, and Charles J. Rhoads, commissioner of Indian affairs.

The Day in Springfield

Utilities committees of both houses of assembly voted to summon transit heads, Mayor Thompson and former mayors of Chicago to discuss pending bills.

Both houses passed resolutions commending Chicago's World's Fair.

SENATE.

Concurred in house amendments to Emmerson bill to place constitutional amendments on main ballot. Now ready for governor's signature.

HOUSE.

PASSED—Committee bill to appropriate $2,418,820 to secretary of state for biennium; Tice bill, to appropriate $1,482,710 to adjutant general for biennium.

Judiciary committee recommended passage of revised resolution for investigation of De King killing near Aurora.

NEW BILLS—By G. J. Johnson, to increase city corporate tax rate from two-thirds of one per cent to one per cent for five years, and to fix it at four-fifths of one per cent after that period; by Weeks, Chicago school tax rate increase bills.

"I DRIVE A LINCOLN"

THE note of pride discernible in acknowledging ownership of a Lincoln springs from something less tangible than the possession of a splendidly built, beautifully finished car. There is a deep, gratifying satisfaction in being identified with the Lincoln's unobtrusive leadership, impeccable engineering, respected style.

By such true standards of value are Lincolns judged that age is an incidental. This is why, when you buy a Lincoln of another year, your car joins the select company of Lincolns—admired for their flawless performance and enduring style regardless of how long they have been in service.

A few Lincolns with previous service are to be had from local Lincoln dealers at prices that make them a worth-while investment. Authorized Lincoln dealers are always glad to demonstrate them to you. Drop in today.

CALL THOMPSON, 3 EX-MAYORS TO TRANSIT INQUIRY

Legislators Also Call for Insull and Blair.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 16.—[Special.]—Growing weary of almost endless speeches by aldermen, lawyers, civic club representatives and citizens, members of the legislative committees considering the Chicago transit bills suddenly decided today that the persons really qualified to give them information were not present.

By a unanimous vote the committees adopted a motion extending invitations to the following persons to appear before them at another hearing next Tuesday:

Demand for Information.

Representative George Garry Noonan made the motion inviting the group to Springfield, declaring that "it is time this legislature heard something about these bills from the people who know what they are talking about." It was seconded by Representative T. J. O'Brien.

"This is our third hearing and each time we have heard the same old stuff," Noonan asserted. "We don't care how many clubs have endorsed these bills or how many are against them. Let's get down to brass tacks and call somebody down here who can give us advice. Where is Mayor Thompson? Where is Samuel Insull? Let them tell us what they think about the bills and we will know how to act intelligently."

There was no opposition to Mr. Noonan's motion. It was passed by a standing vote.

Speakers Heard Before.

Most of the hearing, which lasted all afternoon, was occupied by speakers who had expressed their views at one of the previous hearings. Intermittently, the committee members broke in with questions, most of them dealing with the terminable permit bill, and charges by opponents of the program that it will result in a perpetual franchise. Virtually the only new development was the submission of three proposed amendments by John Maynard Harlan, attorney for the Lisman plan.

One of the Harlan amendments would prohibit the inclusion of the Aurora and Elgin or South Shore lines in the proposed consolidated transit company provided for by one of the bills, while the other two are designed to make it impossible for the local transit companies to consolidate and secure a certificate of necessity and convenience from the Illinois commerce commission without first obtaining a city franchise.

"These bills, without amendments, will allow Mr. Insull and his associates to clear 150 million dollars in velvet overnight by increasing their valuations, consolidating, and then going to the commerce commission," Mr. Harlan charged.

Speaking in behalf of the bills were Sidney S. Gorham, attorney for the citizens' transit committee; H. H. Haylett of the greater south side chamber of commerce, William F. McHugh, west town chamber of commerce; Frederick S. Pope, Union League club; A. Lauren Brown, Chicago Real Estate board, and a dozen representatives of neighborhood and improvement clubs. Ten speakers, also representing clubs and organizations, opposed the bills.

200 Are at Hearing.

The showing made by the proponents of the measures, from the standpoint of numbers, probably was the most impressive seen at any legislative hearing during this session. About 200 persons, most of them delegated by organizations, came to the capital last night on a special train and crowded the house chamber during the hearing. Most of them returned tonight.

During the morning a large part of the delegation, led by Attorney Gorham, visited Gov. Emmerson, who reiterated his statement that the administration will do nothing to hinder progress of the bills. He warned them again, however, that if there are any signs or indications of attempted bribery that the measures probably will be killed.

The invitations extended to Mayor Thompson, Mr. Insull and the other city and transit officials, it is believed, will postpone action by the committees for at least another two weeks if any of them respond. The plan had been to send the bills to the floors of each house next week, but further speechmaking probably will keep them in the committees for the present.

CITY DUMP SITES FILLED; COUNCIL ACTION IS SOUGHT

Rubbish Disposal Problem Acute, Wolfe Says.

Lack of dump sites in which to dispose of the city's daily collection of ashes and rubbish has brought about a critical situation, it was learned yesterday, as Commissioner of Public Works Richard W. Wolfe appealed to the city council for aid. A special meeting of the finance committee to consider his request is expected to be held before the council meets on Monday.

The existing dump facilities are nearing the end of their usefulness, Mr. Wolfe said, and the city soon will have to acquire sites outside of the city limits. These have become more expensive each year as the available number lessens and it is predicted that in a few years the refuse will have to be hauled away in trains at a much greater cost.

Relief Measure Fails.

Relief for three years was in sight recently when the city condemned an old quarry at 19th and Lincoln streets. The owners of the property obtained a judgment against the city for $650,000, to be paid in three months, but the city defaulted when it was discovered that there was no money with which to make the purchase.

Four proposals have been sent to the finance committee by Mr. Wolfe which, he said, would obtain facilities for dumping approximately 570,000 cubic yards of rubbish. For this privilege the city would be required to pay 20 cents a cubic yard to the owners of the property. It is expected that the alderman will act on these proposals, as the quarry at Grand avenue and Campbell street is filled and can no longer be used.

Trailers Haul Rubbish.

Rubbish from twelve of the west side wards is being hauled by trailer trains to a place near McCook, Ill., at a cost 15 cents higher than the city would have to pay for the use of dumps within the city limits. This deal was made without council authorization, but, Mr. Wolfe said, with the stipulation that the owner of the dump will receive no compensation if the council does not approve. Three small dumps in the city and one at Des Plaines, Ill., are being used to accommodate the rest of the wards.

The ultimate solution of the problem, according to Mr. Wolfe, will be to build loading platforms at five points in the city, the refuse to be loaded upon trains and hauled away.

FALLS 40 FEET; NO BONES BROKEN.

R. J. Herning, 101 Clyde avenue, Evanston, a lineman for the Public Service company, fell from a height of 40 feet while repairing a wire on a pole in Evanston yesterday. Though he was knocked unconscious an examination at St. Francis hospital revealed there were no broken bones.

HULL ATTACKS AL SMITH'S HIGH TARIFF PRINCIPLE

Democratic Revolt Is Brought Into Open.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 16.—[Special.]—Revolt against the tariff protection plank incorporated in the Democratic platform on the insistence of Alfred E. Smith, is brewing among minority party members in congress.

Representative Cordell Hull [Dem., Tenn.], a member of the ways and means committee, and a former chairman of the Democratic national committee, today brought the row into the open in a statement calling upon his Democratic brethren to return to "the tested economic wisdom and philosophy of Jefferson, Jackson, Tilden, Cleveland and Wilson."

The Tennessee representative declared he would refuse to "follow supinely those who would make the great Democratic party subservient to the most corrupt partnership between politics and vested interests in American history."

Mr. Hull based his statement on Speaker Longworth's speech in the house yesterday on the tariff.

"The most amazing thing in our political annals now is transpiring, and that is the attempt of the ultrastandpat parties to get behind a fixed and permanent policy of super-protection and narrow nationalism," said Mr. Hull.

WEST SIDE GROUP LEAVES TO FIGHT 'L' HIGHWAY BILL

Representatives of civic organizations and business men on the west side left last night for Springfield to oppose house bill No. 214, which would permit the west park board to construct a superhighway in Fulton street. The business men were led by Frank J. Birk, president of the West Central association.

"There is a dangerous disagreement between the Chicago plan commission and the plans of the park board," Guy Cramer, secretary of the West Central association, said. "The west side business men and larger taxpayers are aroused as they see a peril of having $20,000,000 of their money wasted.

"Dr. John Dill Robertson, president of the park board, does not specify in his bill what street is to be elevated but he has had engineers estimate that an elevated roadway fifty feet wide can be built in Fulton street for that sum. He has not, however, given us any estimates of the cost of property condemnation or damages."

The contention of the business men, according to Mr. Cramer, is that there would be no way for a Fulton street elevated highway to enter the downtown business district and that it would be of no benefit to the residents of the west side.

TELEGRAM TELLS OF MISSIONARY'S DEATH IN CHINA

Report Indiana Man Slain by Bandits.

BULLETIN.

SHANGHAI, China, April 17 (Wednesday).—(U. P.)—Severe fighting was in progress at Ichang, China, and a United States gunboat was forced to exchange fire with the Chinese, according to dispatches received here today. The U. S. S. Oahu was fired upon five miles above Ichang and returned the fire with machine guns. None of the Americans on the Oahu was injured.

SHANGHAI, April 16.—(AP)—American consular and missionary authorities tried today to piece out the story of the last days of Herbert K. Smith, Seventh Day Adventist of Zionville, Ind., killed by Chinese in southwest Kweichow province.

A telegram dated Kweiyang, Kweichow, by way of Hankow and dated April 12, arrived here last night verifying the previous reports of the missionary's death. It was signed by the American Seventh Day Adventist representative of Kweiyang, and said: "Just received wire from Hwangtsaopa. Smith then killed."

M. C. Warren of Chico, Cal., a Seventh Day Adventist representative who recently saw Mr. Smith at Kweiyang, said Mr. Smith, who was just 25 years old, had started a three week walking evangelical tour of southwest Kweichow province. Hwangtsaopa was eight days' walk from Kweiyang, with other modes of travel impossible.

Province Overrun by Bandits.

Mr. Warren said bandits had overrun the province and he believed Mr. Smith had met his death at their hands. Mr. Smith's wife and child had been left at Kweiyang and were believed to be safe there.

Mr. Smith arrived in China on Aug. 3, 1927. He was graduated at the Seventh Day Adventist language school and sent to Changking in June, 1928, being transferred in October to Kweiyang.

Born in Indiana.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Zionsville, Ind., April 16.—Herbert K. Smith, murdered missionary, was born near New Augusta and was the only son of Willard Smith, who died at a ranch in Texas eight years ago. He was reared by his grandmother, the late Mrs. Oliver Houser, once prominent in the Seventh Day Adventists' organization. He received his early education in the Zionsville schools and later was sent to the Seventh Day Adventist denominational school near Anderson, Ind. Following graduation he went to Shanghai for missionary work. He married a Zionsville woman, Miss Thelma Chew, before going to China. They have one child. Mrs. Smith's mother, Mrs. Lora Chew, lives at Anderson.

Tokio May Delay Evacuation.

TOKIO, April 16.—(AP)—The government is understood to have decided to ask imperial sanction for postponement of the withdrawal of troops from Shantung in consequence of repeated requests from the Nationalist government of China asking that the evacuation be delayed.

The Nationalists are understood to have informed Tokio that at present they would be unable to guarantee the safety of Japanese lives and property in Shantung if the Japanese troops were withdrawn in view of the disorders there caused by the armed revolt of Marshal Chang Chung-chang.

RUSSIA DEMANDS POWERS DISCARD HALF OF ARMIES

Geneva Parley Considers Red Proposal Today.

BY HENRY WALES.

[Copyright: 1929: By The Chicago Tribune.]

GENEVA, April 16.—Soviet Russia scored a striking parliamentary victory today when, through clever cooperation with the Germans, Turks, and Jugoslavs, the league of nations preparatory disarmament commission decided to consider tomorrow the soviet's scheme for reducing armaments.

J. Loudon, Dutch minister to Paris and president of the disarmament commission, aided Maxim Litvinoff, soviet acting foreign commissar, by recalling that at the session last year the bolsheviks were promised consideration of their alternative plan after their original proposals for complete immediate disarmament were rejected, and stated he could see no reasons why the scheme should not be examined now.

Would Cut Forces in Half.

The Moscow proposals provide for the great powers immediately to reduce their army, navy and air force by one-half, to be followed by successive reductions. The smaller states would reduce their forces one-third or one-fourth, according to the category in which they are placed.

The Turkish proposals, submitted this afternoon by Tewfik Rouchdy Bey, foreign minister, takes the same general line, suggesting provisions for the maximum forces the various powers would be entitled to maintain.

The conference decided to hold a debate to show whether the soviet plan can be made to harmonize with the composite Anglo-French disarmament draft, which had a reading two years ago, and if so it will be discussed with the Anglo-French plan at a second reading at some future conference.

President Loudon proposed that, after the soviet plan had been discussed, the conference proceed to examine the four points of the original Anglo-French draft, covering men and military supplies of land and naval forces.

Of Special Interest to United States.

This phase opens a question which is chiefly interesting to the United States—the categories of war craft and the tonnage allocated to each series. Capital ships and aircraft carriers were settled on at Washington in 1921.

Ambassador Hugh S. Gibson, chief American delegate, said the United States sincerely desires to aid in the attempt toward solving the problem, and welcomes a rediscussion of the various points over which an agreement was impossible at the original reading of the Anglo-French draft.

Commissar Litvinoff made a long speech, asserting that the original plan, deadlocked for two years, proved impotent. He stressed the fact that the principal powers affected by the deadlock over naval problems were unable to make any progress since then toward an agreement among themselves.

"Acceptance of the soviet proposals for proportional reduction of all armed forces and categories for armaments would remove the existing differences between the sea powers which now are blocking the work of the conference, and obviate similar and more acute differences otherwise arising in connection with problems of the land and air forces," Commissar Litvinoff said.

Commissar Litvinoff urged methods to "expose the hypocrisy and baselessness of references to pretended national interests claimed by any country."

He obviously was referring to the war talk between the United States and Great Britain. Since the naval deadlock of two years ago and the Anglo-French naval compromise last year Commissar Litvinoff recalled the "increased threat of war. I could quote any number of pronouncements by responsible statesmen, members of parliament and senators, testifying to the growth of alarm during the last twelve months, which should stimulate efforts for a speedy realization of disarmament."

Praises Kellogg Pact.

The soviet commissar reminded the conference that the Kellogg peace pact was a new favorable situation for disarmament.

"I am unable to approve the repeated efforts of certain statesmen to minimize the importance of the Kellogg pact as compared with similar international agreements," he said, "and I fear the attempts were made with a view to creating extenuating circumstances for a possible infringement on the pact outlawing war and to weaken its importance as a starting point for disarmament. I fail to see why the Kellogg pact is less binding and less of a guarantee of security than the Locarno agreements and the league's so-called security treaties."

REJECT 47 ROAD BIDS RECEIVED UNDER THE LAST ADMINISTRATION

Springfield, Ill., April 16.—(AP)—Forty-seven sections of paving, bridge and grading work, for which bids were received while Len Small was governor, must be readvertised. All bids received were announced as rejected today.

Fifteen counties are affected. Paving bids rejected were for work on route 148 in Franklin and Williamson; route 173 in McHenry; 122 in McLean; 151 in Randolph and Perry; 49 in Cook; 62 in Kane, Cook, and McHenry; 104 in Morgan, and Christian; 48 in Ford and Iroquois; 182 in Marion; 96 in Hancock; 97 in Fulton; 100 in Scott; 115 in Ford, and 107 in Pike.

Bridge work to be readvertised was for Williamson, Henry, McLean, Morgan, Christian, Ford, Jackson, Bureau, Scott, Macoupin and Green counties, and grading work bids rejected were for work in Williamson, Johnson, Henry, Christian, Jackson, Bureau and Gallatin counties.

MARRIAGE MART IS BOOMING, 700 LETTERS INDICATE

Seven hundred letters, written by as many men in search of wives, formed part of the evidence yesterday before Municipal Judge Joseph L. McCarthy, in Chicago avenue court, against Mrs. Helen Goodrich, 22 years old, 147 West Oak street, who was held for grand jury action under $2,500 bonds on a confidence game charge.

Ole A. Lee, 35 years old, a janitor of 2810 West North avenue, was the complainant. He testified that a year ago he answered an advertisement inserted in a matrimonial publication by Mrs. Goodrich under the name of "Edna Rhody." Following that, he declared, he "loaned" Mrs. Goodrich amounts aggregating $900, under the impression that she intended to marry him. Later he discovered that she already had a husband.

Part of the $900, Lee said, went to pay for furniture that he assumed was going into their honeymoon apartment. The letters were found in Mrs. Goodrich's flat by police, who asserted that a different name was signed to each letter.

Train Cuts Auto in Two, but Occupants Not Hurt

Kenosha, Wis., April 16.—[Special.]—The rear end of Lewis Witcheber's auto was sliced off by a North Western train. Witcheber was driving. His 7 year old daughter, Anita, sat beside him. The car stalled on the tracks and he tried frantically to get it off while the train screeched towards him. The auto moved a few feet forward, the train clipped the rear end off, and left the rest upright. Neither occupant was injured. When the train crew returned they found both on their knees praying.

ARE AMERICANS LAWLESS?

James W. Good, secretary of war, said in a speech to the Daughters of the American Revolution that the American people were the most lawless in the world. That phrase is current in most public declamation, and it's a puzzle to know whether we are viewing with alarm or pointing with pride.

The St. Valentine massacre in Chicago—there is precedent for the linking of fête days and massacres—was something wholly outside the thinking and acting of all but a tiny but savage fraction of the residents of Chicago. The fact that the agencies of law haven't the killers in jail or on trial indicates that the killers in getting away were more competent than the law in trying to capture them, but it doesn't prove that the people of Chicago are lawless.

This happens all over the country. As the result of the Rothstein murder in New York the city got a new police commissioner and some new traffic laws, but it did not get the killers. It is true that law enforcement in the United States is not good enough for many of the conditions it encounters. Serious faults run through the laws and the administration of them. We find politics and crime in partnership. We make unwise laws, and the execution of them immediately is corrupted. We undertake too much coercion, and it causes resistance. We try statutory experiments with human nature, and violence comes of it. Communities suffer from the excesses of people who are determined to make laws and of people who are determined to break them.

Considerate people do not close their eyes to any of the exhibits of public conduct, but nevertheless the American people are not a lawless people. They are the only people who create an entire system of government by their own acts. They are the only people who have no source of authority outside of the compacts they have made with each other and the decisions they make under them.

Their experiment in self-government was not the first to be made, but it is the only one which has survived. Everywhere else people in one way or another reach out for a support regarded by them as superior to themselves. Even the British do not wholly create the structure of their government by their own will, nor do they have any other foundation under it than their own acceptance of the contracts to which they agree.

Other written constitutions were tried in other lands as the foundation of a form of society which would contain its own authority and they have failed. A lawless people could not present to the world the stability of the American people. Only the most lawful people, lawful in the real essence of their being, could create and maintain a great nation.

The people of the United States had a new form of government to create. They had a new continent to inhabit and rule. They had new peoples from all parts of the world to take in and assimilate. They had to preserve one language out of many. They had to teach law and institutions of law to strangers. They had a problem of races and religions, and they had no inheritable form of government. They had nothing but documents to which they had subscribed.

The surface of this great record is scarred at times by the degradation of politics and the boldness of criminal elements. The defects are prominent in the foreground, but the United States would not exist if its people were not lawful and capable of sustaining themselves by their own right and in their own authority.

THE COUNTY DEMOCRATS.

The halo surrounding the Democratic party in Cook county is flickering. By reason of the degradation of Republican factions here it was expedient for the Democrats to be for a measure of purity, and they did for a time invite independent citizens. But the new Cook county jail scandal indicates that the Cook county Democracy has abandoned even a pretext of reform. Payrollers from the sanitary district, whose doles have been taken from them, have been sent by Sheriff Traeger, a Democrat, at the direction of Democratic patronage bosses, to replace trained men on the staff of Warden Fogarty of the county jail. In the process of taking care of the boys, a bootlegger, an ex-convict, crippled men, and deaf men were assigned to be jail guards. Fogarty has threatened to resign unless this procedure is stopped. He doesn't want to be the victim of another jail scandal.

Traeger's campaign issue was a promise to prevent the recurrence of scandal in the administration of the jail and the voters believed him. It was part of the general platform committed to the extermination of the toleration by politics of organized crime and criminals, and it was an important part, for in jail affairs the best opportunity is offered for politico-criminal associations to start. The sheriff probably is not an independent agent in this repudiation of his campaign position; he is merely the tool of the cigar statesmen in the back room. But a public servant who submits to vicious orders is no better than one who is vicious of his own initiative.

The betrayal by the Democratic organization of the trust which was placed in it is especially disheartening. We turned from one Republican faction, which not only had formed alliances with criminals, but was composed of them, to another, which, while exposing the crimes of its opponents, was prospering through associations with the disgraceful following of the late Diamond Joe Esposito. In this dilemma the Democrats offered relief, but they soon tired of the rôle of fair haired boys. They are busy building up the same sort of criminal affiliations by the condemnation of which they succeeded to office. They have not been in power long enough to make as many disreputable bargains as their predecessors did, and it is not too late to correct the course which is leading them to a wretched conclusion.

THE UNITED STATES IN THE REPARATIONS.

The direct stake of the United States in the reparations conference is of two accounts. One is estimated at 250 millions to settle the war damage claims of American citizens against Germany. The other is the bill for the cost of the American army of occupation, of which the arrears are about 206 million dollars. It is said that the American government will refuse to consider any reduction in the two claims.

The army cost bill is a twofold illustration of the singular infelicity apparently inherent in most American appearances in Europe. The United States should not have put an army on the Rhine. It did so seemingly for no other reasons than to keep up appearances of a solid allied front under a treaty which the United States rejected as impossible and to indulge the military command in the opportunity of polishing up a section of the new American army until it produced some grenadiers taller, wider, and handsomer than anything that could be rescued from the wrecks of European armies. A detail of it in its flower was such a spectacle of well fed discipline at certain Westminster rites as to reanimate the scandal of Dives patronizing Lazarus.

The United States not only put these solvent and husky specimens of the American Mars on the Rhine, to the disgust of most of them, but it charged their keep to Germany, which at that time it also was trying to save from starvation. The allies, then maintaining the blockade, adhered to the doctrine that rickets were reparations to be collected from the German infants. America charged the bill for upkeep to the Germans and then allowed itself to be tricked out of the payments made on account. They were absorbed for the maintenance of the British, French, and Belgian armies of occupation. The American collector got virtually nothing out of the common pot. It caused considerable amusement at the time, being illustrative, along with the Isle of Yap, of the difficulties of going and getting it if the other fellows saw it first.

Prudent American envoys, representatives, and commissioners always should insure their decent return from Europe to the United States by taking their barrels over with them. Then they have makeshifts which may be used until their folk can reach them at quarantine.

REVERSING THE DELUGE.

A German proposes to drain the Mediterranean. By dams across the Straits of Gibraltar and the Bosporus the great sea can be lowered 650 feet, and land areas of huge value to crowded Europe can be exposed. Evaporation does the work, and when the influx from the Atlantic is cut off the blue Mediterranean soon will shrink. A land bridge from Africa to Italy will appear. Most of the Adriatic will dry up, and vast areas along the African and European coasts will be available for agriculture, while power and water from the dams will irrigate the Sahara. It is a difficult project. It will cost money. But in an era when capital seeks an outlet the Mediterranean project is not beyond all possibility.

Years ago the Mediterranean was 3,000 feet below the level of the sea. Then the western ocean broke through and the great sea filled to its present place. The German project would undo the work of time and glaciers and restore the eastern world as it was before the deluge.

America, too, may some day reverse the deluge, built up by glaciers' work, and partly drain the great lakes. Compared with the Mediterranean project it would be easy, for the lakes' surface is several hundred feet above the sea. If population becomes too dense, and land is needed to support it, great areas of the present lake beds could be made available with ease.

But America, we may hope, will control her population to limits below that desperate need. When man must drain the lakes, dry up Niagara, cut down the woods and forests, and embarrass nature with his levelings and economies, some doubt may arise whether the world will be worth inhabiting. Ruining the earth in order to live on it is after all a doubtful economy. Less life and more nature will be the better balance.

Editorial of the Day

WISCONSIN'S DECISION.

[New York Herald-Tribune.]

Dissatisfaction with the Volstead act and with the scandals of its enforcement was emphasized in the referendums held on Tuesday in Wisconsin. That state, as now polled on Volsteadism, is about two-thirds wet and one-third dry. It has expressed overwhelmingly the wish to join the other states—New York, Maryland, Montana, and Nevada—which have no state prohibition enforcement laws.

Undoubtedly the number of these protesting states will increase as popular conviction that Volsteadism has broken down becomes more widespread and more active. Many other states are on the edge of a similar moral revolt. Congress may go on for a time declining to modify the Volstead act. Federal enforcement, with all its present enormities, may remain. But one state after another can wash its hands of responsibility for direct participation in the federal experiment. No state is obliged to undertake supplementary Volstead act enforcement within its own borders. It may not pass a law contravening the provisions of the federal law. But it may refuse to use its own police power to bring in its own courts offenses which are now punishable under the federal prohibition statute. If enough states do this the political basis of Volsteadism will be undermined and congress will be compelled to concede modification.

Wisconsin's vote is therefore highly significant. It points the way to a crystallization of popular hostility to the Volstead system. It will stir sentiment in other states in which Volsteadism has been accepted merely because relief from it seemed difficult and distant. Relief may be nearer at hand than the average good natured and long suffering American citizen has expected.

THE MANCHESTER SQUARE CASE.

SYNOPSIS.

You know, really, we can't keep going over the beginning of this story again and again for the benefit of you who have just come in. However, for the last time, mark you, we will briefly relate what has happened in the earlier chapters. But after this we shall lock the doors whenever we start a new chapter, and those who come late can jolly well go to the films across the road or sit on a bench in the park and read a book. But this time we will somewhat grudgingly admit that Sir Algernon Somerset has been brutally murdered in his handsome house in Manchester Square. The crime was discovered by Police Constable Higgins, who was walking post in the square. Constable Higgins saw Sir Algernon sitting in exactly the same position day after day in the front window of his house. He was puzzled over the matter, but finally found out it was really quite impossible for Sir Algernon to change his position or walk about the room, as he was quite dead. Constable Higgins interviewed Sir Algernon's cook and butler. But most unfortunately they were very soon murdered and in the same manner in which Sir Algernon met his death, a large gunshot wound in the exact mathematical center of the forehead, no less. This made the case much more interesting, and Constable Higgins obtained leave from his post to carry on his own investigation. The trail led to Oxford, to which place Constable Higgins immediately repaired in the hope of finding out something concerning Sir Algernon's past life. Very probably there was a woman in it! Oh, most probably! But who? Ah, there you are! Meanwhile Constable Higgins is at Oxford.

INSTALLMENT XXI.

Constable Higgins got off the tram at Oxford somewhat dazed. He had been born at 'Ampstead 'Eath, and not until he was ten years old had he learned that the real name of the place was Hampstead Heath. He had never been to college and the very thought of inhaling the classic air of Oxford made him gasp for breath. He decided he'd better have a bit of grog. He met a severe looking young man who seemed to gaze into the great beyond through very large tortoise shell glasses. The young man wore a black robe that had been bobbed off at the waist and it fluttered wildly about him like wings.

"Sorry, professor," said Constable Higgins, "I'm a stranger here. Would you kindly direct me to a pub?"

"Oh, quet seh," replied the young man, "geh teh theh tehp ehf the rehd and teh theh reht is a veh dehcehnt seht ef pehb."

"Sorry," said Constable Higgins, "I asked you if you could direct me to a pub, a public house, where I could get some hard liquor."

"Ehnd ehm tehlling yeh," said shell rims, "theh's a peb oveh theah, 'The Bleck Dehlfehn.'"

Constable Higgins hurried on. He thought that after awhile he could find somebody who could speak English. Naturally, Oxford was an English college. He crossed a bridge, and after awhile he saw by the street signs that he was in St. Giles street. A party of American tourists were standing on the corner gaping wildly in every direction and trying to see everything, listen to their guide, and read their little red Baedekers all at once.

"Yer now hin th' 'eart hof Hoxford," said the guide. "That's Byliol across the wy, han hover that wy is Chesus, Hall Souls, Brassnose, han Horiole."

"Thank heaven!" ejaculated Constable Higgins to himself, "the English language at last!"

Constable Higgins thought he would ask the guide which way he should go to find Magdalen college, but the guide, with the American tourists trailing behind him like a flock of sheep, had already started off at a gallop, and Constable Higgins decided to go it on his own.

He met three more young men, probably Oxonians, for they carried books and academic robes under their arms. Also they wore mortar board caps and large tortoise shell glasses.

"Will you please direct me to Magdalen college?" asked Constable Higgins politely.

"Magdalen," replied Constable Higgins.

"Prehb'ly," interposed one of the students, "theh fehleh rehfehrs teh Muhdlehn."

"I believe it could be so pronounced," said Constable Higgins with simple dignity.

"Eh, queht seh!" said the student. "Geh dehn theh rehd ehntil yeh cehm teh Heh streeht. Tehn teh yehr lehft, welk ehn ehntehll yehr cehm teh theh breghe. Muhdlehn's ehn theh lehft."

Constable Higgins thanked them and hurried away.

"I shall keep mucking about until I finally come to Magdalen college," he said to himself. "But I shall ask no more questions. It would be of no avail. I do not understand the Oxford language."

PUFF-BALLS.

And if tonight we're erudite,
  And scintillately wise,
What will be tomorrow
  When the wine dies?

And if today we proudly say
  We're safe from worms and rust,
What will we be tomorrow,
  When we're dust?

"The difficulties of agriculture," said Mr. Hoover, "cannot be cured in a day; they cannot all be cured by legislation; they cannot be cured by the federal government alone. . . . GROWTH OF VIOLENT DEATHS.

IN THE Michigan study of the relative importance of the ten principal diseases at different age periods, the rôle of violence is found to be of an importance not generally suspected. Automobile accidents rank seventh among the causes of death in age period 1 to 4 years. Thereafter the rank is as follows: 5-9, second; 10-14, third; 15-19, second; 20-24, third; 25-29, fourth; 30-35, fifth; 35-54, seventh; 55-64, ninth; 65-74, tenth. Drowning, age 5-9, seventh; 10-14, sixth; 15-19, fourth; 20-24, sixth. After this age period it drops out of the list of topnotchers.

The importance of homicide and suicide, especially in the early age periods, surprised the writer. At age 10-14, homicide ranked tenth. It was not in the list at age 15-19. At age 20-24 it was seventh; age 25-29, fifth; age 30-34, seventh; age 35-39, tenth. After this age period that risk lessened. Suicide appeared among the important causes with a rank of tenth at age 25-29; disappeared from the group at age 30-34; ranked sixth at age 35-39; eighth at age 40-49, after which it was not again found in the list of ten leading causes.

Health departments and all other agencies engaged in the protection of human lives must give more thought to methods of prevention of automobile accidents, of drowning, and of homicide and suicide.

In this study of the relative importance of the ten different important causes of death at different age periods, typhoid fever is found entered but once. In age group 15-19 years typhoid has a rank of nine. Had a similar study been made, say, thirty years ago, typhoid would have ranked near the head of the list. As typhoid wanes in importance the automobile waxes.

Tuberculosis first enters the list of important causes at age 1 to 4, in which period it ranks fifth. It then rises, being fourth in ages 5-9, second in ages 10-14; first in ages 15-44. After that it declines in importance, being second in age group 40-44; third in 45-49; fifth in group 50-54; sixth in 55-59; seventh in 60-64; ninth in 65-69. After age 70 it becomes of minor importance and is not again found in the list of ten important causes.

It is fairer to group together the several kinds of pneumonias and to add what in 1927 was called influenza to them. This group of lung infections had an age importance that differed markedly from that of tuberculosis. In infancy they ranked second, surpassing the diarrheas. In age 1 to 4 they ranked first. Then came a marked drop. In age group 5-9 they ranked fifth. Other ranks were: Ages 10-14, ninth; 15-19, fifth; 20-24, fourth; 25-39, third; 40-44, fourth; 45-54, sixth; 55-69, fifth; 70-89, sixth.

As compared with tuberculosis, pneumonia is more important in childhood and in maturer years, tuberculosis in early manhood.

RAISING BABY ON BOTTLE.

R. R. writes: Please give me all the information you can about raising babies on bottles, as I am a very young woman and cannot raise them on breast milk. I have so much trouble with them in bottle feeding, as I cannot get their bowels regulated. Sometimes they act too freely and sometimes constipation is present. I have a girl baby and she frets because of her stomach and I have done all I know.

REPLY.

You need more information than can be put in this space. You should get one or more baby books. You will find the answers to your questions in these.

Write to your state health department and to the children's bureau, department of labor, Washington, D. C., for their baby books.

PREGNANT FOR FIRST TIME.

Mrs. M. L. writes: I am 24 years of age and pregnant for the first time. I am having trouble with my blood pressure, which is always above 148. I do not eat any meat but just fruits and vegetables; so I cannot understand what causes it.

Is high blood pressure dangerous to me? I expect my baby in about two weeks.

REPLY.

High blood pressure is very important in pregnancy. How are your kidneys? If they are all right and your vision is good you can expect to go through these last two weeks safely.

HELP TO STOP DRINKING.

A wife writes: Please tell me of something I can give my husband to help him to stop drinking.

He is an older man and knows that it hurts him, but he can't resist his workmates' home-made stuff. He himself is willing to try anything you recommend.

REPLY:

You might put some sirup of ipecac into his morning toddy. If he does not indulge in this libation let him try a few times, to get the ipecac. However, this only starts the treatment.

A HAZARDOUS PRACTICE.

Chicago, April 15.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My next door neighbor has recently started the practice of burning papers and rubbish in a large wire rubbish burner, placed at not more than a few feet from my rear porch and fence. Aside from the fire risk, this is an annoyance, because the smoke pours into my bedroom windows on that side of my building. Could my neighbor not be made to burn rubbish either in the center of his yard or in the alley, as other people do? G. T.

Section 1,538 of the Chicago Municipal Code states: "It shall be unlawful for any person to burn or ignite, or cause or permit to be burned or ignited, in any yard, lot, or courtway within the city any inflammable rubbish, refuse, or material which may endanger any adjoining building, fence, or shed by communication of fire thereto."

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

BLIND ALLEY.

Chicago, April 9.—[Friend of the People.]—What can be done regarding having tin cans and rubbish removed from the alley between Keystone and Crawford avenues, in the 3900 block? No service is given here whatever. H. M.

Report is made that alley complained of is a blind alley. It was thoroughly cleaned on the 5th instant and residents were notified to place their refuse receptacles at street curb for regular collections.

JOSEPH J. BUTLER,
Deputy Superintendent of Streets.

EXEMPT AFTER FIVE YEARS.

Chicago, April 10.—[Friend of the People.]—Will the immigration authorities deport an alien who has been residing in this country more than five years and who has been found by the immigration authorities to have secured a visa in an illegal way? H. M.

You are advised that an alien residing continuously in the United States may be deported only within five years from the time of his last entry for violation of the immigration act of May, 1924. S. D. SMITH,
District Director of Immigration.

PAYABLE ONLY TO BENEFICIARY.

Chicago, April 11.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My mother owns a house. There are five heirs, the will being made so that all share equally. My mother also has an insurance policy naming me the sole beneficiary. Can any of my sisters or brothers claim the insurance money? [illegible] B.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

APRIL 17, 1864.

CAIRO.—The steamer Glendale came up from below, the first since the battle of Fort Pillow, which the rebels evacuated after capturing it and destroying everything destructible. They burned every building and ended by blowing up the walls of the fortification. It is not known in what direction Gen. Forrest marched, but we would not be surprised to hear from him in the vicinity of Memphis or Paducah soon.

WASHINGTON.—Dispatches from the Army of the Potomac state that a party of rebel cavalry attacked our pickets at Bristow station but was driven off after a brisk skirmish. The mail train with Gen. Grant aboard passed just a few minutes before the attack and it is supposed the intention was to capture him.

NEW YORK.—The Times' Army of the Potomac dispatch says that a majority of the sutlers and other citizens have left for Washington. The roads are in a passable condition and indications are there will be a speedy resumption of active service.

CAIRO.—The village of Metropolis on the Ohio river is in a state of great excitement because of bands of guerrilla cutthroats who are ranging the Kentucky border opposite, bent on conscription and plunder. Gunboats are constantly patrolling the river. Metropolis citizens for two days have been sleeping in their clothing ready either to defend themselves or decamp at a moment's notice.

CHICAGO.—Adjt. Ben W. Underwood of the 72d Illinois regiment and Miss Frank A. Parsons were married at St. Paul's church by the Rev. J. H. Tuttle.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

APRIL 17, 1899.

MANILA.—Gen. Lawton's troops have been ordered to return to Manila. All territory taken by Gen. Lawton's expedition will be evacuated. He authorized the statement at Paete today "that from the present prospect at least 100,000 troops will be necessary to pacify the islands." His chief difficulties, he says, are those of fighting the guerrillas in a tropical country. During his absence in the Santa Cruz district the rebels have been concentrating at the northern end of Lagun de Bay, near Pasig, and scouts report several thousand have gathered there.

CHICAGO.—The engagement is announced of Miss Joanna Griffin, daughter of Mrs. E. Griffin, 2024 Washington boulevard, to William J. Gillis.

CHICAGO.—Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pritchard, 7259 Coles avenue, Windsor Park, who claim to be the oldest married couple in Chicago, celebrated their sixty-third marriage anniversary yesterday amid grandchildren and great-grandchildren and a large number of friends.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

CHICAGO.—In 25 county seats and farm towns of northern Illinois and Indiana and southern Wisconsin deputy United States marshals yesterday stepped into the offices of the Milk Producers' association and served subpœnas upon the secretaries to bring to the federal grand jury here all their records and correspondence. The new milk price contract has been held by the department of justice to be a direct violation of the Sherman anti-trust law and it is claimed that every one of the 16,000 members of the association is liable to prosecution.

NEW YORK.—A Chicago pigeon, "Cher Ami," veteran of the battle of the Meuse-Argonne, has been recommended by Gen. Pershing for the D. S. C., which is probably the first time in history such a thing has happened. "Cher Ami" arrived here on the transport Ohioan. He was taken to France by Sergt. Thomas J. Klein of 2207 School street, Chicago. The pigeon's left leg was torn off by a German bullet while it was carrying to Gen. Pershing the message that the Yankees had crossed the Meuse, but "Cher Ami" arrived with the dispatch intact.

CHICAGO.—Robert S. McCormick, American diplomat and the father of Senator Medill McCormick and of Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor of THE TRIBUNE, died yesterday at his residence in Hinsdale. Death was caused by pneumonia. Mr. McCormick would have been 70 years old next July. He was appointed minister to Austria in 1901 and it was while he was serving at Vienna that the rank of the American representative there was raised to ambassador. In 1903 Mr. McCormick was named ambassador to Russia by President Roosevelt and two years later he was promoted to be ambassador to France. Ill health caused his retirement from the diplomatic service in 1907.

PUSSY WANTS A CORNER!

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 to 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

UNDEFILED COMMUTERS.

Oak Park, Ill., April 13.—In your issue of April 13 you print one of your typical editorials. I refer to the one addressed to Mr. Crysler under the caption of "A Word to Mr. Crysler."

The old, narrow minded contention that every one who makes a thin dime out of the city of Chicago must of necessity live within the city limits is still advanced. If this main contention is correct then we must insist that the greater part of the world become annexed to this great city. If we were to confine ourselves to THE TRIBUNE alone we would find a very wide and varied population receiving some of their wages from the city of Chicago.

We have been treated lately to some interesting advertising in the rotogravure sections of the paper about the lumber camps maintained in Canada by THE TRIBUNE. In view of the fact that the people of Chicago provide the money with which to pay the lumberjacks they should of necessity become citizens of Chicago.

The Tribune Tower was built with Indiana limestone. According to the narrow reasoning of the editorial writer, all men working in the quarries of Indiana that may have received any money which came from THE TRIBUNE should in return become citizens of the great metropolis and pay taxes here.

The steel for the frame work of the building was of course not mined in Chicago, therefore, the miners, the officers of the steel company, all the workers in the smelting plant, and even the train crews that have had anything to do with getting that steel to Chicago with the result that they have shared ever so slightly in the money derived from the freight paid by THE TRIBUNE—all these people, because they have secured money from Chicago with which to buy bread and butter, must become citizens and pay taxes in Chicago for their spoils politicians to squander.

This nation was founded on that great principle of freedom we all enjoy. If the people of Oak Park see fit to remain an independent unit, and are able to pay their taxes and have the mentality to govern themselves, it appears to me they should have that privilege as long as they wish to have it.

THOS. R. MOSES.

ABSENTEE GOVERNMENT.

Chicago, April 15.—The citizens' police committee, which is to convene April 29 to present a plan for the reorganization of the Chicago police department, is largely nonresident.

I ascertain that, of the 41 names published, 15 do not maintain a residence in the city. This information I got from the November, 1928, issue of the Chicago telephone directory.

What is the noble idea? Are we to be high-hatted by those who earn their living here but cannot tolerate living in our fair city? I suggest dropping these 15 names from this list and substituting those who are 100 per cent Chicagoans.

A. A. HAUSSNER.

THE REVOLT OF THE "BUMS."

George, Ia., April 12.—A voice from Ottumwa, Ia., has insulted the sovereign state of Wisconsin by calling the majority of its voters "bums." It is unnecessary for intelligent men and women to be shown the utter absurdity of dry arguments as set forth by this voice from Ottumwa.

Prohibition under its present methods of enforcement has about run its course. The majority of "bums" are now waking up and shaking off the Volsteadian shackles at the polls. There are still a lot of thinking, self-respecting citizens in this country who flatly refuse to be herded and driven as cattle in the stockyards by fanatical enforcement agents, who are usually a bunch of trigger experts preying upon their fellow men. Whenever a law permits such trigger experts to invade private homes, club the husband into insensibility, and slaughter the wife and mother, then public conscience rebels against such law. The Aurora massacre has struck present enforcement methods a death blow.

L. C. UHLAND.

RESENTS TITLE OF BUM.

Embarrass, Wis., April 2.—Kindly allow me to inform Mr. E. Morehouse that his views are all wet, although they are dry. Apparently just because many of the wets have Scandinavian names he draws the conclusion that "most of the bums who would like to do away with prohibition are foreigners." This is untrue, for there are millions of Americans who voice their opinions against Uncle Sam's grievous error—prohibition.

The query, "If they don't like the laws of this country, why don't they go back where they came from?" is entirely un-American and smacks of war time propaganda. A real American would have said, "If the laws of this country do not suit them, give them a chance at citizenship and at public expression of their views, so that they may bring about suitable changes."

I believe that most of the wets have the interests of their country at heart. Furthermore, unlike the prohibition zealots, they do not deprive others of the things for which they themselves have no use.

A. G. [illegible]

A FAMILY MATTER.

La Crosse, Wis., April 12.—There never was any one so disgusted as I was when I read the opinion of Mr. E. Morehouse in THE TRIBUNE to think that a Morehouse should have such a warped opinion of the people of Wisconsin.

The people of Wisconsin have shown that they are not hypocrites. The majority of us voted the way we drink. If we are on the water wagon, we vote dry; otherwise, we vote wet.

I am not a bum, but I do sincerely believe that more liquor is drunk now. I would, though, rather be a bum if it lifts me from the ranks of a hypocrite.

LA NORA MOREHOUSE.

TURNING IT INTO A DRY VICTORY.

West De Pere, Wis., April 8.—Now that the complete returns of the election in Wisconsin on the wet and dry issue are in we can calmly size up the results. The wets won in the referendum with a majority of about 132,000. Approximately one-half of this was due to Milwaukee, which a few years ago was the home of "the beer that made Milwaukee famous."

Returns show the majority in favor of repeal will fall considerably short of the record in the fall of 1926, when a referendum asking congress to modify the Volstead act to allow the manufacture and sale of 2.75 per cent beer carried by a margin of 172,000.

Hence we see that the wets have lost 40,000 votes in two and one-half years. At this rate it will not be many years before Wisconsin will be as dry as any state in the Union.

JOSEPHUS.

CONGESTION AT THE AIRPORT.

Chicago, April 10.—About a week ago I visited the municipal flying field. It was surely a busy place. Planes were going up and down from distant places, and also sight-seeing planes. It surely is an interesting place to visit. But it is so hard to reach.

I often wonder why the elevated is not extended to the field. Thousands of people would go there and become boosters of aviation and it would give the air traveler fast transportation, without any inconvenience, to the loop.

6 CANDY JOBBERS GET JAIL TERMS; 10 OTHERS FINED

Association Head Draws 9 Month Sentence.

Sixteen former officers and members of the Chicago Association of Candy Jobbers were sentenced to jail terms or given fines or both yesterday by Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley, for their part in the association's violations of the Sherman anti-trust laws. The heaviest penalty was imposed on Albert A. Hoffman, president of the association, who was sentenced to nine months in the Cook county jail and fined $2,000. The other sentences follow:

Richard J. Jepson, member of the board of directors, six months and $2,000 fine.

Max Goldsmith, president of the Amalgamated Benevolent Candy club, an affiliated organization, six months and $2,000 fine.

John D. Hand, secretary-treasurer, six months and $2,000 fine.

Chris Lauritsen, former director, three months and $1,000 fine.

[illegible] Bende, former treasurer, $1,000 fine.

William J. Briley, $1,000 fine.

Louis J. Korksick, $1,000 fine.

William Lawler, $1,000 fine.

John Meacham, former president, $1,000 fine.

Leroy C. Farman, $1,000 fine.

Roy S. Ralston, $1,000 fine.

James Doyle, investigator, $500 fine.

[illegible], $500 fine.

Before giving the sentences, Judge Lindley overruled a motion for a new trial on behalf of all defendants. In addition, he said: "The evidence shows that the defendants took the law in their own hands and assumed the right to dictate to others how to conduct their business."

Most of the witnesses presented by Assistant Attorney General Mary G. Connor, the government's anti-trust expert, testified to acts of terrorism committed by sluggers in behalf of the association.

15 POLICE SERGEANTS MADE LIEUTENANTS; 11 PATROLMEN PROMOTED

Police Commissioner Russell yesterday issued two orders, promoting fifteen police sergeants to the rank of lieutenant and giving the rank of sergeant to eleven patrolmen. The promotions were made from the list of eligible candidates certified to the commissioner by the civil service commission.

The new lieutenants are William J. Cusack, Walter G. Storms, Andrew B. Barry, Louis Klatzco, William J. Davern, George E. Peterson, William A. Byrne, Frank A. Johnson, Eugene A. Barry, Joseph Pieroth, James L. Devereux, George W. Barker, John M. Leonard, John Treacy, and Richard T. Lawler.

The eleven patrolmen promoted to sergeantcies are Michael J. Daly, Anthony J. Ray, James E. Stapleton, Redmond P. Gibbons, James Barrowman, Benjamin L. Gunnell, Andrew M. McLean, Michael J. Conway, William S. Baynes, Richard J. Braithwaite, and James D. Fitzgerald.

Three of the lieutenants were moved up on the original list due to credit for overseas war service. They are Devereux, Barker, and Lawler. The order was made effective at issuance.

Candidate's Father Hurt in Fall Congratulating Her

M. L. Campbell, 81 years old, 6422 Minerva avenue, suffered a fracture of his left hip yesterday when he fell down a flight of stairs in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Clara King, at 243 Center avenue, Lake Bluff, where he had gone to offer congratulations on her reëlection as village clerk. He was taken to the Alice Home hospital, Lake Forest, where his condition is said to be serious.

22 PLANE FLEET TO PARADE OVER SKY TO DETROIT

Record Air Squad to Lift 150 Passengers.

The largest fleet of airplanes ever assembled for flight from Chicago will parade across the sky from Chicago to Detroit at noon today. The mass movement of the 22 planes is being sponsored by the Gambill Motor company, Chicago distributors for the Hupmobile automobile, as a demonstration of the practical use of the airplane for commercial purposes.

Carry 150 Passengers.

Mounting singly from runways of the Municipal airport, the planes will go aloft to take a wedge shape formation stretching several miles across the sky. With its ranks in order the fleet will move downtown and roar over the loop at 100 miles an hour. Turning back it will thunder across the tip of Lake Michigan and strike out across Michigan on a nonstop flight to the motor capital, 250 miles away by air line.

The 150 passengers will be carried in twelve and fourteen passenger Ford tri-motored air liners assembled by the Stout air lines. There will be eleven of these cabin ships and convoying them will be eleven smaller craft of varying size and make.

Make Trip Under Three Hours.

Among the smaller craft are small sport planes, larger cabin planes carrying four to six passengers, biplanes, monoplanes, amphibians, and planes with open cockpits. They will parade in formation over the route to Detroit and arriving there will pour down out of the sky one at a time, landing their passengers less than three hours from the time they boarded the planes in Chicago.

An insurance policy of $1,000,000, believed to be the largest ever made for a mass flight from one point to another, has been taken out for the air trip.

AVIATION NOTES

The Boeing interests have entered the new $200,000,000 Aviation corporation. It was announced yesterday by Richard F. Hoyt, chairman of the corporation, that 50,000 shares of the holding company's capital stock had been acquired by the United Aircraft and Transport corporation, which controls Boeing Air Transport, Inc., and Pacific Air Transport, Inc. The Aviation corporation now operates transport service under mail contracts with the government in Central America, Mexico and the West Indies because of 100 per cent stock ownership in Pan-American Airways, and the American International Air Transport system. Boeing is one of a number of aviation operating and manufacturing companies which have recently become part of the Aviation corporation.

The large increase in the amount of air mail carried by the Boeing Air Transport during the first quarter of this year was announced here yesterday by officials of the transport company. A total of 376,163 pounds of mail was carried on the Chicago-San Francisco-Oakland mail route during the first quarter of 1929 as compared with 146,459 pounds during the same period last year.

The Junker company yesterday received final confirmation of its concession for the exclusive right to run a passenger air line from Bagdad to Teheran, linking up with the British air line from London to Karachi, according to a TRIBUNE cable from Berlin.

BERLIN, April 16.—(AP)—President Von Hindenburg has completely recovered from his recent attack of grippe. He has resumed his official duties.

CHICAGO TO HAVE AIRPORT ON LAKE FRONT IN MONTH

Park Board Approves Landing Beach Plans.

BY ROBERT WOOD.

Air transportation will be brought to Chicago's front yard within a month. Air travelers will board flying yachts within walking distance of the loop, eliminating an hour's ride through tangled streets to the Municipal airport. Air mail will be flown to within a few blocks of the downtown post office. Flying ships on Chicago's lake front will become as common as the gulls that soar about the harbor.

Such a prospect developed yesterday from two sources. President Edward J. Kelly and the south park commissioners placed final approval on specifications for the construction of a landing beach for amphibian planes at the foot of 8th street and construction bids will be sought immediately.

Start Air Ferry Service.

Coincident with this development a twin motored Sikorsky amphibion flying yacht flew into Chicago from New York. It was learned that the land-and-water plane was delivered to the Curtiss Flying service of the middle west for use in an airplane shuttle service between the Municipal field at 63d street and Cicero avenue and the Grant park lake front.

Although Maj. R. W. Schroeder, manager of the Curtiss service, refused to discuss the plans of the company, it was learned that trips will be made between the city's field and the 8th street dock, ferrying air passengers back and forth, meeting incoming passenger planes, bringing the travelers to the loop and vice versa. The hour's trip by motor will be made in a ten minute air hop. A second ship, an Ireland flying boat, is expected to be delivered here shortly to supplement the bigger ship in the shuttle service.

The lake front airplane dock opens the way for wider and more practical use of the airplane. A business man who misses his train will be able to board an amphibion and overtake the train. Intercity airplane travel will be cut an hour. Flying commuters from the suburbs will be able to land and depart within easy reach of offices.

Speeds Air Mail Service.

The lake front air depot is expected to bring a speedier service for the air mail. Postoffice officials will be able to close the mail a half hour later and rush the bags across the loop to the lake front to be ferried over housetops to the airport. Air mail from all parts of the country may be flown downtown and delivered shortly after offices open.

Two rows of piles will be driven fifty feet out into the lake. Between them a plank ramp will be extended from the shore to a point just below the water surface. Amphibions will land in the protected waters of the harbor, let down their steel legs and roll up the ramp to the shore on their wheels. A space 200 feet long and 100 feet wide will be roped off between the water's edge and the outer drive and within this area the planes will discharge their loads turn around and slide back into the water to anchor.

The cost of constructing the water ramp will be little more than $5,000, officials of the south parks stated yesterday. Aviation men declared that it will prove to be invaluable to Chicago's development in air transportation.

AIMEE HELPED BY JUDGE, HER MOTHER AVERS

Deposition Read at Hardy Impeachment Trial.

Sacramento, Cal., April 16.—(AP)—Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, in a deposition presented today in the impeachment trial here of Superior Judge Carlos S. Hardy of Los Angeles, stated that in her opinion the jurist's advice to her evangelist daughter, Aimee Semple McPherson, constituted legal services.

The deposition was taken recently in Oregon and was produced by the prosecution in an effort to prove that Judge Hardy rendered legal services while he was on the bench. Mrs. Kennedy was estranged from her daughter when she gave the deposition, but there have been evidences of a reconciliation since the filing of a breach of promise suit against the mother by the Rev. H. H. Clark of Seattle.

Talked on Temple Radio.

In the affidavit, Mrs. Kennedy said the jurist gave advice to Angelus temple, Los Angeles, to its pastor, Mrs. McPherson, and to her mother relative to disputes over building contracts and disputes with employés, and that he talked over the temple radio on his experiences in court.

The state senate tribunal, trying the jurist on misdemeanor charges, today decided it wants to hear read everything Mrs. Kennedy had to say in the deposition about the judge's relations with Angelus Temple.

Stop for Conferences.

This decision was reached after considerable argument and two recesses, during which the senators conferred with Lieut. Gov. H. L. Carnahan, presiding at the trial. The deposition was the object of an attack by defense attorneys from the time it was introduced at the opening of the morning session.

Prosecuting assemblymen who brought the charges seeking to remove the jurist from office contend that Hardy rendered legal services for which he received a check for $2,500. The defense contends the check was given and received as a "love offering."

BOGNOR, April 16.—For the first time since he became ill last November King George went for an automobile drive with the queen today. The outing was not announced, but the inhabitants of Bognor recognized the monarch and the streets were soon lined with people who turned the drive into a sort of triumphal procession.

FRANCE PUTS UP QUARANTINE BAR AGAINST BRITAIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 16.—A sensation was caused throughout England today by the announcement that the French authorities had imposed a quarantine against all passengers from England and will not admit any who cannot prove that they have been vaccinated within the last 60 days. This is due to the fact that last week two liners arrived in England from India with passengers afflicted with smallpox.

The order goes into effect tomorrow. There are about 2,000 passengers daily between England and France, and many travel back and forth on business twice a week. The Southern railway alone runs seven boats a day to France. The order has come so suddenly that no organization is yet available for enforcement, but it is understood that the railroad company officials will insist upon vaccination certificates before the passengers board the boats.

The ONLY ALL-STEEL REFRIGERATOR EVER BUILT!

BESIDES keeping the scientifically correct temperature always, the General Electric Refrigerator has many unique features. This apartment model has an all-steel cabinet that cannot warp and that uses less current. It has all its mechanism safely enclosed in an hermetically sealed steel casing. It is unusually quiet in operation, entirely automatic and worry-proof.

Health authorities agree that there is a definite "danger point" in the preservation of foods and this danger point is fifty degrees. 50 degrees! When the temperature rises even a degree or two above that, bacteria multiply and flourish—foods spoil and become unsafe to eat ... a positive menace to good health.

Take your own refrigerator's temperature ... at different times of the day. If it registers several degrees below fifty—under all conditions—then you will know that your food is being safely preserved. If it doesn't, you owe it to your family's health to investigate the General Electric Refrigerator.

Come in and get all the details. Our plan of conveniently spaced time payments will place one in your home.

Listen in on the General Electric Hour, broadcast every Saturday evening, 8 to 9 Central Standard Time, over the the N. B. C. network of forty-two stations including W. L. S. Chicago.

11TH CONVICTION OBTAINED IN WAR AGAINST SMOKE

Offender Is Fined $50; Other Violators Warned.

The eleventh conviction for violation of the new smoke abatement ordinance was recorded by Frank A. Chambers, deputy smoke inspector, yesterday in the case of the Illinois Lead company, 508 South Kolmar avenue. Judge Alfred O. Erickson, in sentencing the offender to pay a fine of $50, remarked that the evidence showed that there had been a "flagrant violation of the ordinance."

Third Continuance Refused.

Edward Rosenberg, an official of the company, appeared for it in court. Two continuances were granted, but Judge Erickson refused a third and concluded the trial. The sentence was lightened when Mr. Rosenberg told the court that plans have been made to eliminate the nuisance.

The testimony in the case was that the company's stack had emitted dense smoke for fourteen minutes. Officials of the concern tried to disprove the testimony of the smoke observer by bringing in evidence purporting to show that the coal used was smokeless.

Sixteen second time violators were called before Mr. Chambers yesterday and told to abate the nuisance. A third violation, they were warned, would result in legal prosecutions.

16 Violators Warned.

Those who appeared yesterday were:

New Southern hotel, 1250 South Michigan avenue.
John Adler, 650 West 47th street.
Robert White & Co., 74 West Lake street.
National Wet Wash Laundry, 749 South Cicero avenue.
F. J. Lewis Manufacturing company, 2513 South Damen avenue.
Q. R. S. Music company, 4829 South Kedzie avenue.
Giovanini Bros., 2341 West 25th street.

STATUE OF THE LATE SEN. LA FOLLETTE TO BE UNVEILED APRIL 25

Washington, D. C., April 16.—(AP)—A white marble statue of the late Senator Robert Marion La Follette Sr., covered by a United States flag has been placed in Statuary hall at the national capitol.

The statue is to be presented by a delegation of Wisconsin officials and it is scheduled to be unveiled April 25. Senator Robert M. La Follette Jr., who succeeded his father in the senate in 1925, is in charge of arrangements for the ceremonies.

The late senator served three terms as a representative in congress. He was three times elected governor of Wisconsin, and was United States senator from 1905 until the time of his death in 1925. In 1924 he was a candidate for the presidency on the independent ticket.

TRAYLOR'S WORD FREES PRISONER IN HOLDUP TRIAL

Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National bank, told Judge G. Fred Rush in the Criminal court yesterday that he could not be sure that Harry Hyter was one of the men who held him up on Oct. 25 in front of the home of John C. Hagey, 532 Barry avenue. As a result of Mr. Traylor's announcement Assistant State's Attorneys Abe Johnson and Robert Ward entered an order dismissing the robbery charge against Hyter.

Mr. Traylor said that Hyter looked and spoke like one of the robbers, but that he could not say positively that the man was the same one. At his own request Mr. Traylor was put under oath to say that he could not make a positive identification.

FOUND DEAD IN GARAGE.

George Bildhauser, 53 years old, 3317 North Cuyler avenue, a laborer, was found dead from carbon monoxide poisoning last night in the garage at the rear of his home, where he had been repairing his automobile.

RULE INJUNCTION DOESN'T PROTECT ILLEGAL BUSINESS

Injunctions obtained by gambling houses to restrain the police from raiding them do not interfere with the proper performance of police duties, Assistant Corporation Counsels James N. Kearns and William V. Daly stated yesterday. The injunction restrains the police only from interfering with legitimate business, they said.

In their statement the city's attorneys ruled as follows: "A temporary or a permanent injunction issued by a court of record which restrains the police from interfering with complainants' business in no wise prevents the police from fulfilling their duty and oath of office if there be violation of any law—city, state or national."

JAPANESE SLAYER HANGED.

REGINA, Sask., April 16.—(AP)—Imhimatsu Tokumato, Japanese, was hanged today for the murder of Kura Takato, a Japanese woman in Moose Jaw last Nov. 20.

DAWES SUBMITS DRAFT OF BUDGET TO DOMINICANS

[Copyright: 1929: By the New York Times.]

SANTO DOMINGO, April 16.—Gen. Charles G. Dawes spent two hours in a private session with President Vasquez and the entire cabinet of the republic, submitting a preliminary draft of a budget system adapted to their needs from the budget system of the United States by a group of private American citizens during the last two weeks. Gen. Dawes and his asociates expect to give final form within another week to a statement presenting the financial condition of the Dominican republic as well as a statement of the budget principles, a proposed budget law with supporting executive orders, and proposed financing and accounting laws.

It is understood that the president and cabinet are enthusiastic about the report being steered clear of politics by Gen. Dawes, who has confined economy and efficiency plans to be established in the future.

This is a notable achievement, in view of the history of this republic, where governments heretofore have been interested chiefly in spending.

ATTORNEY OPENS NEW ATTACK ON MUSEUM PROJECT

Asks Injunction to Stop Use of Bond Funds.

Further legal tactics to obstruct the construction of the $8,000,000 Industrial museum were launched yesterday by Attorney William E. Furlong, who has previously opposed the use of bond issue funds for that purpose by the south park board.

Mr. Furlong, acting as a taxpayer, filed suit in the Superior court for an injunction to restrain the park board from using the $5,000,000 in bonds authorized four years ago by the voters to rebuild the old Fine Arts building of World's Fair days. Judge Oscar Hebel today will hear Mr. Furlong's demands for an immediate temporary injunction against the board.

Ballot Description Recalled.

When the $5,000,000 bond issue was proposed to the voters the project was described on the ballots as a restoration of the Fine Arts building, in exact replica, to be used as a convention hall, industrial museum, exhibition hall, and for similar purposes.

After the voters had overwhelmingly approved the bond issue Attorney Furlong attacked it in the courts on the ground that the park board had no legal authority to build such a museum. The Supreme court knocked out Mr. Furlong's plea, but years of delay had been caused.

Meanwhile, Julius Rosenwald, after visiting a number of famous industrial museums in Munich, Berlin and Vienna, was so impressed with their value to the public that he agreed to endow an industrial museum, to be housed in the Fine Arts building, and he set aside $3,000,000 to equip the museum.

Bonds Sold; Fear Rejection.

Plans for the building were designed and last Saturday the bonds were sold to the highest bidder, bringing a price of $95.20 per $100 bond. Delivery has not been made, however, and it is feared that unless the suit is dismissed the buyer will decline to go through with the deal.

Furlong asserts in his new bill that the voters approved the bond issue for a convention hall, and that the bonds could not be used to build a museum. He also declares that spending the money in the manner proposed would be diverting public funds to a private purpose.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

SCHOOLS WOULD INCREASE DEBT TO $80,356,000

Figures Show Board Now Owes $64,100,000.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The board of education now has $64,100,000 in tax anticipation warrants outstanding against its educational account. The board has decided to appeal to the state legislature to increase the educational tax rate from 96 cents to $1.47 per $100 valuation. That means a boost in the tax levy of $21,675,000, against which the board plans to borrow 75 per cent, or $16,256,000. This amount, added to the $64,100,000 outstanding, would make a total of $80,356,000 in school tax anticipation warrants.

If the appeal to the legislature is successful the school trustees will avoid a referendum on the tax boost. The trustees are now empowered to increase their tax rate, but the law requires the approval of the voters as a prerequisite.

Rely on Public Sentiment.

The figures to support the proposed added expenditures, especially the last $16,256,000, have not yet been given the public. It is reported that the trustees are relying on public sentiment to get financial relief from the legislature on the ground that such relief is necessary to keep the schools open.

The formal official statement of the board on the needs of the public schools for this year has not been made. No budget has been passed, although a third of the school year is over. Not all of the recommendations for curtailing school expenses have been acted on.

A month ago H. Wallace Caldwell, president of the board, sent each department head a letter saying that the anticipated deficit for this year is $11,000,000 and then asked each department head how much he could save without injuring the service. James Todd, school attorney, replied that $80,000 of the proposed expenditure of $125,000 for the law office could be eliminated without injury to the service. When that letter was presented last week, a vigorous attack was started against Todd. The finance committee of the board will hold a special meeting today to decide on this proposed retrenchment.

Last year the board went to the banks to borrow on tax anticipation warrants for the educational fund. The bankers decided that it was safe to lend the board $23,750,000, which they did. This, added to $6,850,000 which the city had lent the board from its surplus fund, made a total of $30,600,000 borrowed last year on tax warrants.

But the trustees wanted more money. Last December they went to the banks again. The bankers declined to lend the board any more. They explained that the margin of safety on tax collections was too small to warrant an increase of the loan.

At that time a report was spread that the schools would be forced to close if the board did not get more cash. They wanted $4,500,000. Mr. Caldwell and other trustees appealed to the city to lend its surplus cash in its trust and other unneeded funds. An opinion was supplied by the city law department saying that such action would be legal.

Controller Schmidt Balks.

But City Controller George K. Schmidt balked. "It may be legal, but it's not safe business," he said. Finally Schmidt consented on the understanding that as soon as it was legal to issue 1929 tax anticipation warrants the board would issue them and substitute them for the $4,500,000 of 1928 tax warrants.

This year the board went to the city again to borrow from the surplus funds. Controller Schmidt agreed to the loan, but told the trustees they must substitute 1929 warrants for the 1928 warrants, according to the agreement of last fall. The trustees got $4,000,000 from the city, but did not make the substitution of tax warrants.

A little later the trustees asked the city for a loan of $5,000,000 more from the city's surplus funds. Then Schmidt said:

"You don't get another dollar until you give me 1929 safe tax warrants for the 1928 warrants."

The board made good and got $5,000,000. Recently it has obtained $400,000 more.

So on the face of the record the board now has outstanding $6,850,000 in tax warrants which it owes the city and $23,750,000 which it owes the banks from last year. On this year's tax warrants the board owes the city $13,500,000, has borrowed $20,000,000 from the banks, and is now asking the legislature for authority, without a referendum, to levy $21,675,000 in added taxes, on which the board can issue tax warrants for $16,256,000—a total of $49,756,000 for 1929. Add to this the $30,600,000 of 1928 tax warrants outstanding and the total is $80,356,000.

JIM TULLY AND WIFE REUNITED; CASE DISMISSED

Hollywood, Cal., April 16.—[Special.]—Jim Tully, novelist, and Margaret Myers Tully, his wife, have ordered dismissal of the divorce actions which each filed against the other.

Mr. and Mrs. Tully are together again at the Spanish mansion which the novelist built two years ago.

Tully married Margaret Myers, then a school girl, in January, 1926. Mrs. Tully filed the first of a series of papers in June, 1928, asking a divorce on grounds of cruelty. The couple were reconciled when Mrs. Tully went to a local hospital for an operation last July, but in September, Mrs. Tully pressed her demand for divorce again with a complaint that accused Jim of beating her.

"Starting with the brand new car," continues this owner, "I achieved the remarkable record of driving 3500 miles through the most hilly sections of Pennsylvania and West Virginia without having to make a single gear shift because of lack of power. ...

"I have tried to climb those same hills with other cars on previous trips but have never turned the trick without shifting gears. My powerful 1929 Buick pulled every hill in high!"

There, in a nutshell, you have one reason why more than twice as many people purchase Buicks as any other automobile priced above $1200—why thousands of glowing tributes are pouring into the Buick factories, as more and more motorists "get behind the wheel and get the facts" about Buick performance.

Come, take the wheel! Drive this epic car. Prove its superiority, not only in hill-climbing, but in getaway, swiftness, smoothness and reliability as well. And then assure yourself the most glorious motoring you have ever had. Buy a Buick!

"My 1929 Buick is the greatest performing car I have ever had hold of ... It negotiates the roughest roads and most difficult hills in high gear and with power to spare."

McCLINTOCK WILL CENTER OF NEW LEGAL SKIRMISH

Shepherd, Relatives, and Fiancee Represented.

New legal proceedings were begun yesterday concerning disposition of the estate of young William Nelson McClintock, millionaire orphan, whose death in 1924 occasioned the trial of William Darling Shepherd on a charge of murder through administering typhoid germs to McClintock. Shepherd was acquitted and claimed the estate, estimated at $1,500,000, by virtue of a will made on the youth's 21st birthday, drawn by Shepherd, who is a lawyer and whose wife was the legal guardian of McClintock.

Fiancée Willed Allowance.

The will gave the entire estate to Shepherd, excepting an allowance of $8,000 a year to Miss Isabelle Pope, McClintock's fiancée. Judge Henry Horner refused to admit this will to probate because of Shepherd's part in its making. The Supreme court held that the will should be admitted to probate without, however, passing on the question of undue influence.

The present suit, on hearing before Circuit Judge Philip L. Sullivan, is an attempt to have the will voided because of Shepherd's relationship as foster father to the boy and his action as an attorney in drawing up a will, naming himself as chief beneficiary, and having it signed in his home and witnessed by two of his servants. It is filed in the names of ten claimants to relationship with young McClintock, who disagree among themselves, and in behalf of Miss Pope, who charges Shepherd with fraud in preventing her deathbed wedding to McClintock.

Claims Widow's Share.

Miss Pope's attorneys contend she is entitled to a widow's award, but she and the ten who claim relationship have an agreement regarding division of the estate if either side is successful. An agreement of all of them with Shepherd has been under negotiation for some time.

KENOSHA STRIKERS ASK MACHINE GUN TO DEFEND UNION HOME

Kenosha, Wis., April 16.—[Special.]—Permission to place a machine gun in the knitters' union headquarters in Kenosha was asked of the city council by a committee of the strikers in a petition presented last night.

The union charges that such steps are necessary to "safeguard the headquarters against attacks" and also asks permission to keep a supply of tear gas bombs. The petition cites recent attacks on the headquarters of the strikers in which two windows were broken, and charges that these attacks were made by Allen-A workers.

The general strike committee, headed by Maceo Kueny, presented the petition after 150 members of the hosiery workers staged a torchlight parade to the city hall.

The city council denied a claim presented by the Allen-A company for damages of $3,000 from the city for property loss when an Allen-A warehouse was damaged by a bomb last October. The company declared the damage came after repeated demands on police for more protection.

German Merchants Here to Study Chicago Stores

Twenty-seven retail merchants from various cities in Germany will begin a two days' inspection of the principal department stores of Chicago today, for the purpose of comparing American ways of transacting business with those of their own country. The delegation, sent out by the Hamburg chamber of commerce, and headed by Walter Bucky, arrived at the Bismarck hotel last night after visits to New York, Philadelphia and Washington.

HENRY BANNARD WILL BE BURIED THIS AFTERNOON

Funeral services for Henry Clay Bannard, 84 years old, retired Chicago business man, who died on Tuesday in his apartment at the Congress hotel, will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at Graceland cemetery chapel. He is survived by three daughters.

Mr. Bannard came to Chicago in 1869, after graduating from Yale university. After practicing as a lawyer, he entered the wholesale grocery business and later became associated with the United Breweries company. He retired in 1899.

He was a governing member of the Chicago Art institute, and a member of the Chicago Historical society; the Chicago Yale club; the University clubs of Chicago and New York, and the Mid Day club.

MEXICAN ARMY STARTS FINAL DRIVE ON REBELS

Insurgents Isolated in State of Sonora.

BY JOHN CORNYN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, April 16.—Chapultepec castle announced today that all parts of Mexico held by the rebels five weeks ago, amounting to about one-third of the republic, with the exception of the state of Sonora, are now dominated by the government and are peaceful and orderly. The states returned to government control are Vera Cruz, Hidalgo, Guanajuato, Coahuila, Nuevo Leon, Chihuahua, Tepic and Sinaloa.

In Sonora, the last piece of national territory held by the rebels, the government holds Naco, on the American border, and Guaymas on the Gulf of California.

The federal military machine today continued to close in on the rebel forces now concentrated in Sonora. Gen. Juan Almazan began to march toward Gen. Gonzalo Escobar's retreating army with 6,000 men, while Gen. Jaime Carrillo's forces on the Pacific coast were concentrating at Bamoa, an old Indian town forty-three miles from San Blas, Sinaloa.

Rebels Quit San Blas.

The rebels under Gens. Roberto Cruz and Ramon Iturbe began a hurried exit from San Blas yesterday when rebel scouting planes reported that the cavalry of Gen. Talamante was moving northward in an effort to cut the railway north of the city.

Gen. Lazoro Cardenas reports that Gen. Escobar, at Navajoa, state of Sonora, at the eastern end of the Yaqui country, was attempting to induce the remaining Yaquis in Sonora to join the rebel forces. He also has been in other parts of the state attempting to drum up volunteers to take the place of the numerous deserters.

A band of several hundred Cristeros yesterday entered San Martin, Jalisco. The mayor, Eusebio Flores, was captured. After looting the town and gathering all the arms and ammunition and exacting forced loans, the rebels withdrew, taking Señor Flores with them to Santa Maria, where he was shot after "a military trial."

Fierce Battle in Nayarit.

From El Oro, state of Nayarit, comes word of a battle between 300 rebels and the home defense guards of the town. The local garrison had taken advanced positions behind natural defenses at the edge of the town. For two hours the battle raged, until the advance positions of the defenders were taken. The home guards then intrenched themselves on the flat roof of the town hall and three other buildings.

Until nightfall the rebels continued the attack. Several times they reached the center of the town, only to be driven out by murderous rifle and machine gun fire. At dark the rebels withdrew. At daybreak they made another attempt and the fight continued until 9 a. m., when rebel spies reported that federal cavalry was riding rapidly toward El Oro. The rebels hurriedly retired, leaving over 100 dead.

Rebels Free Two Americans.

Nogales, Ariz., April 16.—(AP)—Two American residents of Nogales, Ariz., who were arrested in Nogales, Sonora, Sunday night and held as Mexican federal spies, have been released by the rebels and sent back into the United States, it was learned this morning. The men are Joe Ohensorgen, an oil company employé, and Rafael Bereiarano, dairy owner.

'Rubber Heels,' Rustic Comedy, Amuses Elmer

J. P. McEvoy Skit Finds Appreciative Listener.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

There was rustic comedy and catchy music galore in front of the microphone, and smiles, laughter, and amusement aplenty in front of the loud speakers as the radio dramatization of "Rubber Heels," by J. P. McAvoy, came rolling in from New York through W-G-N and chain stations, 8 to 9 last evening.

A fellow from rural parts is in a New York barber shop getting a tonsorial refurnishing, a shine, and a manicure, and the while relating to the three attendants the story of a musical show he had seen. The conversation, also the dialogue and music of the show, is smoothly and skillfully done. This unique story as a radio play was concisely arranged and most entertaining.

There was a very fine program by a group of May festival choristers at WLW, Cincinnati, 8 to 8:30, giving a foretaste of some of the music that will be sung at the Cincinnati May festival, opening May 7.

The Ukrainian Chorus of Chicago, George Benetzky directing, WLS, 8:30 to 9, gave us an entire concert of Ukrainian folk music, and this kind of program is always of interest. The musical material was new to American ears, and even the singing was different from that to which we are accustomed.

Alfred Wathall's Musical Mosaics of Scotland, Ireland and Wales, from W-G-N, 9:30 to 10, played by the station's symphony orchestra, was one of the prettiest orchestral creations we have heard for a long time.

C. A. Youngquist, Pioneer in Albany Park, Is Dead

August Youngquist, 70 years old, real estate and insurance dealer and an Albany Park resident for 45 years, who died on Monday at his home, 5249 North Christiana avenue, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Swedish Evangelical Mission church, Spaulding and Christiana avenue, with interment in Rosehill cemetery. Born in Sweden, Youngquist came to Chicago at the age of 16, worked for a time as a laborer, and as a young man established a truck farm at Montrose and Kedzie avenues. He was for many years an Albany Park commissioner.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, April 16.—President Portes Gil tonight made a nationwide appeal for obliteration of the national vice of intemperance, which he said was "rooted in the greater part of peasants and laborers."

"We cannot dignify the home and laborers of Mexico," he said, "while alcoholism undermines the physical and moral forces of our men and destroys family life and leaves degenerate children to stand in the way of the greatness of the nation."

WHAT WILL HOOVER DO ABOUT LIQUOR?
What would the McBrides and Cannons have him do? What would the people do if Prohibition really prohibited? Suppose the drys attempted to jail every home brewer—what would happen?
Read the answer in J. O. Monroe's book
THE END OF PROHIBITION
already a startling success. It pictures Prohibition with the lid screwed down to the last can of malt extract; the explosion which follows; and the final return to sanity and self-government. A logical discussion by a thinker who rates the Bill of Rights above the Volstead act.

FILIPINO SENATOR PLEADS FOR FAIR DEAL FROM U. S.

Says Timberlake Plan Is Not Sportsmanlike.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.

[Copyright: 1929: By The Chicago Tribune.]

MANILA, Philippine Islands, April 16.—Senator Elpido Quirino, representing southern Ilocos, the chief products of which are sugar and tobacco which go almost exclusively to America, strongly resents the Timberlake resolution in congress, because he says it lacks the elements of equality and puts the island entirely at the mercy of the United States.

He is also opposed to Filipino emigration to America on the ground that such a type of Filipino is more needed in the islands.

The Timberlake resolution limits the free admission of Philippine sugar to the United States.

"The Timberlake resolution lacks the elements of a square deal, and in fact is not a sporting proposition," Senator Quirino said.

Japanese Goods Cheaper.

"America has been made a natural market for the Philippines. We were not afraid of a discontinuance of tariff relations, but as long as the present political relations remain we must receive equal treatment.

"Japanese and German goods are cheaper here, yet the Filipino prefers American. We are unable to declare a traffic autonomy without American approval. It is not a sporting proposition to free American products from insular duty while regarding Philippine products in the United States as foreign.

"We are getting seventy per cent of our imports from America, yet our exports to America are only two per cent of the total imports of the United States. The reciprocity relation is thus one to thirty-five, hence we are in a helpless position if taxed as a foreigner.

No Restrictions on U. S. Goods.

"Already in order to enter duty free certain Philippine products cannot contain more than twenty per cent of foreign material, while American manufactures enter the Philippines without a single restriction. The present tariff relation, therefore, is most disadvantageous, and most undesirable to Filipinos. As long as the present political conditions remain, our exports to America are entitled to identical treatment with that given American products entering the Philippines.

"Why consider us foreign in limiting or taxing our products, and as subject people regarding the importation of American goods? Of course, the best and only satisfactory arrangement is complete separation from American government. Should this be impossible the next best step is tariff autonomy.

FRANCE EXPELS SPY WHO SAYS HE PUT U. S. IN WAR

Double Crossed Many Nations, Claim.

BY JAY ALLEN.

[Copyright: 1929: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, April 16.—Aleister Crowley, English mystery man, who is reputed to be the head of a world wide black magic cult and who boasts of engaging in espionage activities during the war with the purpose of encouraging German submarines to sink American vessels so that America might join the allies, was today given 24 hours by the French government to leave French soil.

The sinister cabalist, whom the French have finally decided is an undesirable visitor, is the center of a weird string of legends which include tales of his burning women alive and drinking the blood of tiny infants. During the war when he was supposed to be attached to the British intelligence service, he double crossed half a dozen governments so successfully that no one has ever been able to learn for certain which one he was working for. A large portion of his spying activities were carried on in America.

Admits Being Master of Magic.

Although Crowley readily admits that he was a spy and that he is a master in the practices of black magic, he declares that the stories of his wanton slaughter of women and babies is untrue.

"The expulsion order and the slanderous stories on my character do not worry me," the magician declared from his sick bed tonight. "Magic is the sole thing in life and lifts the soul above such petty annoyances."

As an afterthought and with a malicious twinkle in his eye, he added, "I will not leave France tomorrow."

Sought to Involve U. S.

Although the British accuse Crowley of being in the employ of the Germans during the war, the magician declares that he was actually double crossing the Germans in order to work for England. According to his boast his main purpose was to bring the United States into the war through egging on the Germans to torpedo American vessels. He also claims the violently anti-British articles that he wrote during the war were merely intended to fool the Germans.

Among Crowley's exploits have been a visit to Tibet, climbing of the Himalayas, and a trip on foot across China. Included in the expulsion order are his fiancée, Mme. Ferrari de Miramar, his Nicaraguan secretary, and Israel Regardi, an American.

EROSION PERILS VICTORIA FALLS IN SOUTH AFRICA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, April 16.—The future of Victoria falls, on the Zambesi river in Rhodesia, is in the balance, the director of the geological survey said today, owing to the rapid erosion of the western cataract. It is pointed out that as more erosion goes on there more water is taken from the rest of the falls, which will make a new course and alter the whole appearance of the falls. The position is made even more acute by the fact that there has been an appreciable recession of the main lip of the falls during the last 22 years.

(Victoria falls vie with Niagara falls in splendor and surpass them in height. The width of the chasm into which the fall is precipitated is about 1,860 yards. What is known as the main fall is 573 yards across. The falsl were discovered by David Livingstone in 1855. A great span railroad bridge, the most elevated structure of its kind in the world, with the rails 420 feet above the water, has been constructed across the gorge immediately below the falls.)

Yeast rids the body of constipation poisons —says Health Director of Los Angeles

WELL-KNOWN HEALTH OFFICER of Los Angeles, Calif.; for eight years Health Commissioner of Portland, Oregon; former lecturer on Public Health at the University of Oregon Medical School; for five years connected with the St. Louis General Hospital; Vice-president, Western Branch of American Public Health Ass'n.; member, Los Angeles County Medical Ass'n.; past-president, Medical Society of Portland, Oregon.

"Constipation is the bane of existence—the enemy of the human race. Yeast relieves constipation by stimulating the intestine, not by irritating it. It benefits the entire system by eliminating the poisons and waste products of the body . . . Yeast is an easily digested food with medicinal value."

George Parrish M.D.

DR. GEORGE PARRISH

From years of experience Dr. Parrish concludes that "constipation is the bane of existence—the enemy of the human race." To combat the poisons from clogged intestines he advocates the corrective food, fresh yeast. In a recent survey in the United States, half the doctors reporting said they prescribed fresh yeast for constipation and related ills.

Fleischmann's Yeast is fresh. Unlike dried or killed yeast it contains millions of living, active yeast plants which, in their passage through the intestine, purify the whole system; check the spread of poisons. Digestion improves; complexion clears. Stamina and resistance are increased.

Eat three cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast every day, one before each meal or between meals, plain or in water, cold or hot (not scalding). To get full benefit from yeast you must eat it regularly and over a sufficient period of time.

Buy 2 or 3 days' supply at a time and keep in any cool, dry place. At all grocers and many leading cafeterias, lunch counters and soda fountains. Begin now and know what real health and happiness can be.

SAM GRAY.

St. Louis, Mo., April 16.—The American league opening was just another day for the White Sox. They were absent as hitters and they were remiss in their duties as fielders, so they went tumbling down in defeat, 3 to 1, before the snappy Browns. The battle probably had a few thrills for the 4,000 inaugural customers, but none for the losers, who trailed from the start.

What the Chicagoans can't blame on themselves they can charge to the account of Sam Gray, who is mentioned as old Sam because he looks that way. Old Sam picked up the ball just as he dropped it last September and threw in exactly the way the Sox did not want it thrown. He mixed this with that and that with this and after it had gone on for nine innings the Blackburne athletes were the possessors of only five hits, three of which came in the last two innings.

Errors Aid Browns.

Carried down in the wreck of the afternoon was Tommy Thomas, the pride of the Sox staff. Tommy hurled well enough at times, but mistakes popped up to combat him at critical moments and he himself offended once in this respect. He committed a balk that led to the Browns' first run in the opening inning, but despite the rare error on his part he struggled valiantly in the rest of the distance only to see the affair slip from him gradually. A fumble by Cissell let the second run home and a muff by Metzler accounted for the third.

Even though the difference in the totals of hits produced was slight, Gray hardly deserved to get anything less than victory. Not more than three balls were hit solidly and these were the only three of the Sox five blows that were legitimate. At other times he had the Sox popping up or driving 'em into the ground so that infielders could snare them with ease. On the other hand the St. Louis batters were whistling them about the premises continually, sometimes safe and occasionally into the hands of a fielder who happened to be in the right place.

Watwood Learns Things.

Gray was a particular pain to the middle portion of Blackburne's batting order. He kept Kerr hitless in four attempts. He restricted Clancy to one pass in four appearances. He made Reynolds look feeble in four efforts, prevented Kamm from producing anything more than a pass and showed Young Watwood some pitching the youngster never before had seen. Twice Watwood was induced to sit down on strikes, once he tapped one to the pitcher, and in his fourth trip hoisted a foul near third. Mr. Gray was what you might call clever.

During the first seven innings of the game Metzler was the only visitor able to get a square hold on anything Gray threw. Metzler singled cleanly to left with two gone in the third and stole second but died there. The only other blow in these same seven rounds was a bunt that Cissell rolled along the first base line in the fifth. The ball hit the bag just as Blue was about to pick it up and bounced away for a hit. This bit of luck gave the Sox a runner with none out, but the next three batters couldn't even get the ball out of the infield.

Blue Scores on Wild Pitch.

The only reason the Sox were able to dodge the humiliation of shutout on their opening appearance was that Autry hit one squarely in the eighth. He opened the round with a whistling liner that bumped the right field concrete for two bases. Thomas' infield out moved him to third, which was

THE GUMPS—THE SONG OF THE POETS

Spring Gentle Spring!
Every fibre of Tom Carr's body is attuned to nature—
A new life dawns before him—The sap of Spring flows through his veins—His blood tingles with the tonic of Hope—
The violet scented air—the chirp of the robins—the gay song of the lark—the soft whispers of the balmy breezes—the drone of the bees in the cornfield and the tinkling echo of the babbling brook—
All harmonize with a responsive chord in Tom's being—all blend together into a melodious one-word refrain—
"Mary! Mary! Mary!"
OH HAPPY TOM—
THRICE HAPPY TOM!
IT TOOK US A LONG TIME TO GET THEM—TOM
THAT WAS A GOOD SHOT DAN—
I MUST HAVE PUT A THOUSAND ARROWS IN HIM—
IT WON'T BE LONG NOW
Wealth alone is not Tom's idea of a foundation for happiness—
He has other dreams—a golden future in a kingdom where the heart rules and love abides—

PIRATES' OPENING.

FRIEND DON: Well, Don, you said to go out and write something about the Cubs' opening, so I prepared to tell about their first victory of the season, but there wasn't any victory. If I were like a regular baseball writer who, when it rains and there isn't any baseball game, just writes a few words that it rained and goes home, I would go home.

But if the Cubs didn't open the baseball season much, the Pirates did. I don't want you to think I'm not interested in my work, so I'll tell you briefly about the Pirates' opening. But first, Don, I want to say that if that was "Murderers' Row" I saw out there in Cub uniforms, it was condemned Murderers' Row, so far as yesterday was concerned.

And when I was coming out of the ball park, Don, I saw Eddie Burns, who's a regular baseball reporter, and I said, "Eddie, those Cubs looked pretty good, even if they didn't win," and Eddie said, "Well, they can't pitch Burleigh Grimes against us every day." That gave me something to think about, Don. Eddie is absolutely right, and perhaps it is just as well they can't pitch Burleigh against us every day. At least, that's the way I feel about it.

Now about this Pirates' opening, Don. Well, there were 50,000 people besides you, Eddie, Quin Ryan, and me, and we don't really count, because we went in on passes. And the thing that struck me was that nearly all those 50,000 remained until the last half of the ninth inning, although we went into the stretch 4 to 1 against us with hardly a chance. And you know what happened, Don, just as well as I do, and how near we came to pulling it out.

As I look at it, Don, we might have won that ball game because we had a lot of tough luck; but, of course, if you look at it the Pirates also had some tough luck, and besides that they played smart baseball and they did some fine fielding that cut off our chances. And principally they got four runs while we "compiled"—compiled is always a good word in baseball—only three.

Of course, that's only one game, but I don't get much consolation out of that because a game won now is just as good as one along in September, when you are battling for the flag. Now it's nothing to be discouraged about, but I was all set to write about victory and the Cubs' opening, so if you don't mind I'll not write any more about the Pirates' opening, because you will be crowded tonight, anyway.

It always sort of hurts my feelings when you trim my story to make it fit in between the bottom of a cartoon and the top of a display ad, although I know you can't leave out the cartoon or the display ad because you have a family, too, and want to keep right on working to support them.

So let's go out again soon some day when Burleigh Grimes isn't pitching. Regards. HARVEY T. WOODRUFF.

BAMBINO WEDS EX-FOLLIES GIRL AT EARLY HOUR

Rushes Widow to Altar Ahead of Time Set.

New York, April 17.—(AP)—Babe Ruth and Mrs. Claire Hodgson, former actress, were married this morning at a nuptial mass in St. Gregory's Roman Catholic church. The ceremony was at 5:55 a. m., 35 minutes ahead of the time as announced last night in Ruth's behalf.

Despite the moving up of the hour, the church was well filled and a crowd stood about the entrance in a drizzle of rain to see the famous ball player and his bride as they emerged from the church. The bride was clad in a purple costume and hat and wore a fur coat.

Although Ruth made no announcement, friends said no wedding trip was planned and that the home run hitter would be in uniform with the Yankees if the weather permitted a ball game today.

The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. George H. Lovell, old friends of both of them. There was no music at the ceremony. Two altar boys who served the mass were promised autographed baseballs by Ruth.

BABE RETICENT ABOUT IT.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 16.—There being no ball games in the eastern zone of either major league today, Babe Ruth made news. Mr. Ruth, a widow-man of four months, will be married at half past six tomorrow morning if he does not marry before that. The girl is Claire Hodgson, a widow who was once in the Ziegfeld show.

The Babe seemed a little upset by the imminence of the wedding and did not want to tell when or where the ceremony would take place, but his manager, Christy Walsh, bethought himself of the unpleasant effect which this reticence might have on the sport writers and photographers, and got out a statement. It was a very refined statement, referring to the Babe throughout as Mr. Ruth. It said:

"To all newspaper editors and news picture syndicates:

"Mr. George Herman (Babe) Ruth and Mrs. Claire Hodgson will be married Wednesday, April 17, 1929.

Anxious to Avoid Publicity.

"For personal and family reasons, Mr. Ruth was anxious to avoid notoriety and publicity. It was his intention to be married secretly tomorrow morning, but after considering all angles, the interest of the public, and, as an appreciation of the consideration that has always been shown him by the newspaper writers and photographers, Mr. Ruth has authorized the following announcement to the press:

"Mrs. Hodgson and Mr. Ruth will be married Wednesday morning at 6:30 mass by the Rev. Father Hughes at St. Gregory's church, 133 West 90th street, New York.

"In return for this announcement Mr. Ruth requests that no attempt be made to obtain photographs at their homes or elsewhere until after the ceremony."

Babe's Third "Saver."

Mrs. Hodgson now takes rank along with Walsh and Arthur McGovern, the physical trainer, as one who saved Babe Ruth from improvidence, evil companions, late hours, and deleterious beverages.

Mr. Walsh saved him first, several years ago. He compelled the Babe to put away a certain proportion of his earnings and is supposed to have raised enough to keep him in the necessities forever upon his retirement from baseball.

Then Mr. McGovern saved him on the physical side, compelling him to eat fewer hot dogs and less pie.

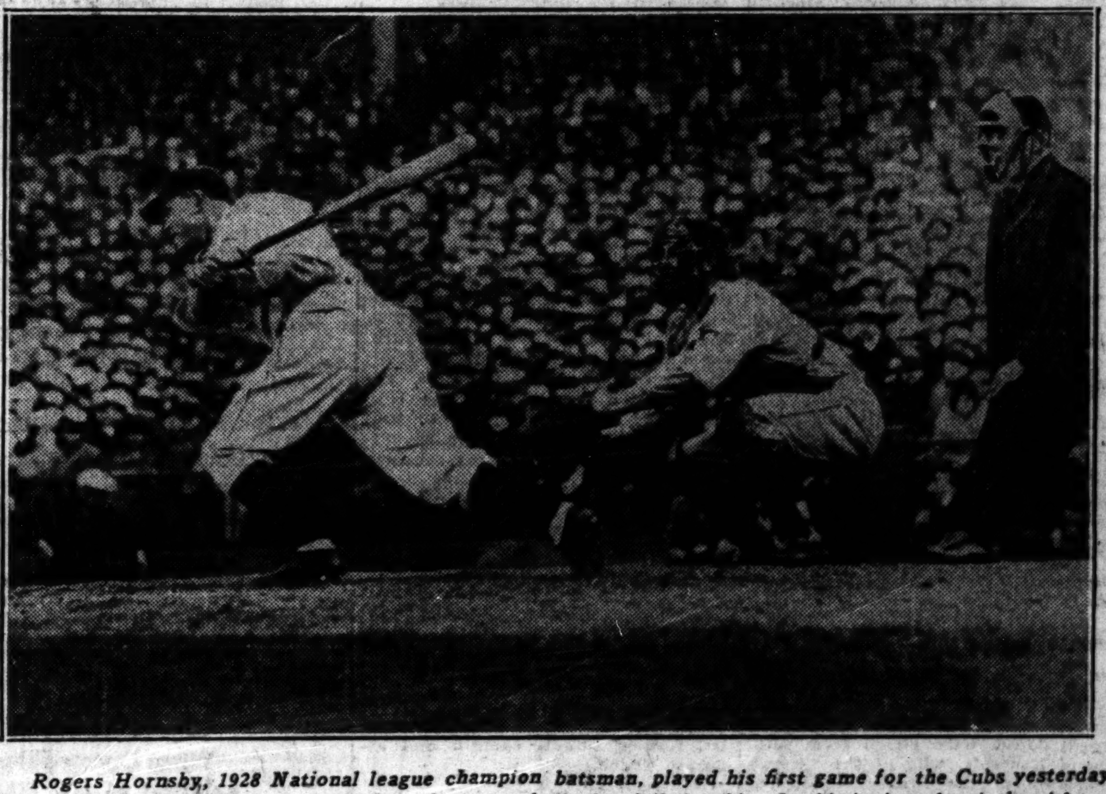
So between them, the committee on the salvation of Babe Ruth seems to have completed the job.

BURLEIGH AND HIS SPITTER! TOO BAD

Cliff Heathcote, who batted for Charley Root in the seventh inning of the Cubs-Pirates season opener yesterday, is out at second base. Heathcote walked to start the inning, but English bounced to Sheely, who threw to Adams for the force play. Adams' return throw was too late to get Woody for a two way killing. [TRIBUNE Photos.]



Rogers Hornsby, 1928 National league champion batsman, played his first game for the Cubs yesterday. In five times at the plate he drew three bases on balls, but failed to hit. In this inning, the ninth, with one run home and Beck on second and Cuyler on first, Rajah forced Kiki at second base.

Reigh Count's O.K., but His Shoes Aren't

BY FRENCH LANE.

There isn't anything wrong with Reigh Count in England, despite two defeats which he has suffered, according to a cablegram which came to Chicago yesterday from John D. Hertz, owner of the American turf champion.

But there may be something faulty about the kind of metal shoes Reigh Count wore in his first two engagements across the Atlantic.

"In his first start we realized something was wrong but could not account for it when he fell back after racing prominently in the early stages," Mr. Hertz cabled. "But in his race last Saturday we noticed that every time he landed in the turf he slipped back a few inches. It threw him off his stride and made it easy for his lightly weighted English rivals to scamper on ahead of him.

"It isn't the fault of the plater who put the shoes on Reigh Count for we all thought he would run better in the plates to which he became accustomed in America. But they apparently do not afford him the solid footing, particularly when the going is heavy, to which he has become accustomed. In his next start Reigh Count will run in the same kind of plates his English rivals wear."

The Chicago owner of the champion declared Reigh Count was in fine condition and not overweight. "We still have an eye on the Ascot cup and are confident Reigh Count will redeem himself," Mr. Hertz said.

It will be recalled that the English handlers of Papyrus made the mistake of using the wrong style of shoes on that great colt when he raced Zev over a muddy track at Belmont Park in the international struggle back in 1923. Papyrus slipped at every stride and many spectators believed he might have beaten the American champion had he been wearing the same sort of plates.

POLICE ARREST TWO GAMBLERS AT CUBS PARK

Two men were arrested by the Town Hall police as they were making a bet in the Cubs ball park. They are Frank Weinberg, 34, Park Lane hotel, 2842 Sheridan road, and Jacob Rosenberg, 26, 4826 North Tripp avenue.

Policemen Eugene Piggott and John Peterson, detailed at the park, saw the two leave their seats and go below the grandstand. Piggott recognized Weinberg, who, he says, is a gambler. The policemen followed them and saw one hand money to the other. They were taken to the station and booked on charges of gambling.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

BY DON MAXWELL

[With apologies to Ernest L. Thayer and his famous Casey.]

THE outlook wasn't brilliant for McCarthy's Cubs today,
Clung to the hope that springs eternal in the ball fan's breast.

◆

And Hornsby, the great rajah, walked; not bad at all.
And when the dust was lifted and folks saw what had occurred,
There was Cuyler sprinting homeward and Hornsby threatening third.

◆

Grimm then popped to Bartell and the stands let go a moan,
But the Cuban, Mike Gonzales, got a hit past Burleigh's dome.
The play was getting hotter and the Pirates growing cold.
Grimes it seemed was slipping, and the Cubs were getting bold.

◆

From fifty thousand throats and more there rose a lusty yell;
It shook the red brick firehouse, it rattled on the L;
It knocked upon the flagpole and recoiled upon the flats—

There was ease in Hartnett's manner, as he stepped into his place;
There was pride in Hartnett's bearing and a grin on Hartnett's face;
And when, responding to the cheers, he lightly doffed his hat,

◆

And Hartnett stood awatching it in haughty grandeur there.
"That ain't my style," said Hartnett. "Strike one," the Catfish said.

◆

From the bleachers, black with people, there went up a muffled roar,
Like the rising of the storm waves on stern Lake Michigan's shore,
"Hit it, bang a homer!" shouted Cahill in the stands;

He took his stance within the box, and bade the game go on.
A signal to the pitcher, and once more the spheroid flew,
But Hartnett swung a mighty swing, and the umpire said: "Strike two."

◆

"Boo!" cried the maddened thousands, and the echo answered "Boo!"
And they knew that Hartnett wouldn't fan the atmosphere again.

He pounds with cruel violence his bat upon the plate,
And now old Burleigh holds the ball, and now he lets it go,

◆

O, somewhere in Chicagoland the sun is shining bright;
The band is playing somewhere, and somewhere hearts are light;
But there's no joy for Cub fans—Gabby Hartnett has struck out.

BURLEIGH GRIMES.

Aroma from all the pretty floral pieces yesterday afternoon momentarily drugged Charley Root, Woody English, and most of the other Cubs, and before they could revive the Pittsburgh Pirates had packed away the opener at Wrigley field by marking up three runs in the first inning.

Later on the boys — excepting Gabby Hartnett—shook off the narcotic spell and seemed in a fair way to stage a Garrison finish. But when the end came the score was Pirates, 4; Cubs, 3, and more than 50,000 customers went home to steam up for happier occasions.

The Pirates made it tough for our heroes by scoring those three runs in the first inning and further depressed the crowd by loading up the bases in the second and third innings. After that, if a Chicago partisan could have forgotten the bad start, it was a nice ball game. But the sad fact remains that the encounter ended against the Cubs.

Grimes Outfoxes Gabby.

It is now inconsequental that the Cubs made a run in the eighth and two in the ninth in a heroic effort to overcome their earlier shortcomings. And besides, if you think too much about the Cub finish you've got to include recollections of the manner in which Gabby, the Cubs' passive catcher, came up as a pinch hitter with the bases full and two out in the eighth—and struck out by swinging at three of four bad pitches propelled by that foxy old gentleman, Mr. Burleigh Grimes.

On the basis of the exhibition season Charley Root perhaps didn't rate the opening day assignment. But inaugurals are ceremonious affairs and in the spirit of auld lang syne it couldn't be anybody but Charley. So there's no use second-guessing about that.

When Charley threw two strikes past Sparky Adams, first batsman of the day, it seemed that he was away to cross up the form sheets. It seemed that way more than ever when Sparky rolled an easy grounder to Woody English, who has been steady as a clock for weeks. But Woody juggled the ball, then got his hands on it, and forthwith threw the thing away.

Grantham Scores Two.

Sparky went to second, but eventually was called back to first, following a conference of the umpires, who ruled a lucky bounce had kept the ball in play. Root, apparently a bit ruffled, got two strikes past Lloyd Waner. Then he became wild and walked Little Poison. Paul Waner came up with a pop fly to English, but Traynor singled to right and the bases were full because Adams was too smart to test Cuyler's ability to throw to the plate.

George Grantham stepped up and rammed one into the crowd in right field good for a double under ground rules. Adams and L. Waner scored and Traynor stopped at third. Sheely was hit by a pitched ball. Bartell sent a sacrifice fly to Wilson and Hack drew a tough error when the ball hit Traynor as he crossed the plate, allowing Grantham to go to third and Sheely to second. Hargreaves supplied the third out by grounding to English.

This was all the scoring until the seventh, but the panic was on and Charley and his mates continued to have a miserable time in all the seven innings he pitched, except the fifth and sixth, when the enemy was retired with a three up and three down technique.

The last run came when Traynor led off with his third single and Grantham got his third walk. The runners moved up on Sheely's sacrifice bunt and Traynor scored on Bartell's sacrifice fly. The score was Pirates, 4; Cubs, 0.

Cuyler Starts Trouble.

Then came the eighth and the first Chicago thrills of the game. Cuyler opened with his third hit, a double to right, and Hornsby walked for the third time. Wilson popped a weak foul to Sheely, but Stephenson came through with a single to right center, scoring Cuyler, while Hornsby stopped at second. Grimm thought he had walked, but returned to the plate at the suggestion of Umpire Klem and popped to Bartell. The bases were full after Gonzales singled to left. Then a blare of trumpets and Mr. Hartnett made an impressive trip to the plate. The manner in which Mr. Grimes took care of Mr. Hartnett already has been recited.

The appearance of Hartnett had chased Blake after Fred had disposed of the Pirates in the eighth on three infield taps. Carlson went in to pitch the ninth and also faced only three men.

Cubs Rally Again.

In the Cubs' ninth hope bloomed anew for English pushed off with a double and scored on Beck's single. Cuyler got on base for the fourth time when his hard grounder went through Adams for an error. Beck stopped at second. Hornsby forced Cuyler and Beck pulled up at third. Wilson then accomplished his lone productive act of the day. He sent a sacrifice fly to L. Waner which scored Beck. The game ended with Stephenson's fly to L. Waner.

The famed "Murderers' Row" of the Cub batting order got its signals a bit mixed and in the main failed to slaughter the spit ball offerings of Mr. Grimes. Hack Wilson and Rogers Hornsby did not produce a base hit although the Rajah drew free passage to first base on three occasions. Stevie broke into the hit column on his last trip to the plate.

The exception to this impotence was Kiki Cuyler. The former Pirate, who fell short of .300 for batting average for the 1928 season, led the Cubs' attack with two singles and a double and performed as if he had serious ambitions to replace Hornsby as the league's best hitter.

As an opening day spectacle the game came up to expectations. Almost 48,000 persons paid to get in and there were an estimated 3,000 more in the park. The crowd surged on the field, making ground rules necessary an hour and a half before game time.

Regular Football Weather.

The thermometer registered 47 for yesterday's pastime and the chill northern breeze seriously handicapped the throng in its opening day emotional display. Most of the fans came dressed for the fall weather, carefully protected by overcoats and woolen hosiery.

After the flag raising and the attendant parade of athletes led by Jack Bramhall's Cub band, a specially large floral ceremony was staged, including the presentation of a big baseball of roses which was opened to reveal Charley Root Jr.

Today there will be nothing but baseball and the Cubs are looking forward to calmness with gusto. Pat Malone probably will pitch for the McCarthy's, while Ray Kremer is slated to perform for the visitors.

Sox Errors Aid Browns to 3-1 Win the first time a Chicago runner reached that far, and he scored when a looping fly off Metzler's bat fell back of third for a single. By this time, however, the Browns were out in front with three runs so the Chicago tally was only an ornament for the scoreboard.

The Browns collected their initial run in the first inning when Lou Blue cracked Thomas' first pitch to right field for a single. O'Rourke popped out and Manush grounded to Kamm, the latter play moving Blue to second. Schulte then grounded to short and would have been thrown out but Umpire Owens yelled balk so the play didn't go and Blue went to third. A moment later he ran home on a wild pitch.

Thomas had plenty to worry him for the next few innings, but dodged another run until the mauling Manush caught hold of one in the seventh. O'Rourke opened the inning with a stinging liner that Reynolds was lucky to catch. Then Manush slapped one against the concrete in right and the ball bounced so far back toward the infield that Heinie went to third. Schulte made the second out by missing his third strike, but Kress then bounced one to Cissell. The shortstop fumbled and Manush scored.

The third and last Brown run, scored in the seventh, had all the thrills of a homer so far as the partisans were concerned. Melillo started with a rakish single to center and Metzler set himself to field the ball but it scooted under his paws and went hopping toward the center field fence with the erring fielder in pursuit. By the time Metzler returned it to the infield Melillo was staggering over the plate like a man not in the habit of running that far in so short a time.

The fifth and last hit off a Sox bat came in the ninth. After two were out Cissell singled to center for his second safety of the day. Autry, however, grounded to Melillo to end the game.

WESTERN STATE TEACHERS BEAT MONMOUTH, 9-6

Monmouth, Ill., April 16.—[Special.]—Western State Teachers' baseball team took a ragged game from Monmouth here this afternoon, 9 to 6. Page, first baseman for Macomb boys, got three hits which carried him around the circuit, but only one counted for a homer, the others being singles extended by errors. Shoberg, Monmouth pitcher, hit a homer over center field.

Jones started on the mound for the pedagogues, but was pulled in favor of Lucie at the end of the first frame. Monmouth got nine hits and Western States Teachers ten.

Dave Bancroft's Wife Is Robbed of Jewels, Bonds

New York, N. Y., April 16.—(AP)—Jewels valued at $8,500 and bonds worth $5,000 were stolen from Mrs. David Bancroft, wife of the veteran shortstop of the Brooklyn National league baseball club, police were informed today. Mrs. Bancroft said the jewels and bonds were taken from her room at the Hotel Alamac.

Old Man Weather Earns Even Break with Baseball

Major league baseball barely managed to get an even break with old man weather on the opening day. Four games were played in the middle west, but the entire eastern half of the gateway program was rained out by a cold storm from the northeast.

It was the biggest shock to the opening program on record. The washout of the game between the Yankees and Red Sox is the first upset to the opening day calendar of either New York team at home since 1909.

The postponements were the first in either league since 1927 when St. Louis experienced an unusual streak of bad weather luck, having the first three games called off.

Chicago had a record crowd of 50,000 and the turnout surpassed the combined attendance for the other three games played. The four game total was 94,507, as compared with aggregate attendance of 121,517 for the openings of 1928 among the same clubs.

Exactly 25,507 paid to see the St. Louis Cardinals beat the Reds, 5 to 2, at Cincinnati. At Cleveland 15,000 watched the Indians and Tigers battle extra innings. Only 4,000 attended the game at St. Louis where the Browns won from the Chicago White Sox.

ILLINI TO PLAY BUTLER IN HOME OPENER TODAY

Champaign, Ill., April 16.—[Special.]—University of Illinois baseball players will make their first home appearance against Butler tomorrow. The Illini were billed to play Bradley last week but were rained out.

Potsy Clark's Bulldogs have the prestige of a scoreless tie with Wisconsin and one close game with Purdue, losing another to the Boilermakers decisively when a first baseman was injured.

Coach Lundgren will experiment with several players. Mueller, Meyer and Bower probably will pitch by relays, but Capt. Andrews will rest. Witte and Kuhlemeyer, outfielders; Engvall, first base, and Rosenthal, shortstop, will get a chance. Yule, an injured shortstop, also may play briefly.

The Illini will open the local conference season Saturday against Northwestern, coached by Paul Stewart, former Illinois captain and assistant coach.

International League Clubs Fail to Agree on President

New York, April 16.—(AP)—Failing to agree on a successor to the late John Conway Toole as president, club owners of the International league compromised by naming Charles H. Knapp, president of the Baltimore club, chairman of the executive committee with titular power.

RAIN POSTPONES HOOVER'S DEBUT AS BALL THROWER

Washington, D. C., April 16.—(AP)—The opening baseball game of the season, scheduled for today between Philadelphia and Washington of the American league, was postponed on account of rain.

President Hoover with Mrs. Hoover, as well as the members of cabinet and their wives, had planned to attend. The President was to have opened the game by throwing out the first ball.

The announcement of the postponement said that the game would be played tomorrow, if possible, and that the same program planned for today would be carried out.

MANUFACTURERS LEAGUE MEET

The next regular meeting of the Chicago Manufacturers' Baseball league will be held tomorrow night at 211 South State street. Sixteen teams have already joined the league and a tentative schedule will be adopted at this week's meeting.

One-Eye Tells How He Crashed Into Prison—and Out

Lansing Mich., April 16.—[Special.]—One-Eyed Connelly, as has been his occasional custom for years, crashed the gates of the governor's sanctum here today, and chatted for a short time with Gov. Fred W. Green. Connelly is an old acquaintance of the Michigan executive, as the latter is an ardent sport follower.

Connelly revealed a brand new gate crashing experience which nearly proved more than embarrassing. While visiting Jackson to attend the Godfrey-Lodge fight, One-Eyed hopped a prison truck and rode into the state penitentiary without the customary formalities. But when he attempted his gate crashing from the inside out he was less successful; only after hours of pleading and painful endeavors at identification was the voluntary prisoner released.

MAROONS BEATEN BY ARMOUR TECH AS LOTT PITCHES

Armour Tech defeated the University of Chicago at the Midway today by a score of 5 to 4.

Simpson, star Tech hurler, in addition to striking out 15 Maroons, hit a triple in the eighth inning, scoring Robin to break a 4 to 4 tie.

Alex Hurls as Cards Beat Reds; Indians Whip Tigers

Cincinnati, O., April 16.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, National league champions, successfully opened their 1929 campaign here today by defeating the Reds, 5 to 2, in a light hitting contest before 30,000 fans. "Old Pete" Alexander, who usually baffles the Reds, was effective and permitted only five safe blows. Lucas also was stingy with hits giving up but five. Hafey was the batting star. He drove in four runs. Two in the first inning on a single and two more in the sixth on a home run. Box score:

Cleveland, O., April 16.—(AP)—Cleveland and Detroit opened the season with an 11 inning struggle here today, the Indians winning, 5 to 4, on Carl Lind's two bagger with two out and two on base.

The contest was played before only 15,000 fans, one of the smallest first day crowds here in years. Cold weather and a threat of rain held the attendance down. Earl Whitehill went the route on the mound for the Tigers. Willis Hudlin relieved Joe Shaute in the eighth for the Indians and got credit for the victory.

Earl Averill, the Indians' new center fielder, drove out a home run, as did Charley Gehringer of the Tigers. Luke Sewell's single, a pass to Gardner, and Lind's double accounted for the winning run. Box score:

PURPLE BASEBALL TEAM TO TACKLE MICHIGAN TODAY

Northwestern's baseball team, set back by Purdue in its first conference game this season, will endeavor to even up matters at the expense of Michigan at Ann Arbor today. Coach Paul Stewart and a squad of fourteen players left last night for the Wolverine stronghold.

Faulty fielding again marked the play of the Purple in the Lake Forest contest Monday. Capable pitching and hitting has so far failed to make up for the weakness of the infielders.

MEN WHO SMOKE AND GUARD THEIR HEALTH, SMOKE CIGARS

"... MEN WHO WOULD DERIVE THE GREATEST PLEASURE FROM TOBACCO WITHOUT HARM TO HEALTH SHOULD SMOKE CIGARS"—says Doctor Georges L. N. Pilon
Commanding Physician of the French Army

Doctor Georges Louis Nicolas Pilon, Commanding Physician of the French Army, is a member of the Legion of Honor and a graduate of the Famous School of Military Health Service, "Val de Grace" of Paris. Doctor Pilon is renowned for his knowledge of colonial and tropical diseases, and for his research in the fields of drugs and intoxicants.

"Inhalation of tobacco smoke into the lungs is, I believe, the greatest cause of the various evils attributed to smoking. These include certain nervous disorders, distressing conditions of the throat and even graver ailments."

"A cigar can be enjoyed without inhalation. Indeed from my observation I should say few cigar smokers inhale. I recommend, therefore, that men who would derive the greatest pleasure from tobacco without harm to their health should smoke cigars."

Docteur Pilon

LONG famous as an authority on nerve stimulants and depressants, Georges Pilon is today the best qualified Doctor to speak of Tobacco in its relation to Man, for he is the Commanding Physician of the Armies of France—perhaps the largest body of tobacco users in the World.

When Doctor Pilon points to inhalation as the greatest cause of nervous disorders and throat irritations he reflects the view of advanced medical opinion everywhere.

Cigars can be enjoyed without inhalation. Indeed, few cigar smokers ever inhale. They smoke the finest tobaccos, naturally grown and naturally cured. The cigar's full-flavored smoke is satisfactory to their taste, their palate, without inhalation.

The cigar is made only of fine tobaccos, without the addition of any foreign materials. Not so other forms of tobacco. To make them smokeable it has been found necessary to add to them certain adulterants and extraneous substances. These, in combination with tobacco, form two nerve and throat-irritating substances which doctors designate as Furfural and Acrolein.

And since inhalation is necessary in order to obtain satisfaction from any form of tobacco, other than the cigar, it is obvious that these two substances get full chance to enter the system through the lungs, and so cause decreased vitality, sleeplessness, indigestion, etc., and are, in addition, a source of coughs and throat irritation.

Another point in favor of the cigar is that its smoke is cool. No quick-burning substance is used for wrapper. Its tobacco burns slowly and is further cooled and filtered as it is drawn through the body of the cigar. In consequence, cigar smoke never burns or dries the tender mucous membrane of the nose and throat, and so never penalizes the smoker with congestion of the pharynx, known as "Smoker's Throat."

Give cigars a test—a trial for one full week. Smoke them exclusively and you'll feel much better—quieter nerves, more vitality, less tired—and free from cough or throat irritation.

To make this test—with justice to yourself and to cigars—smoke La Palinas. Since they are America's largest selling high grade cigars—over a million a day—you can smoke them, confident that they will please you.

The sensational success of La Palina results from an exclusive and secret blend which combines for the first time in one cigar an extreme mildness with a rare richness of both taste and fragrance.

NEW YORK PLANS GOLF CLUB FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

Only Children Between 7 and 16 Eligible.

New York, April 16.—[Special.]—At the suggestion of Mrs. H. P. Davison a novel organization to be known as "a junior golf and sports association" is being organized, it was learned tonight, for children between the ages of 7 and 16 of the wealthy residents of the north shore district of Long Island.

The organization, which is to have a sixty acre property with all sports and recreational facilities in the Wheatley Hills section, is, in the words of Mrs. Davison, to be "a club for young people which will avoid the unhealthy and usual influences of clubs for adults."

A preliminary estimate of the cost for financing the organization is $100,000. A large part of this cost will be met by the sale of one hundred founder memberships at $500 each to the wealthy families along the north shore, a large number of whom already have subscribed to the plan.

Sports Facilities for All.

A nine hole golf course designed by Devereaux Emmet and outdoor swimming pool, tennis courts, riding and playing fields for baseball and football, facilities for skating and other sports will be included in the new association. A restaurant where the children may obtain meals will be another feature of the recreational center, S. G. Coggins, who is coöperating with the Lewis Development company, declared.

Professional instructors will teach the children in the various sports. There will also be expert supervision to see that the children get the most social and recreational benefits from the association. The center will open its tennis courts in July and other sports facilities will be completed as soon as possible.

Children's Interest Dominates.

"The viewpoint of youth is generally neglected in the sports clubs that we have today and this neglect has an unhappy result on our youth," Mrs. Davison said tonight in explaining the purposes of the organization.

"Children for the first time will find themselves in a group where the interests of children dominate exclusively. All jazz and other influences said to be factors in juvenile delinquency will be eliminated from the new association and the parental and home influence will be retained as far as possible. The children will be able to lead a healthy outdoor life and get the benefits that come from association with a group of clean living and sport loving youngsters."

STRANGLER LEWIS BEATS GARDINI IN STRAIGHT FALLS

Strangler Lewis, former heavyweight champion, defeated Renato Gardini in straight falls in the main event of the wrestling show staged by Promoter John Krone at the Ashland Boulevard auditorium last night. Lewis won the first fall in 45:40 with a reverse head lock and took the second and deciding fall in 3:05 with a head lock.

Appearance of the former champion on the card attracted a gathering of 1,500 to the west side hall. Promoter Krone estimated the receipts at $6,000.

Gardini, who has met Lewis on several occasions, was no match for the former champion. Lewis gave the crowd a thrill a few times by permitting the Italian to secure holds which he broke easily.

Toots Mondt and Wladek Zbyszko went thirty minutes to a draw in the opening bout. Hans Steinke took a one fall match from Howard Cantonwine in 25:40 with a toe hold. In the other match on the card Jimmy Londos and Ray Steel went 37:00 to a draw. Emil Thiry, who managed Packey McFarland years ago, handled the main event.

MICHIGAN HOUSE PASSES FIFTEEN ROUND FIGHT BILL

Lansing, Mich., April 16.—[Special.]—The bill legalizing 15 round championship bouts in Michigan, in which Jack Dempsey has shown interest, hurdled its first barrier today when the lower house gave its approval by a vote of 53 to 30. The measure now goes to the senate, where its friends say it will find equal favor.

Representative A. H. Hardy, Saginaw, Baptist minister, led the opposition to the bill in the house despite the fact that it is sponsored by a fellow townsman, Representative William F. Jahnke.

Dempsey and Floyd Fitzsimmons, Michigan promoter, hinted that Michigan would be made the scene of their promotional activities if the bill is passed.

11 BOXERS FROM OKLAHOMA SEEK A. A. U. TITLES

Oklahoma state champions in every weight division from 112 pounds to heavyweight have entered the National A. A. U. boxing championships to be held at the Chicago Stadium for three nights, beginning next Tuesday. There are eleven fighters on the team, which will come here from Tulsa.

Efforts of the New York A. A. U. officials to have Jimmy Chase of the Belle Plaines A. C., and Chicago's chief hope in the 112 pound class, barred on the grounds of professionalism, will be fought by the officials of the Central A. A. U. Thus far the New Yorkers have not offered any evidence in support of their charges.

Supinski and Molnar Top Belle Plaine Fight Card

Steve Supinski, Polish welterweight, and John Molnar, who won second place in the recent Central A. A. U. amateur championship tourney, will meet in the main event of the weekly amateur boxing show of the Belle Plaine A. C. at 3943 Lincoln avenue tomorrow night. Seven other fights round out the card.

Sande Rides Own Horse to Easy Victory

To Ride Here

WHEN the Illinois Turf association license committee meets here late this month it will pass a rule which will permit Earl Sande to ride his own horses on Chicago tracks, Charles W. Bidwell, secretary of the state body said last night. Sande has made reservations for 22 horses for the Arlington Park and Hawthorne seasons, and will likely come to Chicago at the end of the spring season in Maryland late in May.

EARLE SANDE.

Havre de Grace, Md., April 16.—[Special.]—Earle Sande returned to the saddle and won his race here today in the face of one of the worst gales that has blown off the Chesapeake in years. Sande's horse was Hermitage, Sande's own, and the result made the first time in the history of Maryland racing that one man owned, trained, and rode a horse to victory.

Heretofore the Maryland rules prohibited a jockey from having any financial interest in his mount, but a recent change enabled Sande to ride.

It probably will be a long time before anybody does the three things again, unless Sande should later, and the spectators must have had this thought in mind when they rushed to the scales, regardless of wintry winds, lashing rain, and frigid temperature, to cheer the former ace of jockeys.

At the finish Hermitage, a maiden until the victory, was a long four lengths ahead of Domineer, which got the place by a scant margin over Tried and True. New Guinea and Vindication completed the field, which went six furlongs through deep mud.

There was nothing to it. Hermitage walked in and paid $3.60 for a $2 mutual ticket. He was the favorite, after opening the second choice to Domineer. The time was 1:17 4-5.

AURORA HORSE COLONY GROWS; 600 AT TRACK

Three carloads of horses arrived at the Aurora track yesterday from Maryland. The largest consignment was in charge of Owner William Cain. His string was headed by the handicap performer, Aviator, and included several 2 and 3 year olds.

When the Maryland shipment had been unloaded, it was announced by Manager Clifford Trimble that more than 600 horses are now quartered at the Aurora track awaiting the opening of the Illinois season May 1. Additional shipments will bring the total number of horses up to 1,100 before the season opens, Trimble said.

Ald. J. J. Coughlin yesterday made reservations for 26 horses at Aurora. This division of his stable will include all his horses in training except his Derby candidates, Roguish Eye and Karl Eitel, and several 2 year olds which will remain in Kentucky until the Washington Park season opens.

Eastern Turfmen Name Horses for Chicago Stakes

Baltimore, Md., April 16.—[Special.]—Joseph McLennon of Chicago, who is here to receive entries for the stake events to be run at Washington Park and Arlington Park in Chicago during June and July, reported today that the eastern turfmen will be liberal patrons of the rich Chicago events. Harry Payne Whitney has nominated Bargello, Beacon Hill, Cady Hill, and The Nut for the American Derby, as well as for the American Classic, Mr. McLennon announced. Others to name horses for the Chicago stakes, according to Mr. McLennon, are Willis Sharpe Kilmer, Rancocas stable, Edward B. McLean, I. B. Bradfield, who owns the speedy filly My Sis, Jefferson Livingston, and the Audley Farm stable.

Tuffy Abel Is Purchased by Hawks, Report

Despite the opening of the baseball season and the straw hat temperatures, the National Hockey league's "hot stove league" is boiling merrily. Conversation concerns the Chicago Blackhawks, who finished a sad season at the bottom of the league, far from Chicago ice.

One of the rumors, which gave every evidence of being authentic, but which the Blackhawk officials would neither confirm nor deny was to the effect that the Hawks again would play the home games at the Coliseum, and not at the Chicago stadium as had been expected. It was said the difference in rental is something like $4,000 a night on an attendance of 7,000 to 8,000.

At the same time came reports from Detroit that the Hawks had bought Taffy Abel, big defense man from the New York Rangers, for $30,000. Maj. Frederic McLaughlin, president of the Hawks, said he had discussed the purchase when at the meeting of the league's board of governors in Detroit Tuesday, but that it had not yet been completed.

Abel, well over 200 pounds, has teamed with Ching Johnson to form "Hockey's strongest defense." He might bolster one of the Hawks' weakest spots in last season's team, the defense line, which at one time became so fragile that Herb Gardiner, then manager, took to the ice to brace it. At the same time it became known that Art Summers, big defense man of the Pacific Coast league, on whom the Hawks have a string, will not be available for another year.

Tom Shaughnessy, new manager of the Hawks, announced a novel plan of training next fall, which is likely to stir up a lot of comment. He expects to take the team to Notre Dame before the season opens and put them through a two weeks' seasoning on tackling dummies, charging machines, and the other paraphernalia used in toughening a football team.

PYLE BORROWS HIS BUS.

Columbus, O., April 16.—[Special.]—C. C. Pyle, manager of the bunion derby, still is endeavoring to obtain a release of the attachment levied by the Franklin county sheriff against the bus used to transport his show troupe from one night's stand to another.

By agreement of attorneys the bus which was seized Sunday afternoon on a petition of a New York motor car company which sold it, was used Monday afternoon to take the show troupe to Springfield but was returned to Columbus Tuesday.

Exhibit Precedes Convention of Walton League

BY BOB BECKER.

Hundreds of fishermen, hunters, campers, conservationists and other outdoorsmen are moving into Chicago today to be ready for the opening of the annual national convention of the Izaak Walton League of America tomorrow morning in the Stevens hotel.

Although the convention does not open until tomorrow morning, the sport show held in connection with it starts tonight. Hundreds of accessories including tents, fishing rods, camp beds, fishing boats and outboard motors will be exhibited. Bob Limbert, the champion trick revolver shot from Idaho, is one of the features of the show.

Several conservation projects which the league will discuss this week are of special interest to Illinois and Chicago vacationists. For example, Col. Mel R. Nyman, president of the Minneapolis chapter of the league is going to report on the Quetico Park-Superior National Forest fight.

Thousands of vacationists in the great lakes region have visited Quetico-Superior boundary wilderness, which, if the water power interests have their way, will be ruined by dams and high water. The league has joined with other organizations in an effort to have the boundary country set aside as a permanent playground. The Shipstead-Newton bill has been introduced in congress with that objective in view.

Seth Gordon, conservation director of the league, yesterday announced the annual convention banquet will be held Friday evening. Former Secretary of the Interior Roy O. West and Dr. Wilfred H. Osgood, curator of zoology of the Field museum, will speak.

Europe Bound Helen Pauses Between Trains

Bound for the courts of Europe—tennis and royal—Helen Wills paused briefly yesterday between trains in Chicago. Accompanied by her mother she arrived from the west coast with her rackets and her portfolio of drawings, each of which was claiming an equal share of her attention as she reached the North western station. Her traveling outfit was a sport coat and hat in brown and beige, with a brown bag and slippers.

HELEN WILLS.

Keeping her "championship" hand out of harm's way, Miss Wills extended her left to all greeters, giving them a hearty shake as she discussed her itinerary, her engagement, her art work, her court presentation, and her court battles. She is to be presented May 9 at the court of St. James and is to play team matches against Holland at The Hague, France at Paris, and Germany at Berlin. Miss Wills will compete in the Wimbledon championships June 14 to July 6, and also defend her British title.

"Wedding plans?" she repeated a question, "we don't know what they'll be just yet, but by the time I come back I may have some news. Of course, I expect to play tennis just as long as I can swing a racket. And I'd love to have more time for my drawing, but I have a busy summer ahead."

THREE CHICAGO SCHOOLS ENTER MIDWEST RELAYS

80 Prep Teams Expected at Wisconsin Meet.

Madison, Wis., April 16.—[Special.]—Twenty-two high schools, including six from the Chicago district and three others from Illinois, have entered the sixth annual Midwest relays, which will be held Saturday, April 27, at Camp Randall field.

Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite, manager of the meet, predicted today that the late rush of entries would boost the total number of competing teams over the 80 mark. He will close the lists Saturday night.

Tilden Tech of Chicago, led by its star sprinter, Metcalfe, was the outstanding team in last year's meet. The Midwest relays are conducted on a plan similar to the Illinois relays, and point totals are not tabulated.

Oak Park High Enters.

This season marks the last year for the circulation of the traveling trophies. Teams making the best time in each relay over the six year period will get the trophies as permanent possessions. Other trophies also will go to the winners of this year's races.

Chicago district entries thus far are Oak Park, Thornton, Deerfield-Shields, Crane Tech, Harrison Tech, and Tilden Tech. Rockford, Freeport, and Galesburg also are among the early birds. Froebel High of Gary, Ind., again will be represented.

Dubuque is the lone Iowa representative to date. The Wisconsin entries include East High, South Division, Bay View, and Boys' Tech, all of Milwaukee; Central and East Side highs of Madison, and Janesville, Fort Atkinson, Tomah, Platteville, and Portage.

Six Relays Scheduled.

Six relay races are on the program. They are at distances of a quarter mile, half mile, one mile, and two miles. There also are the sprint medley and distance medley gallops. The sprint medley calls for two 220's, a 440, and half mile, while the distance medley will include one 440, one half mile, one ¾ mile, and one mile runner.

Special events are the 100 yard dash, 120 yard high hurdles, high jump, broad jump, 12 pound shot put, pole vault, discus, and javelin.

Milton S. Plotke has purchased from the Marks brothers the entire block of frontage on the east side of Sheridan road, between Albion and Loyola avenues, for an undisclosed price. The property fronts 306 feet on Sheridan and 150 feet on both Albion and Loyola. Plans are now being prepared by Huszagh & Hill for a twelve story apartment building to occupy the south half of the block. It will contain twelve stores and 220 three room suites, to be rented unfurnished.

Tentative sketches by the architects suggest a complete gymnasium, lodge, and promenade on the roof. The design of the building will be modernistic. The site just acquired is vacant except for an old parochial school building. Louis Zuckerman was broker representing both parties. Joseph Rosenberg was attorney for the seller and Irwin Grossman represented Mr. Plotke.

Rena Hartman, Inc., now at 317 North Michigan avenue, has leased all of the first floor space in the 333 North Michigan Avenue building south of the main entrance for ten years and nine months beginning Aug. 1st. This will give the firm ninety-one feet frontage on the boulevard and about 11,000 square feet of floor space. The rental will include a percentage of gross sales with a minimum guaranteed amount for each year, according to William O. Trainer, renting manager of "333."

Holabird & Root, architects of "333," have been retained to design the new Hartman store along modernistic lines. Several new departments are to be added when the lessee moves to the new quarters which is only a few doors north of the present store.

Florsheim Leases Loop Corner.

The Florsheim Shoe company has leased the corner store in the Steger building, at the northwest corner of Wabash avenue and Jackson boulevard, for fifteen years at an undisclosed rental, through C. E. Christine, manager of the building. The space rented fronts forty feet on Wabash and twenty-four on Jackson. The store will be modernized and occupied by the new lessee not later than June 1. The Florsheim store now at 20 East Jackson will be moved into the new quarters.

Fred McGuire acted as broker for Harley L. Clarke, president of the Utilities Power and Light corporation, in his purchase of the Union Trust building and leasehold estate at Madison and Dearborn, reported in yesterday's TRIBUNE. Ward Farnsworth of Gordon Strong & Co. and Winston & Co. were the brokers. Matthews & Koegel and Winston, Strawn & Shaw were attorneys in the deal. Mr. McGuire states that the purchase was a personal investment by Mr. Clarke.

Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville.

F. S., Detroit, Mich.—Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville Railway company (the "Monon Route") operates a direct main short line from Chicago to Indianapolis and to Louisville, with branches, a total of 647.86 miles.

It is controlled jointly by the Louisville and Nashville railroad and the Southern railway companies through ownership by them of a substantial majority of its stock.

The issue of $4,911,000 first and general mortgage 5 per cent bonds, series "A," due May 1, 1966, and the issue of $4,000,000 first and general mortgage 6 per cent bonds, series "B," due May 1, 1966, are secured by mortgage lien on the entire property of the company now owned or to be acquired, except any stocks or bonds not specifically pledged. The mortgage represents a lien on 618.12 miles of railway.

Net earnings applicable to interest charges were $2,811,598 in 1928, and $2,925,706 in 1927. Net earnings were 2.14 times total interest charges in 1927.

Series "A" bonds are not subject to call. Series "B" bonds are subject to call as a whole but not in part, at 105 and accrued interest on any interest date on and after Jan. 1, 1937.

Bonds of both series are a sound investment.

CURB ON OIL IS BEGINNING TO SHOW RESULTS

Production of Steel Holds Steady.

BY O. A. MATHER.

American oil men have set out to solve the problem of overproduction without waiting for any definite aid from the government. As a result of agreements to restrict and pro-rate production in the principal mid-continent fields, the total output of petroleum in the United States last week showed the largest decline in nearly a year.

Daily average gross crude oil production was 2,615,050 barrels, which marked a decline of 43,050 barrels a day from the preceding week, according to the weekly summary of the American Petroleum Institute. The success of prorating in the flush southwestern fields is evidenced in the fact that production fell 25,400 barrels a day in Oklahoma and 20,150 barrels a day in west Texas. Sizeable declines also occurred in the Panhandle of Texas, Wyoming and California fields, although they were offset by increases in Kansas and the southwest and coastal Texas fields.

Dispels Fears.

Fears expressed last week that the steel industry could not continue its record of virtual capacity production were proved unfounded for another week. It was reported yesterday that operations of the United States Steel corporation had declined from 98 to 96 per cent of capacity but that independents had offset this decline by increasing their operations from 94 to 96 per cent.

Steel trade authorities were surprised by these shifts, as they had expected all operations to be lower. The gain of the independents resulted from greater activity by some of the larger companies. Again this week the average output for the whole industry stands unchanged at 96 per cent, which compares with 84 per cent a year ago. The independents make a relatively better showing, with an increase from 80 per cent a year ago, while the Steel corporation has risen from [illegible] per cent.

One of the largest pieces of railroad financing this year was foreshadowed yesterday when the Southern Pacific was granted permission by the interstate commerce commission to issue [illegible] of 40 year 4½ per cent bonds and 195,498 shares of common stock. In order to popularize offering of the bonds they will carry warrants giving the purchaser the right to buy new stock over a term of years. The proceeds of the bonds will be used chiefly to pay off maturing issues.

Western Electric Rights.

Stockholders of the Union Carbide and Carbon corporation yesterday approved increasing the authorized capital stock from 3,000,000 to 12,000,000 no par shares to exchange three new shares for each old share. They also voted to offer 300,000 new shares to officers and employés on terms to be determined later. Stockholders of the International Petroleum company also approved a two-for-one stock splitup. The Western Electric company has offered stockholders of record April 22 the right to buy one additional share at $140 for each eight shares held. The offering will be primarily for the benefit of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, which owns about 98 per cent of Western Electric stock. The company will use the $20,000,000 proceeds to finance larger manufacturing facilities and to increase working capital. Stockholders of the Graham-Paige Motors corporation approved increasing the authorized common stock from 2,000,000 to 2,500,000 shares.

ATLANTIC COAST LINE DECLARES EXTRA DIVIDEND

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 16.—The Atlantic Coast Line Railroad company declared its usual extra dividend of $1.50 a share and the regular semi-annual dividend of $3.50. Oppenheim-Collins declared a quarterly dividend of $1.25 a share today, placing the stock on a $5 annual basis, as compared with $4 paid previously.

Raymond Concrete Pile company announced an extra payment of 25 cents and a special distribution of the same amount, in addition to the regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents on the common stock. The regular quarterly dividend was declared on the $3 cumulative preferred.

Future Lumber Supply Seen in Farm Woodlot

BY SCRUTATOR.

Farmers own more timberland than all the lumbermen and other private owners in the United States. The assertion is made by the department of agriculture and there is an indication that when a really practical reforestation program is found—one that will replace cuttings as fast as they are made—these farmers will be the ones to put it into effect.

Travelers in the states lying south and southeast of Lake Michigan, particularly those who go by plane, are struck by the large amount of farm woodland. As a matter of fact, the little forests of the farms occupy more acreage, the government reports, than all the cereal crops of the country.

Illinois usually is considered, outside its own borders, as very nearly a treeless territory. The old geographies gave the impression that the same condition prevailed in primeval times. In fact, a survey made several years ago disclosed that the original forests of the state covered fifteen million acres and that the present farm woodlands extend over nearly three million acres. Forest areas under the control of the whole of the forty-eight state governments are only about twice as many as the latter figure.

Supply Own Needs.

It is only recently that lumbermen have begun to seek a way to replace the forests. In past decades they treated the trees that had grown up before the coming of the white men as mines. The farmers treat their woodlands as crop producers, and while their methods are said by the expert foresters to lack high efficiency they seem to be making a go of it and getting a large part of their own needs from their lands. An estimate places the annual use of wood on an Illinois farm at 1,250 board feet. Much of it is in the form of posts and these can be grown more economically, in most cases, than they can be purchased.

The Illinois survey conclusion was that even this state could profitably keep more than five million acres in timber. In Michigan there is a greater proportion of land not suitable for profitable cultivation, which should be forested. William N. Sparhawk and Warren D. Brush recently published a bulletin in which they estimated that thirteen million acres in that state should be used by private owners for timber growing.

Hard to Interest Capital.

Reforestation, they believe, would furnish work sufficient to support an additional population of 450,000, while the new industries that would grow up if ample supplies of timber were available would bring the total to a million.

Half the land in the northern part of Michigan's lower peninsula is idle now and 30 per cent of the upper peninsula. All this vast area is better suited to timber than to anything else. It is difficult to interest capital on a big scale in the re-growing of trees, first because the returns apparently will be modest and second because of the hazards of fire and taxes.

Fire is more easily controlled in small wood lots than in great forests. The farmers seem to have found a way to make the growth pay its way even with taxes fixed at the agricultural rate. It is quite conceivable that the lumber supply of the future will come in large part from tracts of five, ten or twenty acres and that lumbermen will have mobile units capable of handling the supply in small quantities.

STEEL 'MELON' IS WORTH NEARLY FORTY MILLIONS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 16.—Directors of the United States Steel corporation today cut a melon in rights approximating $40,000,000 through the offer of 1,016,605 common shares at $140 a share to shareholders of record May 1 in the ratio of one new share for each seven now held.

Through this operation the common stockholders will finance the bond redemption program to the extent of $142,324,700, which is the amount the corporation expects to raise through the stock offering. The subscription rights are calculated to be worth $5.59 a piece or an aggregate of $39,779,653.

Redemption Dates.

The directors took the necessary action today to call for redemption the entire issue of fifty-year five per cent bonds, due April 1, 1951, and of which $134,830,000 was outstanding at the end of last year. September 1 was fixed as the retirement date. Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the finance committee, also announced that it was the present intention to retire on Nov 1 the so-called 10-60-year five per cent bonds, which amounted to $136,555,000 at the close of 1928. The 10-60 bonds would mature on April 1, 1963.

A total of more than $305,000,000 will be required to redeem the two issues, since the fifty year bonds are being called at 115 and interest and the 10-60 bonds at 110 and interest.

The corporation, unless the directors should decide to make another stock offering, will dig into its treasury for fully $162,000,000 of the total needed. Part of the two issues, it is understood, has already been retired through open market purchases out of funds in the corporation's treasury.

Par Values.

The 1,016,605 additional shares to be sold to stockholders will increase the total amount of such stock outstanding from 7,116,235 shares to 8,132,840. The increased common share capital will have a par value of $813,284,000, against $711,623,500.

MAY FORM NEW STEEL UNIT WITH RESOURCES OF OVER 500 MILLIONS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cleveland, O., April 16.—A Cleveland syndicate organized to acquire steel stocks is contemplating a huge steel combine with resources of more than $500,000,000, it was reported here today.

Cyrus S. Eaton, Cleveland investment broker, is said to be the dominating figure in the move to merge the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company of Youngstown, Inland Steel company of Chicago, and the Republic Iron and Steel company of Youngstown into the country's third great steel corporation.

The new combine would become one of the country's three giant steel corporations, exceeded by only the United States and Bethlehem steel corporations. Local steel men tonight viewed the move as Eaton's latest step to build up for the Mather interests of Cleveland a steel group to rival the other two.

In addition to resources of more than $500,000,000, the combine would have an annual capacity aggregating 7,000,000 tons of ingot steel, ranking close to Bethlehem, with assets of $645,000,000 and a 7,900,000 ton capacity.

Youngstown Sheet and Tube is already the third largest steel company in the United States, with resources of about $300,000,000. Republic is the country's fifth largest producer with assets aggregating close to $190,000,000. Inland has resources of about $90,000,000.

March Gross of C. & N. W. to Be Lower, Sargent Says

Gross revenues of the Chicago & North Western railway for March will be about $400,000 below those of March a year ago and net operating income and surplus after charges about $200,000 less, according to estimates by Fred W. Sargent, president.

Schulte Gives Ultimatum in Cigaret War

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 16.—The tobacco war which has been carried on intermittently during the last year or so broke out anew at the meeting of stockholders of the Schulte Retail Stores corporation today. David A. Schulte, president of the company, delivered an ultimatum to the tobacco trade and to chain store dealers that unless price cutting ceased in sixty days a war of price cutting "to the bone" would be carried out in all parts of the country.

The statement was directed particularly at the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company and other large grocery and chain store organizations, who advertise standard 15 cent cigaret brands for 11 cents.

The price war has already cut sharply into the earnings of the major cigaret distributors, it is said, and this led to several sharp questions by Schulte stockholders to the implication that the dividend would be passed and finally to the charge by several stockholders that many Schulte directors had disposed of their holdings in the open market.

Mr. Schulte declared the entire difficulty had started when the Atlantic and Pacific Tea company reduced the price of cigarets to their customers. He said that if his corporation cut prices to compete with the grocery store chains the United Cigar Stores would probably follow, which would have the effect of establishing the low level of prices. "Retailers are going to make a legitimate profit or no profit at all," he said.

New York, April 16.—There were a lot of loose gears to the stock market today and the thing couldn't seem to make much progress. It wabbled all over the place and got exactly nowhere. Final price changes were all mixed up with about enough advances to stalemate the losses and vice versa.

The speculative fraternity was more interested in various outside matters with a possible bearing on the market's future than on actual operations on the floor of the stock exchange itself—the President's initial message to congress, the afternoon meeting of the United States Steel directors, the firming tone of call money just when everybody had been given the impression that the mid-month crisis was past and that easier conditions might be looked for.

ACTIVE SHARES SPRING BACK IN CHICAGO TRADING

Bendix Features with Rise of 5¾ Points.

BY GEORGE HAMMOND.

Active shares sprang back quickly from a temporary recession on the Chicago stock exchange yesterday as call money was pushed up to 9 per cent from a renewal rate of 8 per cent. Trading as a whole, however, was sluggish.

Bendix featured the day with a jump of 5¾ points on short covering. Borg-Warner closed a point lower. The Houdaille-Hershey issues advanced a point or so. The company announced that it has secured contracts from several large automobile manufacturers for additional business not heretofore purchased from the company. Stewart-Warner announced the introduction into the automotive field of a new four wheel brake amplifier. Allied Products and Muncie Gear "A" were up a point or two.

In General List.

Iron Fireman featured the general list with a gain of 2⅜ based on reports that the earnings statement for the first quarter of this year will show a substantial increase over the same period of 1928. The company announced that it has instituted a big sales campaign in the Chicago district.

Baxter Laundries sold 2 points higher. Mid-Continent Laundries was not traded in. C. F. Neftzger, president, reported gross sales for March of more than $230,000, the largest in the history of the company. This is a gain of 17 per cent over the preceding month and a gain in net operating profits of about $27,000. The O. K. Laundry of Battle Creek, Mich., has been added to the chain of operating plants.

Sonatron Tube featured the radio group with a two point jump coupled with the announcement that the company has received a contract for radio tubes said to be the greatest in the history of the industry. Another stimulant was the report that further expansion plans of the company are under negotiation.

Report Merger Near.

American Radio and Television eased a fraction. The company is understood to be completing negotiations in New York for a merger with another concern. Ken-Rad Radio also eased fractionally. The company reported gross sales for the quarter ended March 31 of $510,832, against $311,425 for the same quarter of last year, a gain of $199,407. Steinite Radio was unchanged. The first unit of the company's new factory at Fort Wayne, Ind., will be opened May 5, when production will be doubled. The second until will be opened about June 15. Grigsby-Grunow dropped 3½ but recovered the loss and added a fraction at the close.

Associated Apparel Industries was fairly active but unchanged. R. C. Stirton, president, announced that the company has completed negotiations for the establishment of a manufacturing plant and distributing plant in Germany.

Lynch Glass Machine was off a fraction, although T. C. Werbe, president, issued an earnings statement showing net for the first quarter of the current year to be $77,721 after all charges and taxes, an increase of nearly 50 per cent over the corresponding quarter of last year.

Butler Bros. was off ⅛ on rumors that the company may omit dividends to conserve cash for expansion purposes. Frank S. Cunningham, president, stated that the directors will meet next Tuesday, at which time the regular quarterly disbursement of 50 cents a share will be declared. He added that business thus far this year has shown a satisfactory increase over the same months of 1928, in spite of adverse weather conditions.

The Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee railroad was authorized by the Illinois commerce commission to issue $2,000,000 of its three year 6 per cent gold notes at not less than 94, and $2,200,000 of first and refunding mortgage bonds.

From Stage Coach to Airplane

When H. O. Stone came to Chicago, in 1835, the stage coach was a most popular conveyance. Today the passenger plane covers in a few hours routes which took several days by coach.

Investment trends have also changed since H. O. Stone laid the foundation for the organization which bears his name today. H. O. Stone bought and sold real estate and mortgages, not real estate bonds. Today the customers of H. O. Stone & Company find available First Mortgage Bonds secured by improved real estate in denominations and maturities to suit the broadest requirements.

This class of investment, while comparatively modern, has the same old fashioned type of security favored by conservative investors for so many years—income earning property. These bonds must measure up to high standards of safety and desirability before this long established house will offer them to its clientele.

Write for booklet, "What Makes H. O. Stone Bonds Safe," and our April offering list. No obligation. Ask for list T-417.

HOOVER MESSAGE BLAMED FOR DROP IN WHEAT PRICES

Other Grains Close Near Bottom Level.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

President Hoover's message on farm relief, specifically stating that the government should not engage in business or in price fixing was largely responsible for a wave of general liquidation which swept over the grain markets yesterday and resulted in one of the sharpest breaks in prices that has been witnessed for some time. Wheat closed 4⅜ to 4⅝ cents lower, with May $1.18⅛ to $1.18⅜; July, $1.22⅛ to $1.22¼, and September, $1.25¾ to $1.26.

Corn closed 3 to 3¼ cents lower, May being 91⅝ cents; July, 94⅜ cents to 94½ cents, and September, 95⅜ cents to 95¼ cents. Oats lost 1⅞ to 2⅛ cents, with May, 45⅝ cents; July, 46⅛ cents, and September, 43⅜ cents, while rye was 3⅝ to 4⅛ cents lower, May closing at 98⅝ cents, and July and September at 99⅞ cents. All grains finished at about the bottom with a heavy undertone.

Routine news as has been the case for some days past had no effect on the wheat market, but when the selling started it disclosed an overbought condition and stop loss orders were uncovered on the way down, with selling of bids forced to protect themselves. Houses with eastern connections that were recently good buyers were aggressive on the selling side, and there was also heavy selling attributed to a leading local operator. The pit element were not disposed to buy freely, and the bulk of the support came from shorts.

Farm Relief Still Factor.

While many traders were disappointed by President Hoover's address, the farm relief legislation is still a factor in the market of no mean proportions, and some operators regarded the break as due largely to the weakened technical position. The decline in wheat futures failed to result in any export business of consequence at the seaboard, and reports said that railroads in the southwest had refused to put into effect an emergency rate to move wheat from Kansas and the southwest in order to clean up a glut of grain, as there was no certainty that it could be sold abroad even though it was placed at the seaboard.

Crop reports from the southwest were generally favorable on the new wheat crop, while the Northwestern Millers' weekly summary said seeding was general throughout the spring wheat section. Liverpool closed 1⅛ to 1⅜ pence lower, while Winnipeg was 1⅞ to 2⅜ cents lower, May in the latter market closing at 5¼ cents over Chicago against 4⅛ cents under on Monday.

Corn Weakens with Wheat.

The liquidation in wheat started general selling in corn which found support lacking, and the best buying on the way down was by shorts and against bids. Weather conditions over the belt were generally favorable for field work. Clearances of 870,000 bu cash corn, largely via lake, were reported for the preceding 48 hours, practically all of it to Canadian ports, but had little effect on values. The spot basis was steady to ½ of a cent higher, with receipts only 38 cars. Industries have curtailed their grinding operations to some extent.

Cash interests were fair buyers of May oats, while the northwest took the July and September, but the break in other grains led to free selling by locals and the finish was about the bottom. Rye was dominated almost entirely by the action of wheat, and prices ranged lower with nothing heard regarding export demand.

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

Despite the sharp break in futures very little export business was put through in grains at the seaboard. Local handlers sold 30,000 bu wheat; 75,000 bu corn, and 29,000 bu oats to the domestic trade.

Milling demand for cash wheat showed improvement, with the basis steady to 1c higher, the latter on choice red. No. 2 red was 8@10½c over; No. 2 hard, May price to 1c over; No. 1 northern, 2@3c under May. Cash corn sold readily with offerings small, and the basis steady to ½c higher. Discounts as compared with May follow: No. 3 mixed, 2@2½c; yellow, ½@2c; white, 1@1½c; No. 4 mixed, 3⅜@4c; yellow and white, 3@4c; No. 5 mixed, 5½@6½c; yellow and white, 5@5½c; No 6 mixed and white, 7@7½c; yellow, 6@7c. Oats basis steady with No. 2 white, 1½@2c over; No. 3 white, ¼c over to ½c under May.

Official receipts of grain at Chicago Tuesday: Wheat, 15 cars; corn, 38 cars; oats, 29 cars; rye, 1 car; barley, 8 cars.

LARD AND BELLIES DECLINE

Liquidation was evident yesterday by scattered holders of lard and bellies, enabling buyers to execute orders with ease at a lower range. There was buying of lard early credited to foreign interests, but the weakness and decline in grains depressed prices, and the close was at the inside with net losses of 5 to 7½c. Lard in Liverpool was 3d higher. Export clearances were 483,145 lbs.

Bellies were off 12½c at the close, with longs the principal sellers. There is a good demand for English hams and bellies with the latter 3s higher in Liverpool. Exports of bacon were 923,500 lbs.

Hog supplies were lighter, and the market generally steady, the run at western points lighter than a week ago, but only slightly below those of last year. Prices follow:

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Grain prices declined more yesterday than they gained all last week, with farm relief the basis for the buying, while President Hoover's message to congress was used as a factor inducing selling and at the close the market was regarded as fairly well liquidated for the time being.

What struck traders most significantly was the President's remarks adverse to price fixing and trading by government agents. The impression prevailed that the markets have enjoyed all the advance they were entitled to for the time being. Technically, the situation in grains was greatly improved by the decline, though there is nothing in sight other than the pit condition to warrant a sustained advance.

"It is evident that the President's speech was disappointing to many, who have expected him to advise the immediate purchase of vast quantities of grain without a notion of what to do with it," says L. H. Freeman of Rumsey & Co. "This is not Hoover's way of handling national or international affairs. Farm relief plans are yet only in their infantcy and it cannot be expected that anything of so much importance as this could be ratified before it was hardly begun. We cannot believe that this administration, pledged to help the grower of grains, will ultimately 'faw down and go boom,' but we do expect it to emerge with considerable merit if given a sporting chance."

FINANCING AMERICAN INDUSTRY

JOHN MORRELL & CO. Inc.

OVER one hundred years ago, the business of John Morrell & Co., Inc., was established in England. In 1878 the principal packing plant of the Company was moved to Ottumwa, Iowa, which has since remained the American headquarters of the business. The record of the Company, particularly during the last 20 years, has been one of steady and continuous growth.

JOHN MORRELL & CO., Inc., is more or less unique among the larger meat packing concerns, in that it has no bonds or preferred stock outstanding—only common stock, and because its record of profits in the last fifteen years, embracing the war and post-war periods, is unbroken. The conspicuous success of the business has been due to the strategic location of its plants, to the high quality of its products and to its unusually efficient management. We recommend for investment the Common Stock of the Company which was listed on the New York Curb Market and the Chicago Stock Exchange some months ago following our underwriting and offering, with associates, of 133,333 shares out of a total of 400,000 shares. Current price about 60, yielding 6%.

What makes a Good Municipal Bond?

What is the underlying basis for the security? From what source is the bond payable? Are the obligations of all sections of the country equally desirable? What is the significance of the ratio between debt and assessed valuation? Should overlapping debt be considered? Which maturities are more attractive? Are municipal bonds readily marketable?

These and many other important questions have for years guided this institution in the conservative investment of its funds and those of its clients.

We have now published this information in booklet form and will be pleased to mail a copy on request.

LOREE'S DREAM OF SOUTHWEST RAIL MERGER FADES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 16.—Leonor F. Loree's project for a $700,000,000 merger of three railroads in the southwest ended today with the sale of what remained of the once substantial holdings of securities bought to make the plan possible.

The sale was forced by the interstate commerce commission in issuing Clayton anti-trust act citations against the stock deals made by Mr. Loree. It was the final chapter in a campaign which he started in 1924 and waged intermittently since that time against one adverse decision after another by the commission.

Mr. Loree sought to unite the Missouri-Kansas-Texas, the Kansas City Southern, and St. Louis Southwestern. The finish to this undertaking was written when the Kansas City Southern sold to the New York Investors, Inc., successor to the Realty Associates, Inc., its holdings of 135,000 shares of voting preferred stock of the St. Louis Southwestern, or Cotton Belt.

At current prices the 135,000 shares of preferred stock are worth about $12,000,000. The price paid by the new owners was not disclosed, but it was reported the Loree interests suffered a loss in the deal.

REVENUE FREIGHT DROPS IN WEEK ENDED APRIL 6

Washingtonfi D. C., April 16.—Loading of revenue freight for the week ended on April 6 to taled 956,364 cars, the car service division of the American Railway association announced today.

This was a decrease of 10,665 cars below the preceding week this year with decreases being reported in the loading of grain and grain products, forest products, ore, and miscellaneous freight. Commodities which showed increases over the week before were live stock, coal, coke and merchandise less than carload lot freight.

Compared with the corresponding week last year, loading of revenue freight for the week was an increase of 37,012 cars, and an increase of 2,457 cars above the corresponding week in 1927.

March Employment Up, U. S. Dept of Labor Reports

Washington, D. C., April 16.—(AP)—Increase of eight-tenths of 1 per cent in employment and 1 per cent in pay roll totals for March as compared with February was announced today by the department of labor. Based upon returns from 27,625 establishments with 4,815,598 employés, the report compiled by the bureau of labor statistics showed increases in each line of employment except coal mining in which both anthracite and bituminous coal suffered from seasonal declines in production.

Chrysler Shipments to Show Increase Over Last Year

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 16.—A gain in share earnings of the Chrysler corporation for the first quarter of 1929 over the first quarter of last year was announced as probable by Walter P. Chrysler, president, today. Chrysler shipments for the first quarter were 122,758 cars, against 112,977 cars shipped by Chrysler and Dodge consolidated during the first quarter of 1928.

NASSAU NATL. BANK OF BROOKLYN TO MERGE WITH GIANNINI BANK

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 16.—Merger of the Nassau National Bank of Brooklyn into the Bank of America was agreed upon today. It was announced that directors of the two institutions had approved the deal and would recommend it to stockholders' meetings. This is the second Brooklyn institution to come into the Bank of America fold this year, as the Traders National was acquired just prior to absorption of Blair & Co.

Terms of the merger include the exchange of Bank of America stock for that of the Brooklyn institution on the basis of 3¾ shares of Bank of America for each share of Nassau. The Nassau National bank has capital funds of more than $4,000,000, of which $1,700,000 is capital. Resources total $28,000,000.

By this latest deal, a part of the expansion program of A. P. Giannini, the Bank of America will increase its capital by 57,375 shares of $25 par value and its capital funds will exceed $130,000,000.

Consolidation of the Dime Savings and the Merchants National banks of Detroit into a new institution to be known as the Bank of Michigan, was approved by directors of the two institutions. The new bank would have resources of approximately $100,000,000. A special meeting of stockholders has been called for May 21 to vote on the proposal.

SMALL ORDERS NOTED IN DRY GOODS MART

New York, April 16.—(AP)—The cotton gray goods markets continued quiet today with prices steady and unchanged and small orders for print cloths, sheetings and broadcloths coming forward. Printers and finishers continued to be taxed with the heavy business recently placed and buyers who had covered late were showing concern. Fancies were in moderate demand, Burlaps were unchanged to firmer on cables, with little new business. Raw silk in the spot market was firmer but unchanged, with stocks lower here. Hosiery buyers were showing some interest.

STANDARD OF IND. MAY FULLY OWN PAN-AMERICAN CO.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 16.—Directors of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana will shortly make an offer to acquire the minority stock interest in the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company, according to reports in banking circles today. Standard of Indiana already owns a majority of the Pan-American stock.

The offer, it is understood, will be to exchange one share of Standard of Indiana for one share of Pan-American common stock. There are now outstanding $50,077,950 of $50 par Pan-American common stock and $118,034,700 of $50 par class B nonvoting stock. Standard of Indiana holds control through its ownership of a majority of the common stock.

INITIATIVE IS LACKING IN CURB MART TRADING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 16.—Lethargy was the keynote on the curb again today, with the general list moving irregularly lower. Initiative was totally lacking, as indicated by the unwillingness of both bull and bear positions to follow prices. Group movements were noticeable by their absence.

A few issued managed to push ahead somewhat aggressively, but these movements quickly petered out. It was in individual cases rather than groups in which some measure of success was accomplished.

Stocks which stood out during the proceedings included Checker Cab, responding to the first quarter earnings of $4.73 a share, compared with 54 cents in the same 1928 period; the radio stocks, with Hazeltine particularly buoyant, and a relatively small number of specialties. Aluminum Company of America spurted briskly, but elsewhere the tendency was mixed.

A few of the oils also came in for consideration, largely for special reasons. Tidal Osage, which is to be merged with Darby Petroleum on a share for share exchange of stocks, duplicated its old record high, and Indiana Pipe Line rose to a new peak without any explanation in the news. The major oils simply drifted back and forth. Humble, however, was actively dealt in and met with support, while Gulf Oil of Pennsylvania displayed relative firmness.

† Includes 375,000 shares reserved for conversion of 125,000 shares Series A Preferred Stock; also shares reserved for Bankers' options.

Mr. Richard A. Corroon, who will be President of Corroon & Reynolds Corporation, summarizes his letter dated March 25, 1929, as follows:

HISTORY AND BUSINESS: Corroon & Reynolds Corporation, hereinafter called "the Corporation," is being organized under the laws of Delaware to acquire all of the common stock and at least 60% of the preferred stock of Knickerbocker Equitable Securities Corporation, hereinafter called "Knickerbocker." The latter Company was organized in 1923 as a holding company for shares of insurance companies, insurance management and agency corporations.

Knickerbocker has a controlling or substantial interest in the following companies:

American Equitable Assurance Company of New York
Bronx Fire Insurance Company of the City of New York
Brooklyn Fire Insurance Company
Globe Insurance Company of America, Pittsburgh, Pa.
Long Island Fire Insurance Company
Knickerbocker Insurance Company of New York
Liberty Bell Insurance Co. of Philadelphia, Pa.
New York Fire Insurance Company
Metropolitan Fire Insurance Company of New York
Republic Fire Insurance Company, Pittsburgh, Pa.
Sylvania Insurance Company, Philadelphia, Pa.
Guardian Fire Assurance Corporation of New York

all of which, with the exception of Liberty Bell Insurance Company and Guardian Fire Assurance Corporation, are under the management of Corroon & Reynolds, Inc., the wholly-owned subsidiary management corporation. The above companies reported assets at December 31, 1928, of $57,803,378, with a premium income for 1928 of $15,559,408.

Knickerbocker owns the entire capital stock of Central Fire Agency, Inc., one of the largest insurance agencies in the country, which represents twenty-eight insurance companies. These companies received $11,171,602 in premiums for 1928 through this Agency. In addition Knickerbocker owns, directly or through subsidiary or affiliated companies, substantial holdings in certain other companies wh[illegible] operations have been profitable over a long period.

The Corporation will have a complete organization covering virtually all of the various branches of the insurance business, except life insurance. Due to this, and to the experience of the management covering a period of over twenty-five years, the Corporation is in a strategic position in respect to the financing, refinancing and operating of insurance companies, management corporations and agencies upon a basis which is producing profitable results.

The Corporation will acquire at least 60% of the outstanding preferred stock of Knickbocker, and it is expected that the holders of substantially all of such stock will avail themselves of the opportunity to exchange their stock for the Convertible Preferred Stock, Series A, of the Corporation. The net assets of the Corporation and Knickerbocker and its subsidiaries on a consolidated basis, as of February 28, 1929 (marketable securities at March 20, 1929, valuations), will be equivalent to over $200 per share on the Convertible Preferred Stock, Series A, of the Corporation to be presently outstanding; and if all of the Knickerbocker preferred stock accepts the exchange, the net assets of the Corporation, on the same basis, will amount to over $25,000,000.

The Bankers have options for six months on unissued Common Stock of the Corporation, as follows: 50,000 shares at $30, 25,000 shares at $32½, 25,000 shares at $35, 50,000 shares at $40 and 50,000 shares at $45.

The entire proceeds of this financing go into the treasury of the Corporation.

EARNINGS: The income of the Corporation and its subsidiaries will be derived from three principal sources: Profits from the ownership and management of the General Agency business; dividends from securities owned, largely from wholly-owned or controlled insurance companies; and profits realized from the purchase and sale of securities. For the year ended December 31st, 1928, earnings of Knickerbocker and its subsidiaries on a consolidated basis, after deduction of all expenses and Federal Income Taxes, amounted to $2,906,213. The maximum annual dividend requirements on the Convertible Preferred Stock, Series A, to be presently outstanding amount to $750,000. The above earnings do not include any interest on the new funds provided by this financing.

CONVERSION: Each share of the entire issue of Series A Preferred Stock to be presently outstanding will be convertible at the option of the holder thereof into Common Stock of the Corporation, on the following bases: Up to and including December 31, 1930, into 3 shares of Common Stock; thereafter, up to and including December 31, 1931, into 2½ shares of Common Stock; thereafter, up to and including December 31, 1932, into 2 shares of Common Stock. The Certificate of Incorporation will contain provisions protecting the conversion right against dilution in the event of stock dividends and the like.

MANAGEMENT: The officers of the Corporation, all of whom have had over twenty-five years' experience in the insurance business and in corporate financial affairs, and who have been responsible for the success of the business will continue actively to manage its affairs, and will own a large majority of the Common Stock.

The statements contained above are obtained from sources which we believe reliable, but in no event are such statements to be regarded as representations by us or as guaranteed by us.

RAYON

—by Science out of Necessity

Rayon is the only man-made textile. It is independent of the vagaries of nature—the uncertainty of seasonal crops. The beautiful simple thread of Rayon is made from cellulose, the main constituent of plant life. As long as plant life exists we can have an unlimited supply of Rayon.

Rayon is a friendly textile. Alone its fibre is woven into multitudinous materials unsurpassed for sheer, lustrous beauty and utility. But it aids other textiles and is aided by them. It is combined with cotton, wool and silk to give mankind superb new fabrics heretofore unknown.

Rayon is now the third largest textile industry in the world. Time has conclusively proved that its miraculous promise of combined beauty, utility, and economy has been amply fulfilled.

In this and other advertisements we shall tell something of the striking past performances and the unrivalled future prospects of Rayon. Something also will be told of recently invented processes and improved manufacturing methods by the exclusive use of which the AMERICAN CHATILLON CORPORATION is inaugurating the most significant epoch in the production of Rayon.

Both the preferred and common stocks of American Chatillon Corporation are listed on the Boston Stock Exchange. We believe they represent an outstanding opportunity to participate in the development of a great and growing industry.

Upon request we will be glad to supply detailed information regarding the Corporation and its securities and to recommend the issue which is best suited to meet the requirements of any individual investor.

Investment Counselors for Over a Quarter Century

A "Healthy" Reaction

When security prices decline, frequently we hear the comment that it is simply a "healthy" reaction. Nevertheless, the investor who has seen his profits vanish derives little satisfaction from that fact.

It can be "healthy" for him however, if he makes of it an opportunity to take stock of his position, and to determine just what his investment policy is—or should be. And, there is no better time to consider the value of skilled investment counsel.

The profession of investment counsel has the aim not only of increasing capital but also of furnishing protection against loss.

AN OLD QUESTION —EVER NEW

New trends in financing, new conditions in industry, reports of quick speculative profits, are causing many investors to reconsider the old question of "bonds, stocks or both?"

There is just one sound answer to this question: each investor must be guided by his individual requirements.

Aid in laying out an investment plan fitted to your own requirements is one of the valuable services rendered the investor by this house—a house of conservative policies and progressive services.

Our current list contains a wide selection of conservative bonds and investment stocks, yielding from 5.15% to 7.70%

IT'S EASY WHEN YOU KNOW HOW

Not a single default, under present management, of a HEINEMANN First Real Estate Bond or Mortgage in twenty-eight years. Care, watchfulness, conservatism, courtesy, plus experience and training, account for this phenomenal record. We might just as well guarantee, but we don't. HEINEMANN Realty Investments (since 1870) may, occasionally, cost a fraction more, but they are always worth it.

U.S. STEEL MELON IS WORTH NEARLY FORTY MILLIONS

entire share capital, after the completion of the present transaction, will have a par value of $1,173,565,100. This will bring the share capital above the $1,018,583,600 represented by the two classes of stock originally issued by the corporation in 1901.

Stockholders at their annual meeting on Monday ratified the directors' plan to increase the authorized common stock from $753,321,000, consisting of 7,535,210 of $100 par shares, to $1,250,000,000, consisting of 12,500,000 of $100 par shares. After the 1,106,605 additional shares of common have been issued there will remain unissued 4,367,160 shares of the 12,500,000 shares total that resulted from Monday's action of the stockholders. The remaining unissued stock will provide an ample margin for future expansion plans, for additional stock subscription offerings or for stock dividends.

No Change in Dividends.

It is regarded as virtually certain that the present 7 per cent annual dividend rate will be maintained on the increased common stock that will be outstanding after the present financing. That no change in the dividend rate was clearly indicated on Feb. 26 when the directors originally announced the plan to retire the funded debt and to offer additional common stock. Directors had no comment to make on this subject today but it was learned that there has been no thought of a reduction in dividends. Wall street has heard recently that the corporation may pay an extra cash dividend some time this year. There has also been talk of a possible stock dividend.

Retirement of the corporation's funded debt will leave outstanding only the bonds of subsidiary companies, amounting to about $138,000,000. It is understood that some of these bonds will be retired later. The redemption of the funded debt of the corporation proper will reduce the corporation's fixed charges by $29,247,350. The dividend requirements on the additional common stock figured at the present $7 annual rate will be $7,116,235, so that a net saving of $22,131,115 will be realized.

LOOSE GEARS IN STOCK MARKET RETARD TRADING

or worry since the recommendations were restricted specifically to farm relief and tariff, and except for a little spurt of buying in farm implement stocks and a few other quarters in the late afternoon it had no effect whatever on the course of trading.

The reason for this is probably to be found in the fact that the street doubts the ability of the leaders of congress to keep certain matters bearing on the speculative situation from being introduced at the session for all the President's influence. Until this corner is turned, therefore, they are committed to a policy of lying low and keeping a weather eye out to windward.

Evidently the melon-cutting announcement of the steel directors at their afternoon meeting had been too well discounted by advance reports on the matter to have any stimulating effect on the shares of the corporation whatever. In fact, the stock was on the downgrade all day, winding up at 184⅝, off 2⅝ points.

Willingness to Sell.

The willingness of holders to sell the stock after the glowing report on the company's business and prospects made by President James A. Farrell at yesterday's annual meeting of the stockholders was a phenomenon that made veteran traders rub their eyes. Evidently, with the credit situation as it is, many holders were unwilling to wait for the developments so graphically pictured by Mr. Farrell.

Various high class miscellaneous stocks made steady progress and emerged showing moderate gains. Among these were American Can, American Sugar, Allied Chemical, Industrial Alcohol, and Mathieson Alkali. Montgomery Ward was also conspicuously strong, acting as though liquidation were over for a time.

The coppers had another bad day following fresh recessions in the price of the metal and talk of still further price cutting. Several members of the group touched new lows for the year. Some buying appeared in the late afternoon, however, and several issues of the group managed to recover their losses.

Oils Are Heavy.

Schulte Retail Stores came in for a lot of punishment following the announcement at the annual meeting of the corporation that dividends might have to be suspended as a result of highly competitive conditions which have forced price cutting on a wide scale in its field of operation.

Despite highly favorable developments, including figures showing fresh progress in the widespread efforts to curb production, the oils were heavy.

Call money advanced to 9 per cent—not as a result of any increased demand from brokerage houses, but due to the withdrawal of $20,000,000 or more in loans by banks in the face of rather light supplies. The demand for funds was exceptionally small. In general, however, improvement in the credit situation continues. The member bank statement for the week of April 10 shows a further sharp reduction in loans on securities and an apparent end to the rising total of commercial borrowing.

Dispose of Securities.

Member banks disposed of government securities, probably the aftermath of the recent treasury issue, and were able to pay off 60 millions of their borrowings at the federal reserve. The report indicated that the recent reduction in brokers' loans on the stock exchange has been real and not offset by direct borrowing at the banks by individual traders.

SUGAR.

New York, April 16—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was easier today and under increased offerings prices declined 1-32 of a cent to the basis of 3.71c for spots, duty paid. Sales at this level included 18,000 bags of Philippines and about 100,000 bags of Cuban nearby and for April shipment to local refiners, while an outport refiner bought 47,000 bags of Philippines at 3.67c. Except for a little steadiness at the start, futures were easier throughout, closing at the lowest and from 3 to 6 points below the previous close. Approximate sales, 62,950 tons. Prices for the day follow:

	Sales, tons.	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev close.

Refined was unchanged, and the little new business in evidence was supplied through second hands at around 4.82½c to 4.85c for fine granulated. Refiners' list prices continue at 4.90c, with a moderate withdrawal demand.

MENGEL INCOME.

Mengel company of Louisville, Ky., manufacturer of shipping containers, earned net profit of $902,753 in 1928, equivalent to $3.78 on the 240,000 no par common shares to be outstanding when all the $100 par stock has been exchanged.

COTTON ACTED WELL

The cotton market gave a good account of itself yesterday considering the weakness and decline in Liverpool with its loss of 8 to 9 points and spot sale of only 9,000 bales, and the weakness and sharp decline in grain. There was no great selling pressure or any material demand, the latter about balancing the selling. Shorts were taking profits as prices receded, there being sufficient buying of this character to afford moderate support.

Weather conditions in the southwest were favorable and in the eastern belt unfavorable. Planting in the southwest is making good progress. There has been enough liquidation of late to create a feeling that the decline has discounted a good part of the bearishness.

Futures closed around the bottom with net losses of 6 to 12 points at Chicago for the day. Other markets were off 4 to 11 points, New Orleans leading. Spots in New York declined 5 points to 20.60c with sales 500 bales. New Orleans dropped 10 points to 19.50c with sales 2,079 bales. Galveston was 19.65c with sale of 215 bales, and Houston was 19.60c with no sales. Prices follow:

ASK THE MAN WHO OWNS ONE!

(R. L. POLK & CO., Registration Figures)

Packard now builds three complete Straight-Eight lines, at three distinct ranges of price. The Standard Eight (reduced March 4th) is priced from $2275 to $2675—the Custom Eight from $3175 to $3850—and the Eight DeLuxe from $4585 to $5985—at the factory. Individual custom cars are also available on the De Luxe chassis.

If you prefer to buy out of income, instead of capital, you will find the Packard Payment Plan most attractive. Many take possession of their new cars without any cash outlay—and with the small monthly payments made smaller because the used car allowance exceeds the down payment on the new car. When may we serve you?

THE MEDBURY FORT MURDER

By GEORGE LIMNELLIUS

SYNOPSIS.

Maj. Hugh Preece of the royal army medical corps has just been transferred from [illegible] to Fort Medbury, which is not far from London. He is about to leave his office [illegible] to take his wife and children for a ride when Lieut. Lepean is announced and [illegible] to stay and examine him. The lieutenant is suffering from a mild disorder and [illegible] prescribes for him. After the young officer leaves Maj. Preece remembers that he has seen him before under embarrassing circumstances. The visit puts the major in a reminiscent mood. He recalls his first love affair with Prunella Lake, an actress on the London stage; then his being sent to West Africa and his unhappiness at parting from Prunella.

On his return to London Preece again meets Prunella. He asks her to marry him and she refuses. Shortly afterwards she marries Tremayne Ronan. Preece marries Claire [illegible], sister of one of his West African associates.

A few years later Prunella and Hugh meet at Swindon where they spend the night together. Preece remembers seeing Lieut. Lepean in the hotel corridor as he leaves Prunella's room in the morning.

A few days after Lieut. Lepean's professional call on Maj. Preece, the younger officer invites the older one into his room for a night cap and tells him he is aware of his affair with Lady Ronan. Preece has an impulse to kill him, but refrains. He threatens to [illegible] him, at which Lepean laughs. As Preece leaves Lepean's room Lieut. Harris calls to him and asks him to come into his room. He tells Preece that he has lost heavily at cards to Lepean and the latter is pressing him for the debt.

Preece goes to his own room and reads a letter from Prunella in which she says that Lepean had written asking to see her and she tells Preece that he must get rid of Lepean. The next morning Lieut. Lepean is found dead in bed. Capt. Wape, in charge of the fort, notifies the police. The local police sergeant calls in Scotland Yard and Detective Inspector Paton is put in charge of the investigation.

INSTALLMENT XXXIX.

A NEW CLEW.

In the saloon bar of the Golden Fleece, Mr. Mason, under the mellowing influence of a large port, which was his peculiar choice of morning drink, enlarged on the subject.

"Mind yer," he informed McMaster, "it takes a lot of practice to make that cut proper. My young nevvy was a wonder at it. Never made a mistake."

"Isn't he with you now, Mr. Mason?"

"Wish he was." It appeared to be a painful subject, for Mr. Mason, with a frown, hastily swallowed the contents of his glass and rose to his feet.

"How about the other half?" suggested McMaster.

"Well, seein' as it's Thursday, perhaps . . . ah! thank you."

What relation the fact of the day being Thursday bore to the question of Mr. Mason's second glass of port was not very apparent but the detective was relieved when the sturdy little man again sat down with a replenished glass of ruby liquid in his hand.

"How did your nephew come to leave you?" he inquired, casually.

"No, sir," emphatically rejoined Mr. Mason, wagging a large finger, "wimmen. Gels. A proper noosance they is. It was a gel upset my nevvy. Some little 'bint' from up Tottenham way that he got sweet on. 'Er father was a [illegible] and young 'Arry never let on 'e was in the butchering. Why not, you'll say? Because this 'ere democratic country is simply riddled with [illegible]. Butchers is looked down on. Always has been. Well, one day she found out and she starts laughin' and sneerin' at 'im. Very sensitive 'e was always about the 'butcherin', and this gel laughin' and despisin' of 'im fair drove him crazy. One evenin' I met 'im just as 'e was goin' out to meet this gel, all dressed up. ''Ullo, 'Arry,' I sez, 'wot's that you got in your hand?' Well, it was 'is sticking knife. Ah! Very sensitive and brooding 'e was. I talked to him half the night; persuaded him to go straight off and enlist. 'Get away,' I told him, 'go to furrin' parts. See the world in the army. That'll cure you.' You see, I bin in the army meself. Twelve years I did. Finished up a master butcher. Well, he did it. Went out to India, must be six years ago now. I never heard of him not more than a picture postcard from Aden. But I'll get 'im back one day when 'is time's up in the army. A good lad, only terrible sensitive about the butchering. Very nasty he was with that there sticking knife. I reckon I saved that gel's life that night—and 'Arry from swinging."

"I reckon I saved that gel's life that night—and 'Arry from swinging."

McMaster reached the Yard after a hasty lunch at the City café, and asked for the papers in connection with the Medbury fort case. "Where is Inspector Paton?" he asked the clerk who bought him the file.

For the next half hour the chief devoted himself to a careful study of the witnesses' statements which had been collated by Paton. "Yes," he murmured aloud, pushing the file away from him with an impatient movement, "it was possible for that fellow to have done it; but why should he? What was the motive? I don't see it. One thing is certain, though. Paton is after the wrong hare altogether."

Reaching to the mouthpiece of a speaking tube, he spoke down it: "Is Mallinson in? . . . Very good. Send him up to see me at once, please."

A few minutes later Detective Sergeant Mallinson quietly entered the room. McMaster regarded his subordinate with a somewhat quizzical smile. "Mallinson," he said, "I believe you have served in the royal navy?"

"Yes, sir."

"Could you, within an hour, get a complete rigout as, say, a stoker rating?"

"I could, sir," replied the detective sergeant without an instant's hesitation.

"Good! Come back here as soon as you can in outward seeming and manner a perfectly good leading stoker on leave from one of his majesty's ships. I want you to go down to Medbury fort, but I'll give you full instructions when you are in character."

Late that evening a naval rating might have been seen tacking somewhat unsteadily across the road leading from Bitterne to Medbury fort. Arrived at the fort entrance, an observer might have been surprised at the action of the contable who was standing there, for, instead of arresting the delinquent, the contable hooked his arm in that of the sailor and both figures in line disappeared into the fort together, apparently on the most friendly terms.

Interesting, he thought, as he laid the newspaper on his desk, but leads to nowhere. You cannot accuse a man of murder simply because he has once been acquitted on a charge of manslaughter. It is true the incident reveals Wape's character: a man of quick decision and quick action, who would not hesitate to shoot. It was annoying to be unable to get a clear line on anybody. Suddenly, he recollected that Wape's father used to work in the department. Queer that fact should have slipped his memory. He remembered the old boy perfectly.

"Damn!" he exclaimed aloud. He had just remembered old Mr. Wape's famous collection of cracksmen's tools, and Paton's theory of how Lepean's locked door was opened from the outside flashed across his mind.

This was aggravating; to have to place Wape once more within the category of possibles. Suppose, McMaster reflected, Wape had opened Lepean's door by the use of a burglar's implement, why had he not locked it again when leaving?

Above all, if Wape had, why had he murdered Lepean? Motive? It all came back to that.

The mysterious disappearance of the key of Lepean's room came back into his mind, and he remembered how Paton had deduced that Wape must have taken it.

Why should Wape have purloined and hidden the key unless he feared that the marks of the tweezers would be revealed if it were carefully examined?

An unsatisfactory case.

The chief left the Yard earlier than his custom. After his dinner he felt restless and, lighting a pipe, he went for a walk. He found himself close to Paton's house—they both lived in the same suburb—and on an impulse he knocked at the door. Paton was delighted to see him. He beamed cheerfully at McMaster.

"Very glad to see you, sir. I was sorry to miss you at the office, and had thought of coming round to you myself, but didn't like to disturb you. Come in, sir."

"Thanks, Paton. You look pleased with yourself," the chief remarked with a smile.

"Well, sir, I am. I've got him."

"Whom have you got, Paton?" inquired McMaster mildly.

"Lepean's murderer."

"Good. Who is it?"

"Preece," rejoined the other, triumphantly.

"Let's have the evidence," demanded the chief, helping himself from the decanter the other had pushed towards him.

"The first point that struck me was the nature of the wound: it must have been done by a skilled hand, for instance, a doctor's. That pointed to Preece at the outset. Then I worked out how he could have done it."

Apollo Club Sings Verdi's Requiem Mass

Seems Memorial for Late Harrison Wild.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

It was not so intended when the list of concerts for the season was being planned, but last night's performance in Orchestra hall by the Apollo Musical club of Verdi's Requiem Mass became a memorial observance for Harrison M. Wild, the club's conductor for thirty years. He wielded the baton from 1898 until his resignation in the spring of 1928. On March 2 of this year the newspapers reported his tragic death of the day before.

It was a work that Mr. Wild would have been glad to see chosen for the purpose, for it was one of the fine items in his own répertoire. Verdi wrote it somewhere near the time he wrote "Aida," and it reflects the Verdi of that period with great accuracy. There are parts of it that might have been parts of the "Aida" score, other parts that had come down the years from "Rigoletto," still others that in years to come were to return in the score of "Otello." Verdi was ever a man of opera, but in the Manzoni Requiem he wrote a full-blooded, vital piece embodying the graver subject of a memorial to his own friend. Wherefore it was an excellent memorial to Mr. Wild.

Conductor Edgar Nelson called upon the Sunday Evening club choir to join with the Apollo chorus in singing the work, and the two organizations combined in excellently efficient manner. There was grave splendor in the choral sections of the score, particularly in the "Kyrie" and "Dies Iræ," singing that filled the ear with full tone at one time and reduced to a whispering echo another.

Added to the merits of the performance was a quartet of soloists which in individual ability and combined balance excelled any group engaged by the Apollo club in a long time. They were Else Harthan Arendt, soprano; Lillian Knowles, contralto; Edwin Kemp, tenor, and Raymond Koch, baritone. The Chicago Symphony orchestra and Robert Birch, organist, played the instrumental score.

Lee Pattison, pianist, appeared in a lecture recital before the Fortnightly club yesterday, his two subjects being Schumann and Brahms. It has frequently been evident that Mr. Pattison's performances proceed from well defined and interesting ideas.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Anna Van Voorst, Union Hill, Ill., was awarded $5.

The Question.

Would you like to live as long as Mathuselah's 969 years?

The Answers.

James E. McDonald, 7032 Emerald avenue, accountant—With the progress that is now being made in the sciences and every other line of endeavor the next thousand years would be worth living through. The automobile has replaced the horse and buggy, the airplane is replacing the automobile; what next? And what about women's dresses and their trend?

Mrs. Jane Lamping, Sheridan-Plaza hotel, stenographer—I would be afraid nobody would want to take care of me; people won't keep caring for one for so awfully long. It would be all right as long as things went right, but the chances are it would be tough sledding when it came to the last two or three centuries.

John Warner, 2823 Woodard avenue, printer—Yes I would. Good health granted, it would be fine to live a thousand years or so. Wonder just how long Methuselah actually lived. Anyhow, life is too short as it is now. Half of one's life is gone before one fully matures mentally and physically.

Miss Joan Darlow, 607 Deming place, assistant editor—I should say not. And the main reason is vanity. Who wants to have as many wrinkles as Methuselah must have carried around with him for centuries? And, besides, one would become tired of having the same experiences century after century.

Charles H. Hughes, St. Charles, Ill., accountant—I imagine that it would be all right, if one had a lot of friends. As I see it, the principal advantage would be that such a long term on earth would give one time to become proficient in a dozen or more different professions and occupations.

Explorers Gathering 1,500 Birds, 600 Beasts for Museum Here

A cabled report just received from Saigon, French Indo-China, indicates that the success of the William V. Kelley-Roosevelts expedition to eastern Asia is assured, it was announced by Stephen C. Simms, director of the Field Museum of Natural History, last night. The dispatch sent by Harold Coolidge Jr., of Boston, leader of the second division of the expedition, states that his division has collected 600 mammals and 1,900 birds for the museum to date.

With Mr. Coolidge are Dr. Joseph Van Tyne, curator of birds at the museum of zoölogy of the University of Michigan; Dr. Ralph E. Wheeler of Cambridge, Mass., and Russell W. Hendee of Brooklyn, N. Y. The party, Coolidge reports, is about to proceed farther into the interior of Indio-China to continue its work.

Somewhere along the border of Tibet, operations are being conducted by the first division of the expedition led by Col. Theodore Roosevelt and his brother Kermit, Mr. Simms declared. Coolidge's party, he states, is scheduled to join up with the first division in June when the combined groups will undertake further work as a unit.

Chaplin Observes Birthday by Scorning Talkie Million

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., April 16.—Charlie Chaplin celebrated his birthday today by turning down $1,000,000 in cash. The million dollars was offered to Charlie yesterday by James Cruse, fellow film producer, for six months of Chaplin's time in making a talking picture. In declining the offer today Chaplin thanked Cruse, but said he preferred to work in his own pictures, under his own direction, and added that accepting Cruse's proposition would be costly to him because it would mean extensive delay in the progress of a silent film called "City Lights," which Chaplin is now shooting at his own studio.

THEATER

The Cort will be closed for a fortnight after Miss Frederick's departure, at the end of this week, and will be reopened May 5 with a new piece, "The Nut-Farm," in which Wallace Ford, here in "Pigs" and "Broadway," will have the principal rôle.

George M. Cohan, inactive through some months save that his piece named "Billie" has been in constant performance, has written something new, and has named it "All in the Game." A bulletin from his office says he has Chicago in mind for a Summer run for the piece.

Francis Wilson, who has been in virtual retirement as an actor since he and De Wolf Hopper co-starred in a revival of "Erminie," is mentioned as the author of a play—title not given—that is to be tried out by a Summertime band 'way up in Skowhegan, which is in Maine, which is a State where Prohibition was in process of wholesale violation long before most of the other States knew even how to spell it. . . . Arthur Byron, Miss Nydia Westman, William Courtleigh, Humphrey Bogart, Grant Mitchell, Miss Violet Heming, and Miss Dorothy Stickney are some well-knowns listed for performance in this Skowhegan venture.

The revue called "The Little Show" is in try-out in Atlantic City, where Clifton Webb, Miss Libby Holman, Fred Allen, and Romney Brent are helping.

Elmer Rice, whose "Street-Scene" is among the box-office successes in New-York, has disposed of a new piece, "Life Is Real," to A. H. Woods.

Miss Mae West bulletins a special performance of "Diamond Lil" for 11:30 o'clock Saturday night; and she adds, through the press-agent, that eminent persons in Society, the Drama, and the Press will be asked to join her on the stage "for an impromptu get-together and party of the Gay 'Nineties, with entertainment and songs of thirty years ago."

And a bulletin from the Adelphi says that the engagement of "Jealousy," which was announced as for six weeks, has been extended by two weeks, and that the play will, therefore, be held in that theater until May 25.

A. H. Woods, according to the London newspapers, has acquired a new play named "The Great Hotel," another named "Beginner's Luck," and a third, name not given, by Sacha Guitry. Also, that he is eager to have Miss Alice Delysia, who was in Chicago in 1921 in "Afghar," for "Beginner's Luck," and that he has hired a London actor named Paul Cavanagh for a piece called "Scotland Yard."

Added unexpectedly to the new plays for the current week in New-York is "Rockbound," by Michael Kallesser and Amy Wales: it is to be put on Friday night. John F. Hamilton, who had the principal rôle in "Hell-Bent fer Heaven," heads the cast of the new piece, which has to do with "life among the simple fisherfolk of Maine."

Charles Dalton will be with Mr. Skinner next week in "A Hundred Years Old." . . . There are many playgoers in Chicago who still speak with rapture of this English actor when he was the howling Roman swell, Marcus Superbus, in "The Sign of the Cross."

And Mr. Ziegfeld is announcing the last three weeks of the long New-York run of "Show-Boat."

D. A. R. AGAIN REJECTS WOMAN WHO FOUGHT SPEAKER BLACKLIST

Washington, D. C., April 16.—(AP)—By almost unanimous vote Mrs. Helen Tufts Bailie, Boston, who was expelled last year by the Daughters of the American Revolution for making public statements about so-called "blacklists," was refused reinstatement today by the thirty-eighth annual congress of that organization.

Mrs. Bailie, who had presented a petition for appeal of her case, issued a statement through her attorney, George W. Alger, saying the congress had "added a blacklisk to a blacklist" in voting on her appeal without granting a hearing to either the petitioner or her attorney.

Mrs. Alfred J. Brosseau, president general, who presided over the executive session in which the action was taken, said there was only one dissenting voice to the resolution to sustain the action taken last year by the board of management in expelling Mrs. Bailie. Delegates numbered 3,600.

Woman's Club Praises Past; Faces Future

BY KATHLEEN McLAUGHLIN.

With its heart in the past, its hope in the future, but its attention very much on the present, the Chicago Woman's club yesterday dedicated, at 70 East 11th street, the first home of its own in its more than fifty-three years of existence. President David I. Kinley of the University of Illinois summed up the spirit of the day in his dedicatory address, when he told the members:

"The monument of this club is not in this building—great and imposing as it is, but is written in every phase of the life of the city of Chicago."

And even after eulogizing the record of the club and recounting its myriad enterprises, he found occasion to supplement commendation with caution, advising the hundreds of women crowding the chairs and aisles of the auditorium, that:

"Doubtless the list of things to be done is larger than the things that have been done."

For further emphasis on past efforts, he recommended especially to their energies eradication of white slavery, achievement of a single standard of morals, and teaching of public officials that "a public office is a public trust."

Mrs. Andrew MacLeish, president of the club, presided. Mrs. Henry Barrett Chamberlin read a dedicatory ode to the building, written by herself, and selected by a committee as the best of thirty. Afterwards, familiar figures of the past lived again on the stage, in a pageant depicting the outstanding episodes in club history.

Original founders of the club gathered there, in quaint bonnets, bustles and sweeping skirts, as they gathered at the home of Mrs. Caroline Browne for the initial meeting. Stately Mrs. Potter Palmer, in pink taffeta and pearls, received once more with Dr. Sarah Hackett Stevenson, as she did at the reception to famous women during the world's fair, and among the characters she greeted was the Infanta Eulalia of Spain, in a striking costume of yellow taffeta, with leg o' mutton sleeves, and a yellow velvet hat.

One of the oldest members participating in the pageant was Mrs. J. C. Bundy, impersonating herself. Mrs. Bundy is 89 and a great-grandmother. Her great-grandson appeared in one of the episodes of the pageant. Her daughter and granddaughter are members of the club.

Dedication of the new club, which with the site represents an investment of approximately $1,150,000, will continue throughout the week, closing with a dinner Saturday night.

Charity Ball to Benefit Working Mothers' Home

Mrs. H. Reginald Smith, 5428 South Park way, head of the Club home, an institution for the care of working mothers, announced yesterday that a charity ball will be held Monday evening at the Savoy ballroom, 47th street and South Park way. The funds obtained at the ball will be used as the basis of a building fund for the erection of a home at which working mothers may leave their children during the day. Dr. Lillian Dove is chairman of the building committee.

Mrs. Smith is patterning her organization after similar institutions, which she recently visited in a tour of the world.

Alcohol Fails to Help Sick Elephant; Sent Home

Moe, the prize $10,000 elephant of the Sells-Floto circus, in whose behalf Prohibition Administrator E. C. Yellowley several days ago signed a permit for three gallons of alcohol as a means of saving the animal from death from pneumonia, was taken to its winter home in Peru, Ind., last night.

Children's Fear of Dogs Is Acquired and Not Inherent

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

That is the answer to the letter which appeared yesterday.

The desire for companionship may enter into this little boy's aversion to staying outdoors alone, but it probably is not the chief reason, since 3½ is an age at which children are not essentially gregarious but can play happily for hours by themselves. It is to my mind unquestionably the fear of dogs that is at the root of this trouble.

By records of experiment and also by my own experience and observation I am convinced that children have no inherent fear of animals. What fear they have is acquired. It may be acquired through some one who fears dogs inculcating the same fear in them, or by a direct experience of their own which would engender fear.

Now, comparatively few children are bitten by dogs but many children when little have been jumped on or knocked down by a dog in play. The suddenness, the feeling of his strength pitted against them and the fall are terrifying. Also, the loud, explosive barking of a dog often affronts their nerves. Suppose, in a world as full of unknown quantities as theirs is, you saw rushing at you a big creature who came head on and knocked you down like a small sized ten pin. Wouldn't you be chary of the subsequent approaches of the same animal or any others of his ilk? It is this way with many little children. If their grown-up protector is with them they know they will be safe. But alone—they are apprehensive.

When this has happened we have to do some reconditioning, in the parlance of psychology. There are various ways in which this can be done. The first is negative—care should be taken that the knocking down experience is not repeated. Then every opportunity should be taken advantage of to let a child pet or be around dogs on familiar terms. Naturally, this should only be done with good natured and friendly dogs who like children.

Talk to the dog and pet him yourself again and again, without even asking the child to touch him. Talk about his soft ears or his nice friendly eyes and feed him something he loves. Then little by little get your child to touch him, to pet him, then throw a ball for him. Tell him stories about dogs, their bravery or faithfulness. Show him pictures of dogs. Build up a pleasant conception of dogs. This fear, like other childhood fears, can be dispelled.

And now for the last suggestion for curing children of their fear of dogs—"the last the best of all the game." Here it is, and don't groan! Acquire a puppy dog for your tiny boy or girl to own.

Tribune Cook Book

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Ladies' Cabbage.

Here's hoping that whoever it was that asked me to reprint this recipe, some six weeks ago, I imagine, is forgiving. It slipped my mind that I promised to do so, but the old fashioned recipe did get from the files into a pile of unfinished work and reads: One firm white cabbage pulled apart, cooked and allowed to get cold, two beaten eggs, one tablespoon butter, three tablespoons of rich milk, pepper, and salt. Chop the cold cabbage fine, mix it with the other ingredients, beat it up well, and bake it until brown in a buttered pudding dish. Serve it hot from the baking dish.

One of the many ways I have tried to emphasize the fact that when cabbage is cooked in just the right way it takes but a brief time to do it, is by saying that it should be cooked in one and a quarter waters. By this I mean it should be blanched in considerable water, drained from this, and cooked gently in but a little water. Rapid boiling in a lot of water destroys cabbage, from some standpoints.

Strong heat when only a little water is used injures it, also. Blanched, rinsed in genuinely cold water, it will then cook in from eight to ten minutes in a little water, if it is a new cabbage, and by pulling it all apart a little time is saved. So pulled apart, we have cabbage greens, and any leftover greens may be used for ladies' cabbage.

In opposition to this I long ago used to print a recipe I called "Baked Cabbage, Man Fashion." One family of my readers liked it so well that they adopted it for permanent and frequent use, and then, if I remember correctly, I got a letter of abuse—"ab" is sometimes negative, you know—from some other family.

But this was how I made it: Cut the cabbage as for slaw, blanch, and give it a cold rinse with at least fifteen minutes of draining thereafter. Butter a baking dish, put in a layer of the cabbage with some dots of butter, and so fill up the dish and cover with stewed tomatoes, stirring gently so as to let the liquid down through, using no salt unless you think you must, and adding a bit of pepper for the same reason. Bake about three-fourths of an hour in a moderate oven. I like it, but not with a cabbage cooked till strong.

Clever Comeback May Be Smart, but It Scares 'Em Away

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"Tell the young people who want to be popular to avoid making wisecracks. Twenty-five years ago I got an undeserved reputation for sarcasm through my mistaken efforts to be funny, and I have a 16 year old boy who is trying to overcome the same tendency.

"Young people are inclined to be afraid of the wisecracker and also are bored by efforts to be witty. The boy or girl who is pleasantly responsive to the conservation of others has a far better chance than the one who tries to be in the limelight all the time.

"MRS. E. G."

A woman celebrating a 30th birthday with a group of long-time companions was asked the usual question of how she came to celebrate it in the state of single blessedness. Her response was honest if embarrassing to that crowd that knew her so well.

"My tongue has always been too sharp," she volunteered.

"You could have had So-and-So," one came to her relief.

"No, I couldn't have had him," she came back squarely. "He was the one who told me that I ought to have my tongue planed down if I ever expected to keep a man."

The woman has a reputation for wisecracks. Brilliant though they are—they're still a weapon that terrorizes her companions—particularly the men. She's good looking. She has position and money. And she would like to be married. She's popular in a way. She livens up a dinner table. But she doesn't liven up the chummy little corners where closer companionships are knit.

Her wisecracks do not go so well on an audience of one. And herein lies the secret of their failures. A person may be liked, appreciated for her good qualities, but toward the one who plays to an audience there is more of what might be called a community feeling than an individual one.

House Parties to Mark End of Moving Season

BY THALIA ——.

If all the society folk who are moving into new or remodeled co-ops and homes this spring, give housewarming parties as soon as the work of transporting the furniture and getting the decorating done is over there will be a veritable epidemic of gay affairs.

The I. Newton Perrys are, of course, giving a dinner-dance as a sort of housewarming combined with the annual wedding anniversary party they give in April every year, a week from Saturday evening in their superb new home atop the building at Banks and Astor streets. Invitations for the occasion already have gone out to their large and smart circle of acquaintances.

The John A. Stevensons' plans to move into their new apartment in the 1500 block on Lake Shore drive have been somewhat impeded because Mrs. Stevenson has had an attack of the measles, but they intend to move from the Ambassador, where they have been temporarily, about the first of May.

The William R. Odells of 220 East Walton place are planning to join the all year round colony in Lake Forest this spring, and are moving out next week. Mr. and Mrs. James M. Hopkins Jr. are going into the Donald Douglas house in Lake Forest before the month is over, and the Douglases will occupy the Avery Brundage place that they bought recently, as soon as it is ready for them.

The James C. Ameses expect their co-op at 1500 Lake Shore drive to be completed by May 1, when they will move from 6 Scott street, and the young Hugh Wilsons will move into their new house on Washington road in Lake Forest, when they return from a 3 weeks' trip to Bermuda in early May.

Miss Nellie Carpenter was hostess at the largest of several lunch parties at the Arts club yesterday. Her guests included Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick, Mrs. William Burry, Miss Emily Larned, Mrs. Augustus A. Carpenter, Mrs. Hubbard Carpenter, and Mrs. Wilhelm Ludwig Baum. Mrs. James Hamilton Lewis, Miss Katherine Dudley, and Charles B. James were lunching together. Mrs. Jule F. Brower was hostess to another party, and there was a gay table of the young women including Mrs. John J. Finlay, Mrs. Murray P. Brush, Mrs. Jasper W. Rogers, Mrs. Charles O'Connor Jr., Mrs. John V. Farwell III., and Miss Peggy Hambleton.

There was proper elation in the Nelson L. Barnes' household the other day when they received the news that Nelson Jr., who is a student at the Evans school at Tucson, Ariz., had won the trap shooting competition, which is, I understand, one of the important events on the scholastic calendar.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnes are in the interesting process of deciding on a summer sailing date just now. They plan to go to Europe, accompanied by their two sons, John and Nelson, some time in July. Mr. Barnes is to be with them for a short time, and Mrs. Barnes and the boys are to remain for the summer. The Louis C. Sudlers [Mary Barnes] are all settled in their apartment at 70 East Cedar street, where they gave a housewarming party shortly after their recent honeymoon.

Both Deny Engagement; Put Blame on Jokers

Maurice M. Horwitz of 3818 West Van Buren was astonished to read in THE TRIBUNE of last Sunday announcement of his engagement to Miss Rita Broude of 722 Independence boulevard. He acknowledges an engagement, but not to Miss Broude, who professed equal amazement and asserted there was no such betrothal. Files of the society department reveal a properly worded and signed announcement from Miss Broude's mother, who is as bewildered as any one. No handwriting experts have been called in, all parties agreeing that practical jokers must have perpetrated "the meanest trick."

... HANDS UP!

DO THEY LOOK OLD?

No more prematurely old hands! Never need your hands be red, roughened or coarsened again. Busy as they may be, they can be perfectly protected with a marvelous new kind of massage cream which is guaranteed to keep them soft and white and supple.

THINC Hand Creme (pronounced "think"), is entirely new—not a cold cream, vanishing cream or lotion. It is especially designed to protect your hands, to preserve their precious, youthful beauty.

Try this two-minute test: rub a tiny bit of THINC on one hand. See how it instantly whitens the skin, smoothes away every bit of roughness and soothes tiny cracks without making your hand the least bit greasy! Now compare the two hands. The difference is astonishing. Massage the cream into both hands—it makes them as cool and smooth and white as alabaster. No roughness, no discoloration. You might have been folding them demurely in your lap, so little do they show the signs of use.

If one treatment can work such wonders, think what consistent use of THINC Hand Creme will do for your hands! Your charming youthful hands can be a source of pride.

Make THINC a daily beauty habit—a youth habit. You can get it at any drug store, toilet counter or beauty shop. Approved by Good Housekeeping Institute. It won't cost a penny if you are not delighted with it. Return the jar and your money will be refunded.

This is the THINC trade mark that you will find on every package of THINC Hand Creme.

Colored People Raise $50,000 for Hospital Backed by Cardinal

Prospects for racial amity in Chicago, compared last night with the success of the Negro drive for Pentecost hospital, were described as splendid in view of the fact that the quota of $50,000 from colored people was found to be oversubscribed by $1,649 at a dinner at the Vincennes hotel. The hospital, to be erected for the Negro race under the sponsorship of Cardinal Mundelein, will cost approximately $1,000,000.

In addition to the gifts reported there remain to be turned in cash contributions to the amount of $5,000 and an estimated $10,0000 more in pledges, captains of teams reported.

Individual contributions announced at the dinner, which put the campaign over the top, included $1,000 from Daniel Jackson, $500 from the Victory Life Insurance Co., $500 from H. K. McGill, $250 from Robert A. Cole. $200 each from Charles S. Jackson, A. H. Roberts, Kelsey, McGowan & Morsell, and R. A. Williams, and $150 from H. A. Watkins.

W. Ellis Stewart, chairman of the committee in charge of the drive, congratulated his colleagues on having, as he termed it, "for the first time demonstrated that we are not always going to depend on the other fellow to help us—that we are willing to help ourselves."

"We need not only this hospital," he reminded his audience, "but one, or two, or three more before we will have enough. Just because we have put this drive over we are not going to call the job done and refuse to aid others."

The Rev. Joseph T. Eckert, pastor of St. Elizabeth's church, gave the organization his thanks and those of Cardinal Mundelein for their efforts, and promised as speedy building of the institution, at 45th street and Michigan avenue, as the raising of the additional funds will permit.

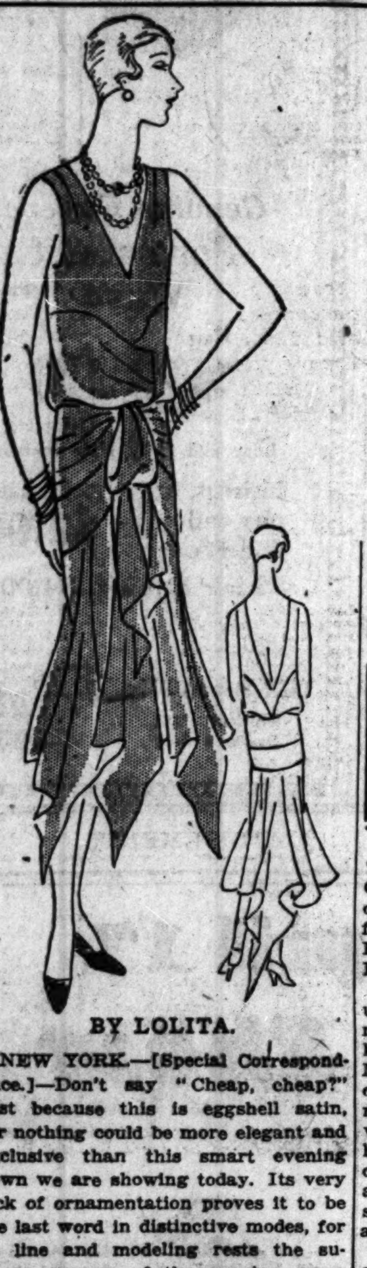
Evening Fabrics Present a Wide Choice



BY LOLITA.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Don't say "Cheap, cheap?" just because this is eggshell satin, for nothing could be more elegant and exclusive than this smart evening gown we are showing today. Its very lack of ornamentation proves it to be the last word in distinctive modes, for on line and modeling rests the supreme success of the evening gown of spring. Here Maggy Rouff, although creating something quite individual, makes use of several outstanding features of present styles—the normal waistline, the irregular hem with extra length in the back, and the flat hip treatment achieved by a deep girdle.

There is no doubt that satin, chiffon, and flat crêpe can achieve more easily an effect of formal elegance by appearing in solid colors. Informality, indeed, is part of the charm of the printed evening frocks one sees most often. Their essential simplicity is brought to a climax in one attractive model which sponsors a rather high neck finished with small revers to give a tailored suggestion. The skirt hem maintains the upward front movement and the girdle, very similar to the one shown here, is finished with a velvet sash end in contrasting tone.

On the other hand, when a taffeta or a chiffon sets out to combine formality with a printed pattern it seems to spell it with a capital F. Exquisite floral patterns, warped designs, and delicate two or three toned blends make the present dress goods counters look as if a poet's words had been fabricated to make us lovely. No woman can resist them. Yet she is a strong character if, on the other hand, she can resist the temptation of buying just one of those slim, distinctive new models in black taffeta or black marocain, youthful of line and inherently possessed of the traditions of elegance.

CHURCH IS SEEKING CASH FOR DAMAGE BY FRENCH PRIVATEERS

Los Angeles, Cal., April 16.—(AP)—The Episcopal church at Sawtelle, Cal., will ask congress for payment of a grant authorized a century ago for the sinking of a Yankee sloop by French privateers among the Bermuda Islands in 1798, it has announced.

The church has been bequeathed an unadjudicated claim on the government for the sinking of Addie Z. Watkins grand uncle's clipper. Through Morris M. Ferguson, an attorney, the congregation has prepared to take the matter to the national capital. The woman carried on the fight during her life and made the bequest to the church. She died a number of years ago, but the estate has not been settled because of the pirate battle and its international aspect.

Eight sloops, heavily laden with cargo for the Bermudas, were attacked by French privateers and captured after stiff fight. One of them was Watkins' ship. Chief Justice of the Supreme Court John Marshall, in 1926 decided that diplomatic relations with France were such that the matter of the sloops should be settled. The nineteenth congress pressed France for a settlement, which it received, but the Episcopal church of Sawtelle congregation declared that congress did not settle with the heirs of Watkins.

Honored for Work

MRS. MOSES SMITH.

The Kobe College corporation will open a drive for funds for the construction of a new addition to the women's university at Kobe, Japan, with a luncheon on May 9 at the Stevens hotel. The new building is to be called the Emily White Smith chapel and auditorium, as a testimonial to Mrs. Smith's years of work with the institution since it was founded in 1875 as a girls' school. Mrs. Smith, who is 96 years of age, has been prominent in the activities of the foreign missions since before the civil war. The building is to cost $80,000 and is to be part of a $1,000,000 expansion program for Kobe college. A conditional gift of $25,000 has been received from the Julius Rosenwald fund on the basis of $1 for every $3 raised in Chicago and the central states. Shailer Mathews is president of the corporation and Mrs. George R. Wilson and Mrs. George Foale are joint chairmen of the luncheon committee.

The annual spring meeting of the Chicago Mount Holyoke club will be held at a dinner this evening at the Chicago College club. Miss Florence Purington, dean of the college, will be the speaker.

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

WOMAN'S OR MISS' DRESS.

This design shows something quite different in the way of a sports dress, inasmuch as it simulates the tuck-in-type through the belted normal waistline. The pointed tab on the bodice that just pretends a closing, has an inserted frill of georgette crêpe.

The pattern, No. 2735, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3¼ yards of 40 inch material with ½ yard of 40 inch contrasting.

Edna Wallace Hopper as she looks today

Edna Wallace Hopper's White Youth Clay is in keeping with the daintiness of the modern boudoir. It's delightful to use.

Your best beautifier—
Your own blood!

ONLY your own blood can fill in those tiny, ugly lines which spell a tired, hard day . . . those little, hardly visible lines which become hard and permanent if not checked. No outside application can "nourish" the skin but your own blood can bring added beauty and lovely freshness to your face. Nature supplies, in the blood, the only skin food. There is no other tissue builder.

To bring to your skin the glowing, firm tone of youth give yourself a white clay pack at home. It is so simple and takes only a few minutes. First open the pores by holding hot towels to the face. Then apply Edna Wallace Hopper's White Youth Clay. When dry, wash off with cold water. You can feel the clay drawing blood to the surface. With it you wash away every impurity which escapes ordinary daily cleansing. Grime and hardened oil get beneath the surface and, unless drawn out, form enlarged pores.

With the blood, White Youth Clay brings a vivacious, [illegible] color . . . [illegible] exquisitely smooth to the touch. Now a bit of Edna Wallace Hopper's fragrant Youth Cream to soften the skin.

This convenient white clay pack not only gives your skin new life—it also serves as a tonic to the nerves. For who doesn't feel composed, happy, when her face shows vivacity and plenty of rest? A white clay pack is as reviving as hours of sleep when you want to look your best.

Edna Wallace Hopper's White Youth Clay brings the fullest advantage of clay—refined and improved to meet the high standard of daintiness and luxury set by modern women.

Yet feminine hygiene plays so large a part in feminine health. It is the modern way to protect and preserve that health and charm that result from a fastidiously-cared-for body, and controlled habits of living . . . every woman should know exactly what feminine hygiene is.

For that reason, the makers of "Lysol" Disinfectant asked an eminent woman physician to prepare a booklet called "The Scientific Side of Health and Youth." In simple language it gives professional information, explicit rules. It answers the questions you would like to ask this woman physician in person. It is free.

Simply send a postcard to the address below. The booklet will reach you in a plain envelope.

But while waiting for the booklet, take no chances. "Lysol" Disinfectant has been the standard for this critical purpose for more than 40 years. Buy a bottle today. Simply follow the directions that come with every bottle. Sole distributors: Lehn & Fink, Inc., Bloomfield, N. J.

That Jaded Look May Just Be Due to Lack of Sleep

Knowing the woman to be a teetotaler, one wouldn't think it. But [illegible] is that hint of self indulgence [illegible] dissipation about dark circles that [illegible] hard to live down. It's one of those undeserved reputations such as clings to the red nose of a total abstainer.

Sometimes the puffiness indicates a disorder in the kidneys or intestinal tract, in which event the first step is obviously in the direction of a physician's consulting room. Getting fewer hours of rest than the system needs is often a cause, too. If your body is crying for more sleep you can find it out by seeing how the eyes look after a week or two of deliberately planned early retiring hours.

There is a local treatment which may be given with hope of improvement, however. It begins with a thorough cleansing of the face with cream. Then for a minute hold a steaming cloth against the affected area, after which rinse the face with cold water, patting the water on the puffy part. Then do a little tapping exercise. Don't pull the tissue, nor use the up and out strokes of ordinary massage. Nor is a rotary massage movement recommended. Light and rapid tapping with the finger tips is what you should give the skin surface. This brings up new blood to stimulate and nourish the inactive tissue.

In the morning begin with the application of a cloth wrung out in cold water. Repeat several times. Then pat the surface again for a couple of minutes. The friction gives to the face what exercise gives to the muscles. An astringent might then be patted in.

But it must be understood that the local treatment has no permanent value if there is let run on any internal condition that needs rectifying.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

I. B.: LEMON JUICE IS NOT EFfective as a reducer. It may be found slightly laxative. Lean meats may be included in a reducing diet. If you chew your food well before swallowing the appetite will be appeased on less food.

MRS. H. K. N.: TO SOFTEN HARD water for washing the face, boil a pound of bran in a gallon of water for half an hour. Then strain. Add enough of the bran water to make the water milky.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY FRANK RIDGWAY

Widespread interest in the use of mulch paper in the growing of vegetables has prompted many to seek the opinions of horticultural authorities at the agricultural experiment stations. B. L. Weaver, horticulturist at the University of Illinois says the use of mulch paper in the growing of garden crops is in the experimental stage and no recommendation can be made [illegible] available.

[illegible] shows that the increase [illegible] the use of mulch paper [illegible] crops are not sufficient to [illegible] the material, and dispose of the residues or waste. The mulch [illegible] presents difficulties, and in wet seasons the only advantage is weed control.

Mr. Weaver finds that lively interest in mulch paper has been aroused among market gardeners, truck growers and home gardeners "as a result of recent magazine articles and other publicity given the matter. Trials in many parts of the United States have indicated that mulching with paper will usually increase the yields and advance maturity in addition to controlling weeds," he said.

"The increase in yields seems to be related to the proportion of surface covered, maximum increases coming with complete covering of the ground with the paper. At the price quoted by one of the paper companies offering mulch paper last year, the paper to cover one acre would cost $96. Covering only one-half the area would cost $48 an acre. The item of expense alone should make any grower study the problem seriously before investing heavily in mulch paper."

There also is the difficulty of finding a way to hold the paper down. Turning a furrow onto the edges of the paper has been satisfactory in some instances, according to Mr. Weaver, who points to other problems including methods of laying the paper, what kind of paper to use, the best way to plant the crop, what crops are of sufficient possible value to justify the expense involved, and what is to be done with the paper after it is used.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Tribune will pay $1 for every letter published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life." Address Embarrassing Moments, Chicago Tribune. Write on one side of the paper. No manuscript returned.

A Practical Joke.

To this day I don't know who was responsible for a most embarrassing incident for me. While we were on our honeymoon trip my husband had his mail forwarded to a certain hotel. Sometimes we called for the mail together and sometimes separately. This particular day I went alone, and there were crowds in the lobby all around the desk, and the only piece of mail handed to me by the clerk was a bare rolling pin without any wrapping and with only a tag tied on the roller! MRS. H. S. M.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each child's saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Aunty Bee, The Tribune, Chicago.

While awaiting a train at the station, little Dorothy, aged 2, was running up and down the stairs. The station [illegible], seeing her said, "You must not run up and down those stairs. You will fall down and hurt yourself." Dorothy cocked her head, looked at [illegible] and said, "Are [illegible]" N. L.

SALESMEN
WITH OR WITHOUT EXPERIENCE.

With the beginning of our spring campaign we have a few openings for ambitious men and women. Some of our men who never sold Real Estate before they came to us, today hold enviable positions and are worth a good deal of money.

Our organization is known throughout the country as one of the most successful ones in the Real Estate field. The reasons for the success of our salesmen are the following:

1. Well located properties, improved, with all underground and surface improvements.
2. Transportation facilities serving these properties such as to compare with the best of the country.
3. The most aggressive advertising policy in the City of Chicago.
4. A sound remuneration plan, making it possible for the beginner, as well as the experienced to realize large returns from their work.

Today there is a greater and more substantial market for Real Estate investments in well located and well improved properties than ever before. This offer should interest the aggressive salesman in Chicago. We feel that this is the finest set-up in the city.

If you are sincere, industrious and ambitious, I shall be pleased to talk to you personally.

REAL ESTATE LOANS.

SECOND MORTGAGE LOANS

And now we have new and larger quarters in which to handle second mortgage loans.

We occupy quarters on the fourth floor of the building at 105 W. Madison-st. Everything is brand new except the telephone number, and a loyal and efficient staff with an old fashioned welcome for our customers and friends.

Through the agency of The Chicago Morris Plan Bank we have set new and higher standards in the second mortgage business. We have taken second mortgages out of the orphanage and put them on the same high plane with other normal and well understood financial transactions.

Our rates remain unchanged. It is the wonder of our contemporaries how they can be so low. The interest of Mr. Julius Rosenwald, the support of the leaders of Chicago business, an experienced staff, all coupled together, make our achievement possible.

We will be glad to have any home owner in the city come in to see us and have a little chat about home finance.

The Chicago Morris Plan Bank
Agent
105 W. MADISON-ST.

SECOND MORTGAGE LOANS

This old established industrial banking house, which has served so many others in Chicago, is now preparing to take care of second mortgage financing for you.
